Dear Lord, Every day is full of blessings from Your generous hands. Thank You for waking us this morning, filling our lungs with breath. Thank you for the ways You are healing our past, working in the present, and opening possibilities for the future. Amen. ©LPi

Respect Life Rosaries

Each Tuesday during Respect Life Month, we gather in the Church at 7:00 p.m. to pray the Rosary for Life, lifting our voices for the protection of life at every stage—from conception to natural death. Together, we entrust all God's children to the loving care of Our Blessed Mother, asking for hearts open to the dignity and beauty of every human life.

World Mission Sunday Collection – Next Weekend

Next weekend we join Catholics around the world in celebrating World Mission Sunday, a day of prayer and support for the Church's missionary work in more than 1,100 dioceses. Your contributions to this special collection help build churches and schools, provide medical care, and bring the Gospel to communities in need. Please give generously and keep all missionaries in your prayers as they share Christ's love throughout the world.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

GOSPEL MEDITATION by FR. JOHN MUIR

Dorothy Day, the great Catholic activist, doubted God's existence. At least in her early adult years. But something changed when after giving birth to her daughter, she experienced an overwhelming gratitude. She later described how, as she held her daughter, the only appropriate response was a kind of unlimited gratitude. She had done nothing to deserve such a gift — this tiny, miraculous life — but there she was, flooded with gratitude, completely undone by the love of such a Giver.

Something similar occurs in Luke 17:19 when Jesus tells a healed leper, "Stand up and go; your faith has saved you." This man had already received physical healing through his faith. But the moment of an even deeper transformation came when he turned back, fell at Jesus' feet, and gave thanks. Like Dorothy, this man's gratitude led him to encounter the Giver.

Isn't that what we want, too? Gratitude to God has the power to break our chains of sadness, bitterness, and disenchantment. It empowers us to step out of the prison of self-pity and into the reality of God's abundant love. It shifts our focus from what we lack to what we have received, from what wounds us to what heals us.

Where do we learn this? The Mass. The priest prays: "It is truly right and just, our duty and our salvation, always and everywhere to give you thanks." Always. Everywhere. Not just when life is easy. Not just when prayers are answered as we expect. Gratitude is not a passive feeling; it is an act of faith. In the Eucharist, we remember that Christ himself has given everything for us. And in this act of gratitude, we are healed ©LPI

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

Mini Reflection: I have enough faith to know that God can heal me. But do I have enough faith to embrace the purpose for which He heals me?

Your Faith Has Saved You

Your faith has saved you. These are the words I pray I will hear when my heart stops beating, when the last breath has left my lungs.

We hear Jesus say these words, or words like them, several times in the Gospels: to the woman bold enough to grasp for his cloak in a crowd, to the men who testify to their belief that he can restore their sight, to the leper kneeling before him in thanks.

These are some of my favorite passages in all of Scripture, because they illustrate so beautifully what salvific faith is — and what it is not.

It's so easy to think that I have done all the necessary work by simply believing. Yes, Christ is my Savior. Yes, the Church is his bride. Yes, this doctrine is true, that dogma is infallible, so on and so forth.

I believe!

Well, so what? Satan believes, too. It doesn't do him any good.

The lepers had faith — so they begged Jesus to heal them. They had faith — so they followed his instructions and went to the priests. Their faith was sufficient to motivate these actions, which led to their physical healing. But only one had faith strong enough to understand that physical healing doesn't mean anything without spiritual results. Only one had enough faith to go back to the source of his healing and say, "Thank you. Now what?"

I have enough faith to know that God can heal me. But do I have enough faith to embrace the purpose for which He heals me?

If Jesus tells you that your faith has saved you, he isn't talking about faith as merely an internally held belief. In each of these Gospel passages, he's talking about faith as a conviction that is making itself seen. Heard. Felt. He's talking about an arm that is reaching for the hem of a garment, a voice that says "I believe" or a knee that is bent in gratitude.

He's talking about faith that is so strong it becomes action. This is the faith I hope I can have.

- Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman . ©LPI

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

REFLECT AND RESPOND TO SCRIPTURE

1st Reading: Naaman was cleansed of leprosy and committed to worshipping no other god except the Lord. What might be one commitment you could make to the Lord in the coming days?

2nd Reading: Paul teaches Timothy the importance of perseverance in faith. What are some obstacles you have had to overcome in life?

Gospel: Jesus praises the cleansed leper who returned to thank him personally. Is there someone in your life that you should be thanking? ©LPi

LIVE THE LITURGY

If we have faith, we call out to God and we beg him for healing. But when our faith is rewarded, what then? Do we take our miracle and run? No, we must return to the source of our healing to say, "You have changed me, Lord. Now help me change others." ©LPi

Starting July 1, 2025, families experiencing the loss of a loved one may call 310-540-0329 x274 at any time to begin funeral arrangements at St. Lawrence Martyr. This dedicated line is monitored three times a day, and a minister will return your call within 24 hours.

See You in the Eucharist

Come Wednesday, October 22 at 7 pm, Church

The evening with John Flaherty, Director of Pastoral Liturgy & Pastoral Music Certification Programs at Loyola Marymount University, will help us explore the big question: "How does the humility of ministry guide the discipline of music in our worship, where the members of the assembly are the main music makers, supported by a liturgical choir that instills full, conscious, active participation of the Body of Christ?"

Humility, among others, is required of someone serving in liturgical ministry. Musicians are held accountable to the discipline of music. According to the Northwest School of Music, Oregon, this discipline "involves a commitment to mastering the art of music through consistent practice and the development of essential skills. It is characterized by the ability to maintain focus and motivation, even when faced with distractions." For example, there are no excuses within the discipline of music. Performance is key. So where does the humility of ministry come into play? The definition continues: "The discipline is crucial for personal growth and creative expression, allowing musicians to develop their skills, understand music theory and create a strong foundation for artistic expression." In music ministry, in any liturgical ministry, "artistic expression" must yield always to liturgical norms: lectors can't decide to go into a dramatic interpretation of the Word. In secular music, the performers are the "stars" with an audience. In ministry, the "performers" are servants, with the liturgical assembly as the primary and "full, active and conscious" performers, rather than as a passive audience. We will reflect on liturgical ministry in general, music ministry in particular, during this evening of reflection and challenge. See you there!

SAFEGUARD THE CHILDREN: ABOUT THE TAKE IT DOWN ACT

The federal TAKE IT DOWN Act was recently signed into law. It criminalizes the publication of nonconsensual intimate images, including AI-generated images. Anyone who publishes or threatens to publish such images online can be charged with a crime and prosecuted. Websites are also required to take down nonconsensual intimate images, if a victim asks, within 48 hours of the request. This new law is important for protecting minors and all potential victims of sexual abuse or violence. To learn more, read the VIRTUS article "The Take It Down Act: Combating Non-Consensual Intimate Imagery and Sexual Exploitation" at lacatholics.org/did-you-know.
