News from Fr. Reilly's Desk

Dear Parishioners,

When we speak of God, we automatically tend to use images and ideas from our own human and limited experiences, but these will never fully express what we are trying to say. The finite human imagination cannot grasp the infinite God. Yet there is a central foundation of our faith for which we do not have to “imagine” some image or think of a metaphor, and that is the core belief that through Jesus Christ we have been offered redemption. He is the one who has made peace by the blood of his cross, and by his proclamation of the kingdom he has shown us the way to live in a manner worthy of eternal life.

The words Paul uses in his Letter to the Colossians are likely from an early Christian hymn that would have been known by the community and used liturgically. It offers a concise and clear teaching about who Jesus Christ truly is and how in him the very nature and person of God is revealed to us. This is the doctrine that unites all Christians: Jesus is both human and divine, he is God made man, the firstborn of creation and the one through whom all things were made and ultimately redeemed.

Only God can save those he has created, for only God can forgive, offer salvation, and bestow the gift of eternal life. To show us how much he loves us and how far he was willing to go to redeem us, God sent his only Son as a man to suffer and die. Here in the person of Jesus we fully realize not just the cost of our redemption but the very depth of that love.

It is this reality Paul sought to share with the Colossians and with us. The word redeem literally means to buy back: Jesus has redeemed us from the bondage of sin, death, and oppression and led us to the freedom of the children of God, to new birth and the promise of new and eternal life.

The question about eternal life posed by the scholar of the law in the Gospel is “the question.” Jesus’ answer to him, told in the familiar parable of the Good Samaritan, is a central message of the Gospel: love one another as Christ has loved us. As redemption is found only in Christ, our challenge is to live according to his commands and to love the Lord as a lifetime response to his offer of life. To hear, understand, and go and do likewise.

God Love Ya!

Helping Other People Everyday HOPE

In the Gospel according to Saint Matthew (Matthew 25:45), Jesus tells us, "Amen, I say to you, what you did not do for one of these least ones, you did not do for me."

The HOPE Ministry at Saints Peter and Paul Parish provides opportunities to reach out and to be of service to our homebound, seniors, or those in need in our parish community.

Do you have a few hours free during the week to drive someone to the doctor or to Mass, take someone grocery shopping or grocery shop for someone? Would you consider being on a list to be called when someone in the parish is in need?

Maybe, the Lord is calling you to our HOPE Ministry!

If you are willing to volunteer, would like more information, or have any questions, please call Loretta Bevilacqua (610-529-1991) or Art Mullin (610-639-3607).

How Are You Hearing the Word? St. Charles Borromeo Seminary Wants to Know

The Catholic Preaching Institute (CPI) at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary will begin to take in reader responses on a unique online offering to help grow parishioner engagement in each Sunday's Liturgy of the Word.

The "Hearing the Word" series has presented short commentaries on the Sunday Gospel reading, in newsletter format and on the seminary's web site, each week for the past five months. In each edition of the newsletter a priest, deacon or expert in Scripture writes an explanatory article on the reading while a lay person pens a personal reflection on the Gospel's significance for his or her life.

Don't forget to see Jesus while you are on vacation! All you have to do is go to: masstimes.org to find a Mass near you.

Look at the first picture of the Samaritan helping the injured man. Then circle six things that are different in the second picture.

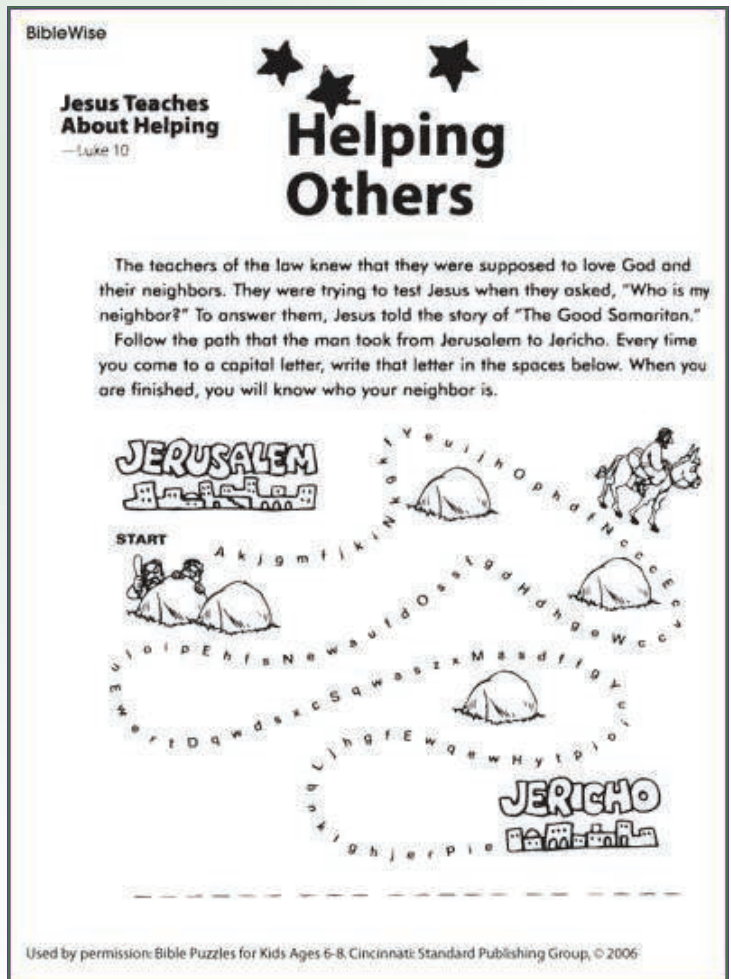

Dear Families,

In today's Gospel, we are reminded that we should," Love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your being, with all your strength, and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself." You might ask like the man did in the Gospel, who is my neighbor?

Our neighbor is those in need. Not just the ones we know. Not just the ones we are friends with. Or that we like.

Our Lord asks us to show mercy to all. So let's show mercy to others. By doing so, we are showing love to our Lord.

God is good! All the time! All the time! God is good!
