ALL ARE WELCOME!

GOSPEL MEDITATION by FR. JOHN MUIR

Every now and then readers of these reflections write letters in which they object to something. Years ago, this Gospel of Luke 18 prompted such an email. A man wrote to me: “I find it deeply offensive that you suggest we are still sinners once we are God’s sons and daughters.” His objection stirred in me a profound awareness of the paradox at the heart of our faith. Are we sinners or beloved children of God?

In this Gospel (Luke 18:9-14), a tax collector appears as one who has missed the mark. His sins have isolated him. His breast-beating is not an act of self-flagellation for pride’s sake but a heartfelt admission of his failure and unworthiness. Remarkably, Jesus honors the candid humility of the parable’s penitent. Why? Because we are always in need of mercy, always. But even more, perhaps because on the cross, Jesus will fully embrace a similar place of humiliation and rejection. He will enter into the most shameful, offensive place of the sinner so that we might “go home justified.”

There is a sacred tension in admitting that we are sinners and yet have profound hope. We are beloved sons and daughters of God, growing precisely through our honest acceptance of failure. When we cry, “Have mercy on us,” during Mass or when we repeat the “Jesus Prayer” in quiet moments, or in the confessional, we embrace our imperfections as fertile ground for divine grace. In doing so, we follow Christ’s example — finding true exaltation in the humble acknowledgment of our human frailty. ©LPI

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

Mini Reflection: The Pharisee did the right thing sometimes. He fasted. He tithed. But he gazed so long at his own holiness that he became blinded by it. He stood before God, and he could only think of what he had done right.

Tunnel Vision

There are some parents on the playground I really can’t stand.

You know them, probably, if you’re a parent, or if you’re not, you know a different version of them. They’ll tell you about how their little Brayden is a bilingual violin prodigy who sleeps through the night and only ever asks to snack on vegetables. But as soon as Brayden starts to chase your screaming kid with a stick, they’re conveniently scrolling on their phone, unaware.

You’re not irritated that their kid is smarter than yours and likes veggies (well, maybe you are, a little). You’re irritated that they have tunnel vision. In striving for perfection, they have become unable to acknowledge imperfections.

If you’re reading this, you’re probably in church. If you’re in church, you’re probably someone who is concerned with what is right and what is wrong. I’ve got news for you: that might just make you (and me) more at risk of being like Brayden’s parent than the people who stayed home today.

Unclutch your pearls! It was good of you to come to Mass. Definitely keep doing that. That’s the right choice. Just don’t forget that in making the right choice, we don’t become righteous.

Look, I’m not going to lie to you. Sometimes, it’s my kids who are doing the chasing with the stick. They’re kids, and kids do dumb things, just like everyone else. And maybe it’s because they hate vegetables and sleep terribly that I’m less reluctant than Brayden’s mom to admit their mistakes. It’s a hard fall from the pedestal.

If we’re churchgoing followers of Christ, we are hopefully people who earnestly want to do the right thing. Maybe, sometimes, we do exactly that. The Pharisee did the right thing sometimes. He fasted. He tithed. But he gazed so long at his own holiness that he became blinded by it. He stood before God, and he could only think of what he had done right.

We need to stay vigilant, folks. Just when you look away, that’s when Brayden grabs the stick.

- Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman . ©LPI

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

REFLECT AND RESPOND TO SCRIPTURE

1st Reading: Sirach teaches us that God cares deeply about our desire for justice. Can you think of a time when you fought against an unjust situation?

2nd Reading: As Paul nears the end of his life, he shares with Timothy how he fought hard for the faith, ever grateful for the Lord's support. As you look back on your life, can you see where God has been present?

Gospel: Jesus teaches the crowds about the importance of humility. Does humility come to you naturally or do you have to work at it? ©LPi

LIVE THE LITURGY

The Pharisee took such pride in his good deeds that he forgot to ask God for forgiveness; the tax collector acknowledged his many sins, and went home justified. Remember that we are saved not by our own merit, but by the mercy of God. ©LPi

FAITH & TECHNOLOGY: USING AI WISELY

Artificial Intelligence (AI) has become part of daily life — from writing tools to digital assistants and even photo apps. As Catholics, we're called to use these new technologies thoughtfully, keeping our faith and values at the center. Here are a few ways to approach AI responsibly:

- Think before you click. AI doesn't always get things right — check facts and use your good judgment.
- Protect your privacy. Be careful not to share personal or sensitive information online.
- Use it for good. Let your online words and actions reflect kindness, honesty, and respect.
- Stay human. Technology can help us, but it can never replace genuine relationships and creativity inspired by the Holy Spirit.

As Pope Francis reminded us, technology should always serve humanity, never the other way around. Let's use these tools to learn, create, and communicate in ways that bring light to others and glorify God.

SAFEGUARD THE CHILDREN: WHO IS A MANDATED REPORTER?

A mandated reporter is someone who is required to report suspected or disclosed cases of abuse to child protective services or law enforcement including a wide range of persons from teachers, educators, coaches, to school and parish staff, and clergy. The mandated report may involve concerns about possible abuse or neglect in the child's home or by a family member. At a school or parish, if the person making a report believes that child abuse or neglect is the case then the person should make the report to the local law enforcement agency, which has the resources and ability to intervene immediately if needed. The Archdiocese of Los Angeles urges all in our church to speak up to the appropriate authorities if any form of child abuse is suspected. lacatholics.org/did-you-know.
