STANDING FIRM

Ever noticed how the first few months of winter go by rather smoothly – and even relatively speaking – enjoyably . . . and then by mid-January we start getting antsy – and even a bit irritable – about the entire winter experience? I suppose part of that has to do with the fact that those first few months also include the Thanksgiving and Christmas “holiday season”, and not only are we busy about many things concerning those celebrations, it almost seems fitting that we would be celebrating them during the winter season – we all want a “white Christmas”, right? But once mid-January comes around, and the holiday season is over, winter tends to become just a grind until we can see the light (and warmth) of spring coming on and the summer that will surely come.

That kind of scenario happens all the time in life – whatever we begin: a new job, a marriage, a school year, a sports season, etc. – it’s easy to start out strong and with enthusiasm . . . but sooner or later a lassitude settles in: the honeymoon always ends, but life continues on. And that’s when you see the REAL commitment one has to the job, or the marriage, or to studies, or to sports, etc. It’s easy to start – it takes guts, courage, fidelity, and humility to keep going, no matter what.

Same thing with our faith life and our relationship to our Father and Jesus Christ. There are fireworks at times, and more than one honeymoon perhaps in the course of a life, but He often pulls back on the fireworks to see the REAL commitment we have to Him and His Church. Stand firm – hold on – don’t give up – perhaps you are in the “January/February” of your faith life. Spring will come, and summer . . . it’s always just a matter of time and patience.

You will note in this bulletin that this Sunday evening I am having an Adult Catechesis evening on the sacrament of Marriage. There is more to this sacrament than most people – even some married couples – realize. And the full truth of this sacrament leads to any number of other issues that our Church guides us in.

One of these other issues that is often so misunderstood is annulments. Next month’s Adult Catechesis will be about annulments. However, the full and proper understanding of annulments is really only had when one fully understands the sacrament of Marriage. (Which is exactly why annulments are so often misunderstood – many people do not understand the sacrament of Marriage.) So if you are able, and feel so inclined, consider coming to this catechesis on marriage not only for the understanding of this special sacrament in itself, but also as a prelude to the next month’s catechesis on annulments. (However, it is not necessary to come to both – come to one or the other alone if need be or if you so choose – they do stand on their own.)

In this bulletin you will find the second of the series of inserts on the upcoming Diocesan Synod that Bishop Folda will be holding next year. This year involves preparing for that Synod. (If you missed last week’s insert, you can read it online on the bulletin’s link on the parish website.) This insert gives some information on what a diocesan synod is and a bit of history on the two synods that our diocese has had in its history.

As mentioned a while back in one of these pages, our parish in this new year is now mailing out the weekly offering envelopes quarterly. You should have received them by now; if you have not received them please contact Jess in the parish office so she can check the mailing address we have to make sure you do get them.

If you are presently giving online or using bill pay through your bank the envelopes would not have been mailed to you. Thank you for the financial support of our parish family in that way!

New members of our parish will be sent “starter packs” shortly after they have become members. Thank you all for your continued support and help with this transition – and for the continued support of our parish and its many needs!

CURSILLO

is a three-day learning, sharing, inspirational experience of living in a Christian community. It is an encounter with Christ. The word "Cursillo" is Spanish, meaning "a short course." During the three days of a Cursillo weekend a person not only hears inspiring talks on what it really means to be a Christian, but actually experiences the joy of building and being part of a genuine Christian community.

WHAT CAN I EXPECT OF THE THREE DAYS?

Groups of men or women meet from Thursday evening until Sunday afternoon with a team of priests and laypeople. The "retreat" portion of the Cursillo weekend lasts only from opening night until after breakfast the following morning, during which time silence is to be observed. Thereafter there is informal talk, discussion, singing, joking and laughter, and spontaneous informal prayer.

During the three days short talks are given by laypeople and religious. The talks emphasize the true meaning of grace, the sacraments, the Mass, the nature and need of prayer, living one's daily life in union with God, studying to understand the gift of God, and introducing Christ to others by word and deed. The atmosphere of the three days is one of joy and grace, and it produces wonderful results.

WHEN CAN I ATTEND?

There are two Cursillo weekends being held this winter in our Diocese for all who are interested. The dates and locations are:

What is a Diocesan Synod?

A diocesan synod is a group of selected priests and other members of the Christian faithful of a particular Church who offer assistance to the diocesan bishop for the good of the whole diocesan community according to the norm of the following canons. (Code of Canon Law 460)

“It is precisely this path of synodality which God expects of the Church of the third millennium. What the Lord is asking of us is already in some sense present in the very word ‘synod.’ Journeying together... is an easy concept to put into words, but not so easy to put into practice.” (Pope Francis)

What is the Process and Purpose of a Diocesan Synod?

During the synodal process, after prayer and listening to the faithful, the bishop consulting with his priests, proposes questions to chosen representatives who are the members of the synod. The members are to freely discuss those questions at the sessions. The members of the synod provide consultation. The diocesan bishop is the only authority competent to make policies and laws as a result of the discussions.

