PRAYER FOR EVERYDAY

Give me the grace, Lord, to truly see those around me: the overlooked, the uncomfortable, the odd and disliked. Your kingdom is one of belonging, help us to be the types of neighbors who see and respond with Godly generosity. Amen. ©LPI

Thank You BSA Top 191

St. Lawrence Martyr extends our heartfelt gratitude to Boy Scout Troop 191 for their proud and respectful posting of the American flag during our Independence Day Mass celebration. Your presence and participation helped us honor both our faith and our nation's freedom with dignity and reverence. Thank you for your continued service and for being a valued part of our parish community.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

GOSPEL MEDITATION by FR. JOHN MUIR

I used to be a bad neighbor. I'd get wrapped up in my life and ignore those around me. Then I found sage advice from Benjamin Franklin to this effect: to be a better neighbor, ask someone to do a favor for you. It's counter-intuitive, isn't it? Tell strangers that I need their help? Yuck. I'll risk looking needy. Worse, I'll be indebted to them. But I tried it, and it works like a charm. Recently I asked my neighbor Alan for a hacksaw, and Inga for an egg. They kindly obliged, and our friendship is growing.

This week we hear a scribe of the law cynically ask Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?" (Luke 10:29). Like him, we prefer to keep the list of our "neighbors" as short as possible. It requires less interruption and inconvenience. But when Jesus tells the parable of the Good Samaritan, he exposes the lonely, cold-heartedness tendency of the scribe's (and our) heart. My "neighbor" is anyone I encounter who manifests a concrete need. There isn't time to require any other credential because human need opens us to the happy reciprocity which is love.

Jesus' words challenge us this week to ask a neighbor for help in some small way. How marvelous that God himself shows us how. He moves into our world and asks us to love Him with small deeds of love. Maybe that's where Ben Franklin got the idea. ©LPi

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

Mini Reflection: As Christians we know that everyone is our neighbor. It's drilled into us from the first time we hear this reading. But do we approach the victims that we see? Or do we draw away from the suffering of others in fear and confusion, thinking: "That's not my problem"?

Crossing the Street

It takes a cold, hard, godless heart to step over a wounded man on the street.

But in the parable of the Good Samaritan, the priest and the Levite didn't step over the half-dead traveler. I think we picture them doing so, in our collective imagining of this well-known story, but the words of the Gospel are quite clear. "When he saw him, he passed by on the opposite side," Jesus says of both.

So they saw him. They saw his need. It made them uncomfortable; it confused them — many scholars have said that Judaic law concerning the touching of dead bodies might have made them reluctant to approach — and so they decided the simplest way to file this situation in the Not My Problem category was to cross the street.

But that still leaves a half-dead guy on the road. And we all, 2,000 years later, still think of the priest and the Levite as cold and hard and godless — even if they didn't want to be, even if they didn't think of themselves that way — because the bottom line is, they didn't see the half-dead guy as their problem.

As Christians we know that everyone is our neighbor. It's drilled into us from the first time we hear this reading.

Well, I don't know about you, but I find myself crossing the street a lot more than I should.

There is so much pain and suffering in the world. We certainly can't begin to alleviate it all. But we have to start with the pain and the suffering that we see, that's right in front of us — even if it's something we really, really want to ignore. Even if we find it inconvenient or confusing or scary or weird.

The heroism of the Good Samaritan wasn't in his selfless actions, although those were certainly commendable. It was in his courage. "He approached the victim," Jesus said.

Can we approach the victims we see? Do we have that courage?

- Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman . ©LPi

LIVE THE LITURGY

Everyone is our neighbor — those we love and those we can't stand, the people we agree with and the people whose opinions we hate. In today's Gospel, Jesus tells us that we must not only see ourselves in every person we meet — we must see him, too. ©LPi

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

REFLECT AND RESPOND TO SCRIPTURE

1st Reading: Moses taught the Israelite that the Lord is not remote but nearby to each of us. When was a time you felt especially close to God?

