Parish Partnership of St. Mary, Centralia & St. Lawrence, Sandoval

424 E. Broadway
Centralia, Illinois 62801
(618) 532-6291

Let us pray,

O God, who have prepared for those who love you good things which no eye can see, fill our hearts, we pray, with the warmth of your love, so that, loving you in all things and above all things, we may attain your promises, which surpass every human desire.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever.

TWENTIETH SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

Many of us remember the ole "fire and brimstone sermons." At times we may have been "fired up," over something. I remember clearly this past spring when our own SMS Defenders made it to the State Basketball Playoffs! What a great example of being on fire with excitement. What a great time for the community. Jesus invites us to ignite in joy! I heard many comments from those who attended our Picnic Mass, with music by Nine88 Blue Grass Band. Someone said, "father let's get them every week, the church would be packed. It's amazing what a simple folk song like, "that old wooden cross," can cause. (Yes, we will invite them back so hold in your excitement)

We can think of many people who had fire in them to do good and they had to undergo a baptism of suffering as a result. For example, think of the ways in which these people who received the Nobel Peace Prize suffered: Nelson Mandela imprisoned; Simon Peres in Israel. Think of Pope John Paul II whose fire is standing up for the right to life of the unborn. Those are dramatic examples of bringing fire and being baptized and experiencing division. But there are everyday examples closer to home. Think of the fire in parents to do the best for their families. Think of the fire in parents with children on drugs to make sure that the problem is solved. Think of the fire in parents whose child was hurt, to make sure that it doesn't happen to any more children.

Jesus said in the Gospel today, "I have come to bring fire to the earth and how I wish it were blazing already." (Luke 12:49) Jesus has come to bring the kingdom of God to earth and how he wishes the kingdom of God were already established everywhere on earth. The fire Jesus came to bring is the fire of love, the fire of hope. Bringing fire to the earth, doing anything good, is going to run into the opposition of evil. Jesus said, "There is a baptism I must still receive, and how great is my distress until it is over." (Luke 12:50) The Gospel today says that attempts to do good will automatically cause division: Jesus said a household of five would be divided, three against two and two against three.

I am sure we all have some fire in us to do something good for those around us. Maybe some of us have fire to do something more than normal but are afraid of the baptism or afraid of the division that might be caused and so the fire doesn't come to anything. Is it possible that half of the fire in the world doesn't come to anything because 50% of people are pleasers and placatory? They will go along with what is disagreeable to them for the sake of peace. It is interesting that the Gospel today places bringing fire to the earth as a higher aim than pleasing for the sake of peace.

Empower Illinois is the state's largest and most comprehensive SGO. While we serve approximately 91% of all Illinois recognized private schools in their processing of donations, scholarship awards and program compliance, we also assist students and their families through the scholarship process in an effort to help make their dreams a reality. By joining our program, donors will be able to designate funds directly to your school or school network while Empower Illinois will handle the processing and distribute the scholarship funds. Participating schools will have access to a personalized portal with student, donor and program data.

Do me a favor, don't tell Father Steve that I borrowed his big tin can, he calls a Jeep and took a little road trip. My first stop was at Sandoval, to visit those two rascals, Lillie and Snickers! They have everyone snuckered, all they have to do is look cute and snacks come their way. I then did some back-riding to the Lake. Big cats and little cats were throwing a ball of yarn into the lake and just watched. Then they pulled it out and a nice tasty fish was attached! I licked my chops, but they threw it back in! It's time to get Father's tin can back before he notices. Love Sister Gracie

CHEMICAL ABORTION

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has announced that it is eliminating some of the safety requirements for chemical abortion under its Risk Evaluation and Mitigation Strategy (REMS). These fact sheets provide background information on chemical abortion, safety protocols to protect the mother, and why the abortion lobby opposes the REMS and encourages in-home, mail-order abortion.

What is a chemical abortion? Chemical abortion is a two-drug process intended to kill and expel a developing child from the womb in the first trimester of pregnancy. Proponents call it "medication abortion," but that's misleading. "Medication" indicates something that is intended to manage a patient's disease or illness.

