Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

As you may have seen in the media reports, the people of Haiti experienced both an earthquake and a tropical storm earlier this month. Already an impoverished nation, Haitians are attempting to cope with both human loss and the loss of so many homes and buildings, including structures the Church relies on for worship, education, and charitable works.

The bishops of the United States are inviting the faithful to respond to the needs of our brothers and sisters through a special collection. I have asked the pastors of the Diocese of Belleville to invite your support in the month of September. All funds donated for Haiti will be distributed by the Emergency Disaster Fund of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops to various charities which will provide immediate aid to those who are hurting as a result of the two disasters.

As thousands of poor people in Haiti pray to God for help, I invite you to join me in being part of God's loving response through your generous donation to this special collection.

May Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Patroness of Haiti, intercede for all who died or were injured in these disasters, along with their families. May Our Lady intercede for all of us and keep us close to Jesus her Son.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Most Reverend Michael McGovern
Bishop of Belleville

How do you experience laws, especially God's commandments? Many people consider them as something coming from outside themselves, as burdens imposed on them. Of course, if they are outside you, you cannot love them; you feel like rejecting them or observe only the absolute minimum required. In most cases, laws are established for the good of all people. We know the stories from history where laws are used to hurt or degrade people. From our Gospel this weekend, we hear, "Well did Isaiah prophesy about you hypocrites, as it is written: This people honors me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me; in vain do they worship me, teaching as doctrines human precepts. You disregard God's commandment but cling to human tradition." This message resonates with us as we navigate the mandates and laws enacted during the past months.

We have learned a lot since the pandemic began. We cannot forget or ignore 2020. We are different as individuals, as a society, and as a church because of it. We have an obligation to affirm the lessons learned. The generosity that many shared with those in need, the profound sense of solidarity that many exhibited during difficult times, the courage of essential workers, the inspiring work of scientists and medical personnel, the resilience of families, and the creativity of believers to practice their faith, among many others. Many of us have allowed ourselves to be swept up by discourses that radiates from society. The polarization of beliefs and understandings has divided this great nation. In some instances has caused grave division in our churches.

For decades, our church has seen how millions of young Catholics and their families walk away from our communities. We seem unable to engage them and fall short in addressing their questions and concerns. Whatever the post-pandemic status quo becomes, If it implies ignoring the lessons learned during this crisis, the suffering and the losses of those for whom life will not be "normal" again, then we need to think twice, who were are as Catholics. Jesus' message warns us how quickly we can be deceived and allow, "From within people, from their hearts, come evil... all these evils come from within, and they defile." (Matthew 7:21-23)

BE DOERS OF THE WORD, AND NOT HEARERS ONLY.

Call to Holiness. Sometimes law and custom can be so onerous, so heavy that we can lose focus on right behavior. That is part of the conversation today as we return to the Gospel of Mark. Observing traditions is good and right. But avoiding oppressing thoughts, words, and deeds is better. In the Second Reading, Saint James says: "Be doers of the word and not hearers only." In short, be holy.

- What unholy words and deeds can I avoid?
- What holy words and deeds shall I do this week?
- Whom can I invite to holy behavior with me?

RESPECT LIFE

My husband Bill and I have been married for six years. Having children and raising a family had always been our expectation. By the time we were married, most of our siblings and friends already had children, so of course we were excited and ready to be parents ourselves. We soon learned, however, that having children of our own might not be so easy.

We made a few trips to multiple cities to be treated by wonderful doctors who have helped so many couples conceive, but everything we tried was unsuccessful. We felt so hopeless at times. Words can't even explain this experience of loss.

Fortunately, our marriage only grew stronger, because we were there for each other and continued to rely on God. This didn't always come easily, but it helped that Bill has a great sense of humor, and we were able to laugh at some of the crazy situations and conversations that come with infertility.

Since we knew our chances of becoming pregnant were small, it wasn't very long before we started talking about the possibility of adoption. However, it wasn't an easy decision, and I wondered if my heart was big enough to love an adopted child as I would my biological child. There were also so many other variables to consider, one of which was the expense involved, and we had already spent so much money on infertility treatments. We felt we had no control, but God reminded us again that He is always in control and that we could trust in Him.

It is so hard to express in words what a unique experience adoption has been for us. It has been quite a journey facing infertility, as well as so many unknowns and acts of kindness and sacrifice—all with so many emotions—which led to the growth of our family. There were times when our faith was shaken and we weren't sure if we could handle our cross. But adopting Andrew has made us more aware of God's power and of his love for us. We realize that he always has a perfect plan for our lives.

Jenny and Bill (all names have been changed for privacy) would like to encourage you be open to the gift of adoption. Is God calling you to consider adopting a child or placing your child for adoption?