2nd Reading: Today's reading is a poem composed by Paul to describe the divinity and supremacy of Jesus. How do you express your thoughts about Jesus to others?

Gospel: In the parable of the good Samaritan, Jesus teaches the lawyer that a neighbor is anyone you treat with mercy. Who might you treat with mercy this week? ©LPI

ST. KATERI TEKAKWITHA

On July 14th, we celebrate the feast of the "Lily of the Mohawks." St. Kateri Tekakwitha is the first Native American woman to be canonized. Orphaned by a smallpox outbreak, Kateri survived with severe scarring and impaired eyesight. Despite tragedy, she was a devout girl at a young age, often building crosses from sticks in the woods. When she was 18, she began secret instruction in the Catholic faith with French missionaries. Her commitment to Christianity and vow of virginity was misunderstood and ridiculed by her fellow villagers. She escaped to a nearby mission, where she attended daily Mass, taught the children, and cared for the sick and the elderly. Sometimes the greatest misunderstandings can come from those closest to us. Like St. Kateri, God invites us to be faithful to our commitments of faith and to always respond in love.

ON THE DEATH OF A LOVED-ONE

Starting July 1, 2025, families experiencing the loss of a loved one may call 310-540-0329 x274 at any time to begin funeral arrangements at St. Lawrence Martyr. This dedicated line is monitored three times a day, and a minister will return your call within 24 hours.

See You in the Eucharist

WHAT DO YOU SEE?

When we go to Mass on Sunday, we have to make a decision about what we see: Do we see a STAGE or do we see an ALTAR? Our answer to this question determines how we will respond at Mass. If we see a stage, we come to church ready to be entertained. We are spectators, passive, waiting to be pleased. We are not obligated to listen, to give our attention. We'll clap when we're pleased, and we'll complain if we get bored. But if we see an altar, we come to church ready to worship, to stand, to sit, to kneel, to pray, to sing, to listen, to respond out loud, to connect with the Body of the Christ; to actively, consciously, and fully participate in the Eucharist, in the thanksgiving of the church. We come ready to financially support a community that feeds us spiritually. We dress up accordingly, realizing that we are not going to the beach or to an outdoor picnic but to a wedding banquet, a heavenly banquet. We acknowledge that "come as you are" is all about our inner self, not about our outer self: we care about modesty and respect ourselves and where we are—even in the summer months, especially in the summer months. "Hmmm, let's see, I'm going to the banquet of the Lord, not a concert on the beach, what shall I wear?"

ST. KATERI CIRCLE

St Lawrence Martyrs' Kateri Circle is a Native American prayer group devoted to St. Kateri Tekakwitha. We at St Lawrence Martyr's Kateri Circle gather once a month to share our Native American spirituality (talking circles) share our heritage, have prayer circles, participate in Liturgies, and prayer services, and offer educational presentations.

Women in Transition

Maybe you've wondered about our group and thought, "I'm not in transition. Nothing is changing in my life." Our lives are changing from day to day, from moment to moment, feeling full one day and empty the next, happy one day and sad the next. Sometimes we feel as though we are in the midst of chaos; our lives are spinning out of control, and we are the only ones who experience these emotions. We can find comfort in learning that we are not alone; that others are likely spinning in similar orbits. Together, in this group, let's share our lives.

SAFEGUARD THE CHILDREN: WHAT MAKES A CHILD FEEL SAFE ENOUGH TO DISCLOSE ABUSE?

There are several factors that contribute to whether a child is comfortable disclosing abuse to an adult. Children are more likely to talk about problems when they: have access to an adult they can trust; are able to understand that what is happening to them is not normal or safe; and trust that they will be believed. Another factor that may help a child disclose abuse is when a safe adult is intentional and asks direct questions about a child's life as it communicates caring and attention to the child's life circumstances. For more information, read the VIRTUS® article "Superpowers: Safe Adults Have Them" at lacatholics.org/did-you-know/.