Despite the known risks of mifepristone and misoprostol, in September 2000 the FDA inexplicably approved their use as a method of abortion under "restricted distribution requirements," meaning that Danco Labs—which owns the rights to manufacture, market, and distribute Mifeprex—would adhere to strict protocols for use and report all serious adverse events and deaths to the FDA.

In 2020, abortion proponents seized upon the COVID-19 pandemic to sue for the right to dispense chemical abortion drugs without even the initial office visit with a trained provider. A federal judge initially agreed, but the U.S. Supreme Court ruled on January 12, 2021 that the FDA, pending appeal, could enforce the REMS designed to protect women undergoing chemical abortion. But the FDA bowed to pressure from the abortion lobby and declined to enforce the REMS, ushering in at-home abortions via telehealth and mail.

Following Jesus Isn't Easy!

Luke 12:49-53

Be on fire for Jesus!

It cost Jesus everything to rescue me ...
It will cost be everything to follow Him.

20th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Do you think I have come to give you peace on Earth? No, I tell you, but rather division." Luke 12:51

Many of us like to play it safe, not cause waves with our family and friends, especially when it comes to politics and religion. We don't want to cause any turmoil. However, many times this is at the expense of the truth. The truth being Jesus Christ. Too many people are misguided because they rely on their own limited human ability to reason and are not allowing faith in God to guide them. Form your conscience; take a stance for life, marriage and religious liberty.

NATIONAL EUCHARISTIC REVIVAL

“My flesh for the life of the world”
“Mi carne para la vida del mundo”

John 6:51

UNITED STATES CONFERENCE OF CATHOLIC BISHOPS THANKSGIVING AND WORSHIP

Having been sanctified by the gift of the Eucharist and filled with faith, hope, and charity, the faithful are called to respond to this gift. Indeed, it is only natural that we give thanks to the Lord for all that he has given to us. How can I repay the Lord for all the great good done for me? I will raise the cup of salvation and call on the name of the Lord (Ps 116:12).

The word “Eucharist” literally means “thanksgiving.” Even our manner of giving thanks comes from God, for we do so by following the command of the Lord: do this in memory of me (Lk 22:19). The Second Vatican Council taught that, in order to give thanks properly in the celebration of the Mass, we should “take a full, conscious, and active part in the liturgical celebration.” We need to be conscious of the gift we have received, a gift that is none other than the Lord himself in his act of self-giving. We become conscious of this gift when we actively engage our minds, hearts, and bodies to every part of the liturgy, allowing God through the words, actions, gestures, and even the moments of silence to speak to us. We actively and consciously participate by giving our full attention to the words being spoken in the prayers and the Scriptures, even if we have heard them hundreds of times before. We do so also by listening to the homily and reflecting upon how the Lord may be speaking to us through his ordained minister.

We are actively giving thanks when we join in singing and in the responses; when we kneel, stand, and sit; and when we pay attention to the liturgical seasons where the entire history of what God has done for us, in and through his Son, is revealed to us. 32. The gratitude that inspires us to give thanks and worship God in the celebration of the Eucharist should be nurtured and enriched by the beauty of the liturgical action itself. Bishops and priests have a particular duty to ensure that the Mass is celebrated in a manner befitting the sacredness of what takes place. As Pope Francis recently wrote to the bishops of the world, “I ask you to be vigilant in ensuring that every liturgy be celebrated with decorum and fidelity to the liturgical books promulgated after Vatican Council II, without the eccentricities that can easily degenerate into abuses.” Priest celebrants of the Mass should have a prayerful understanding of the liturgical books, as well as of the feasts and seasons, and be faithful to the texts and rubrics established by the Church. In doing so, they will lead the people more deeply and reverently into the exchange that is the dialogue of the Father and the Son in the Holy Spirit.

Our gratitude is also expressed in our worship of the Blessed Sacrament outside of Mass. These forms of worship are all intrinsically related to the Eucharistic celebration. In the Eucharist, the Son of God comes to meet us and desires to become one with us; eucharistic adoration is simply the natural consequence of the eucharistic celebration. Receiving the Eucharist means adoring him whom we receive. Only in this way do we become one with him, and are given, as it were, a foretaste of the beauty of the heavenly liturgy. We rejoice in the growing numbers of the faithful who pray in adoration before the Blessed Sacrament, a testament of faith in the Real Presence of the Lord in the Eucharist.