In 1999, Pope John Paul II spoke these words at the close of the Second Plenary Synod in Warsaw, Poland: “from the first, [the Church] has seen synods as an effective means for the reform and renewal of Christian life.” The synod is a practice adopted from apostolic times of “joint reflection on important and difficult problems.” The Council of Trent gave the practice of synods a new impetus and they became “an important means for deepening the faith and for indicating the way of the Gospel for all generations of the People of God.” These synods were called with a view to give new life to the religious life of the faithful, and to unify Church law.

In his homily Pope John Paul II extolls the “praiseworthy practice of convoking synods” for a pastoral purpose. He specifically spoke of past synods and their ability to respond to changes in the social landscape. “Through these synods, successive generations sought for themselves new ways of living the Christian life, making a precious contribution to the development and activity of the Church.” In speaking of this synod to the participants the Holy Pontiff had this to offer as an encouragement and thanks:

“Above all you have tried to observe, to identify, to evaluate and to draw conclusions. You bring all of that today and present it as an offering to God, as the reapers do after the harvest, bringing the sheaves of cut grain, trusting fully that what they have reaped will be useful — like bread that is made from grain, in the hope that future generations will be nourished by it.”

Synods in the Diocese of Fargo

In 1941, then Bishop Aloisius Muench, convoked the first Synod of the Diocese of Fargo. In his letter to Pope Pius XII he wrote:

“The bishop and the clergy will strategically consult upon the spiritual and temporal needs of the priests and the faithful at the first synod in the Diocese of Fargo on the 29th and 30th of September.”

On September 15, 1941 the Holy Father authorized it and Bishop Muench received the following message:

“The Holy Father invokes copious divine assistance and guidance on the occasion of the first Diocesan Synod. His Holiness imparts to the Bishop and clergy his special apostolic benediction.”

As the Diocese of Fargo paper “Catholic Action News” reported in September 1941: “The focal point in the solemn session [was] the Solemn Pontifical Mass and the decree of the promulgation of the laws of the diocese.” The final documents from the 1941 Synod in the Diocese of Fargo include a variety of directives, a diocesan calendar recommending various special celebrations and spiritual devotion each month. For example, on the Feast of the Holy family a dedication of the family was recommended. On the Feast of the Sacred Heart a prayer of reparation was to be recited. Many topics are covered, but two that stood out as a category of priorities that remain unchanged for these more than 60 years: youth and Catholic education. Here are two examples of texts from the Synodal Documents:

“Youth work is hard work, it requires infinite patience, real vision, and courageous perseverance. If leaders of youth work, priests and lay people find it a long hard pull, let them reflect that there is much at stake. Much to be won or lost for Christ and His Church.”

And for Catholic education and parents:

“True education cannot disregard the sublime end for which man has been created. To train youth merely for what it must be here below is to fail of true education.”

“Good Catholic parents will take their responsibility seriously in this matter, and will begin even in the early years of childhood with the religious education of their children in the home, they will leave nothing undone to make the home a school of religious education...”

Ten years later, in 1951, the Diocese of Fargo held its second synod. In response to the letter Archbishop Muench sent to the Holy Father announcing the second synod, he received the following:

“His holiness learned with great pleasure that the second diocesan synod is to be celebrated. In more recent times it has been without a doubt painfully evident to all that the wide diffusion of evils of every kind has entangled the preachers of the Gospel in numberless difficulties to the point where it is obviously necessary for them to devote energetic and zealous labor to the discovery of new techniques more suitable to greatly expanded needs of our day.”

Again, the Diocese of Fargo newspaper “Catholic Action News” reported in September 1951 that at the two-day Synod: “many interesting facts were pointed out at the noon luncheon. Since the past Synod in 1941, 32 priests who had been present at that time had died, six had retired and four had left ministry.” Since that time 41 priests had been ordained into service. Once again we see that some challenges in the Church remain constant.

VALLEY CITY RIGHT TO LIFE

Dear Friends of Life,

The North Dakota Right to Life organization has been serving as the voice for unborn children since 1970. Since the United States Supreme Court legalized abortion in January of 1973, more than 60 million lives have been destroyed. We need to use our energy, diligence, and especially prayer to ensure that everyone is made aware that every life is sacred as it comes from God. We believe that God has designed a particular plan and purpose for each life. We reject the idea that a woman has any special right to destroy another human being for her own convenience. This vulnerable and defenseless unborn child is a unique member of humanity.

Right to Life is a local, state, and national organization with chapters across the United States. Our vision is that all vulnerable persons in our society are protected throughout the span of their lives from conception to natural death. Our goal is that all abortion, infanticide, and euthanasia be ended and through education and legislation, every person's attitude and commitment changes to a fervent respect for all human life.

Will you please prayerfully consider joining or renewing your 2022-23 membership today? Our Valley City Chapter meets the first Tuesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. at Grace Free Lutheran Church and we welcome you to attend to unite in our efforts in protecting life. Each passing week, approximately 30,000 unique and precious lives are taken away by abortion.

PLEASE ACT IMMEDIATELY FOR LIFE!!! MANY THANKS AND MAY GOD BLESS!!!

Sincerely in Life,

Darlene Kerzman, VC RTL Treasurer/Membership Chairperson
