From the Pastor

This week we celebrate one of the most glorious solemnities within our Church! Every saint, canonized or not, is honored on November 1st, All Saints Day. While on earth, these great men and women lived lives that were poor in spirit, filled with a holy mourning, meekness, a hunger and thirst for righteousness, mercy, peace, purity of heart and even persecution. Each one of these Beatitudes concludes by stating the reward obtained by those who live these qualities: Heaven, comfort, satisfaction, mercy, seeing God, being children of God and rewards beyond what we can imagine in God's Kingdom.

The Beatitudes invite us to the heights of holiness. They present us with the pinnacle of holy living and challenge us to the core. But every effort put into living these Beatitudes are worth it here on earth and ultimately in Heaven. Let's look briefly at two of these Beatitudes.

The second Beatitude states that those "who mourn...will be comforted." Jesus teaches us that mourning is holy. Holy mourning, simply put, is an expression of sorrow for our sins and for the many evils we witness in our world. First, having a holy sorrow for our sins means our conscience is working and we are therefore compelled, by this holy sorrow, to acknowledge our offenses against God and to work diligently to rectify our ways. Secondly, we must also have a holy sorrow as we see the many evils within our world. Too often today there is a tendency to undermine this Beatitude by presenting universal acceptance of all things as a good. Our secular world tempts us to ignore many objective moral truths. As Christians, when we come face-to-face with immorality, the appropriate response must be holy sorrow, not acceptance, of grave sin. To mourn over another's poor choices is a true act of charity toward them.

The fourth Beatitude calls us to "hunger and thirst for righteousness." In addition to having a holy sorrow over our sins and the objective evils of our world, we also allow ourselves to be filled with a hunger and thirst for truth and holy living. This drive must become a burning motivation to do all we can to further the Kingdom of God everywhere. This Beatitude enables us to overcome indifference, inspiring us to bring about change in the face of all opposition, fueled by charity and every other accompanying virtue.

The surest path to sainthood is the Beatitudes. Read them carefully, meditating on the way in which God is calling you to live. Work to internalize these graces, and God will work wonders in your life, one day making this solemnity within our Church a true celebration of your life well lived. Have a blessed week!

Reverend Christopher Monturo