Curious Kitty Meows From Sister Gracie

I am happy to share that my brother Blaise is back to his normal, mischievous self! We have been having fun annoying our big cats, Vicki and Dan. Not feeling good is no fun, but now its back to business, with plenty to do. Watching the tin cans roll by, chasing my favorite toy and being the awesome kitty that everyone knows I am. I have been hearing that many big cats and little cats haven't been feeling well. They get a cough, a fever and sniffles. That's no good at all. Our kitty doctor gives shots that make you all better! So did anyone see those big round colorful toys floating around? I told Blaise we could have a lot of fun with one of those, more "hints" for Father Steve, maybe he will get me one.

Meow, adieu! Adiós!

VOCATIONS

"I was born in a small town in Michoacan, Mexico. My mother, a woman of great faith, instilled in me and my five siblings trust in God and kindness toward others. When I turned 15, my family moved to California. It was difficult to leave home, but I soon got used to the new school, friends, and culture. One afternoon, I accompanied a friend to church, more out of duty than desire, and Jesus reminded me that had been waiting for me. I realized how much I had been moving away from him, how much I needed him, and I went to confession. I later encountered the Servants of Mary, Ministers of the Sick, who were visiting the parish. I began to discern, and after high school, I entered my postulancy. I am now a professed junior sister.

Mass for Maintenance Custodial Workers

Bishop Michael McGovern is inviting paid and volunteer maintenance and custodial personnel to attend a special Mass to mark the Year of St. Joseph. One of the Masses will be held here at St. Mary, Mt. Vernon on Sunday, August 29, 5 pm. A reception will follow Mass. We honor the Patron Saint of Workers by recognizing the paid and volunteer men and women behind-the-scenes in our diocesan parishes, schools, offices and cemeteries. If you are able to agenda please contact St. Mary, Mt. Vernon Parish Office at 618.244.1559, as soon as possible to make reservations for you and your family.

I graduated from our parish grammar school in Chicago in June 1978. My aunt and uncle, who lived in Colorado, graciously invited me to spend most of the summer at their home in Colorado, along with three of my cousins from California. We were all boys, ages 13 or 14, and we spent the summer helping our aunt and uncle build a new home.

As a city kid, I was used to living in a neighborhood with 40 bungalow houses on every city block, with streetlights on every street corner. Even in the evening, there was a lot of light to help you see where you were walking. The wide, green spaces of Colorado were very different for me, with no sidewalks or streetlights.

One night after sunset, my cousins and I set out for a walk. Each of us bringing a flashlight so we could see the path ahead of us. As the four of us were walking, we were chatting about how the day had gone. At about 9 p.m., we were standing in the middle of a field and decided to head back home. One of my cousins suggested we first take some time to look at the stars, so we each turned off our flashlights and looked up at the night sky.

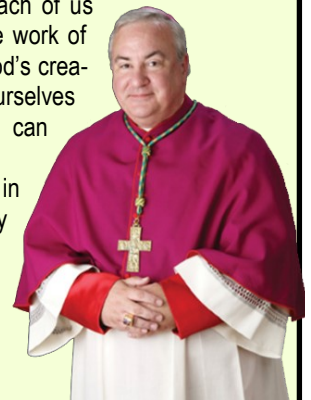

I remember that the four of us became mute, silently gazing up at the incredible number of stars in the sky. Growing up in Chicagoan, I could see some stars at night. But it was minimal compared to the sky in Colorado.

It reminded me of a fireworks show with the bright lights stirring up a sense of wonder in a time-stopping moment. There was a sense of amazement as I gazed at the beauty and glory of the sky, but also a sense of awe when I realized that the incredible stars are always there, pointing to the glory of God who fashioned them when he created the heaven and earth.

I hope before the summer is out that each of us can pause and take time to appreciate the work of God's creation. The beauty and glory of God's creation is always there, but we have to place ourselves in a position, a vantage point, where we can appreciate what God has done.

May the Lord renew a sense of wonder in each of us as we thank God for the beauty of His creation.

PRAYER FOR VOCATIONS

Gracious God, You have called us through Baptism to discipleship, believing in your Son, Jesus Christ, who has sent us to bring the Good News of salvation to the world. We pray to you, asking that you grant us more priests and religious who will help us build up your Church in the Diocese of Belleville and the world. Stir up the grace of a religious vocation in the hearts of many of our youth. Grant to them the willingness and generosity to give of themselves in service to our Lord Jesus and his people. May a new generation of priests, deacons, sisters and brothers be a sign of your presence among us. We ask this in the name of Jesus the Lord. Amen
