News from Fr. Reilly's Desk

Dear Parishioners,

In seventh chapter of Isaiah, powerful enemies were attacking the Kingdom of Judah. The king at the time was Ahaz, who had turned away from God. Still, God sent Isaiah to tell him not to be afraid. He even offered to give Ahaz a sign to demonstrate his protection. But as our reading recounts, Ahaz refused God's offer and rejected God's protection. Instead, he preferred to follow his own worldly plan: becoming a vassal of the Assyrians and establishing the worship of pagan gods in Jerusalem.

In the Gospel of Luke, Joseph was undoubtedly troubled by Mary's mysterious pregnancy. To address the situation, he comes up with a plan to divorce her quietly. Then God's messenger appears in a dream, telling him not to be afraid. Unlike the evil King Ahaz, Joseph was a just man; he accepted the sign he was given, and surrendered his plans.

Every one of us has been offered a sign: the birth, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. As Saint Paul tells us in the second reading, we are called to belong to Jesus Christ, who was established as Son of God through resurrection from the dead. Jesus came to show us that there is nothing to fear, not even death.

Will we accept this sign God offers us? Or are we too attached to our fears and the clever plans we have devised to overcome them? Think of some of the fears that could be alleviated by trusting in the God who created us: fear of rejection, which may hinder us from showing kindness and loving others the way we should; the fear that others will judge or ridicule us, which may prevent us from fully living out the Gospel; the fear of admitting wrongdoing, which may hold us back from restoring broken relationships.

We feel that we need to protect ourselves, but God comes to tell us that he will protect us and that there is no need to fear. But we must place our trust in him.

In the Eucharist, God generously gives himself to us in a great sign of his love. He invites us to give him ourselves in return: everything we have, all our plans and fears and hopes, so that he can save and transform us. We do not need to create a clever plan; all we need to do is surrender to him.

On another note with Christmas right around the corner, try to make plans to come home to your family for Christmas, even if it involves some forgiveness. Come home to your Church, even if that involves some forgiveness ~ perhaps in both directions. No home, no Church is perfect. It's simply a place where imperfect people treat each other with a kindness that no one has to earn. At Christmas time we belong with our family, and with our Church ~ it's the birthday feast of the Son of God who called everyone his brothers and sisters. "I'll be home for Christmas."

There's a beautiful ring to those words. May it be our song this Christmas season as a parish family!

God Love Ya!
Fr. Reilly

Dear Families,

Today in the Gospel of Matthew, we hear how the birth of Jesus Christ came about. Mary and Joseph were engaged when an angel of the Lord came down to visit St. Joseph and told him, "Joseph, son of David, do not be afraid to take Mary your wife into your home. For it is through the Holy Spirit that this child has been made. She will bear a son and you are to name him Jesus, because he will save his people from their sins."

All this took place to fulfill what the Lord had said through the prophet: Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and they shall name him Emmanuel, which means "God is with us."

When Joseph awoke, he did as the angel of the Lord had commanded him and married Mary.

May we be like St. Joseph and Mary when the angel of God spoke to each of them on separate occasions and always say yes to God.

Miss Michele

Joseph was going to marry Mary. An angel told him in a dream that Mary would be the mother of God's Son.
The angel told Joseph what to name the baby.

Candle of Love

Lord Jesus, as we light the fourth candle of Advent, the candle of love, we thank You for the love that came down to us in the manger. Fill our hearts with that same love, so we may share it with those around us. Help us to reflect Your love in all that we do, and prepare our hearts to welcome You with joy and peace this Christmas. Amen.
