THIRTIETH SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME DEACON CANDIDATE DAN LAQUET

Once again, we hear the familiar words, "for whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted." Time after time in the New Testament writings we are exposed to the arrogance and pride of the Jewish leaders. They continuously try to bait and trap Jesus by posing questions to Him about some element of the faith and Jewish teachings in the hope of tripping Him up and discrediting Him. They are filled with their own self-righteousness, and believe that they have an unimpeded pathway to God because of their position. Only God can decide someone's righteousness, and He sent His only Son to humbly take on human form and to sacrifice His life for us to show us the path to His Father.

Arrogance and pride are not unique to the time of Jesus. We find both traits in great abundance in today's world. With the technology available today, and the advent of social media, we are bombarded with people who are full of their own self-importance and participate in shameless self-promotion. People brag about how many friends they have on Facebook, and ridicule others because they do not have as many. Others consider themselves as "influencers" because people visit their YouTube, Instagram, or Podcast sites, and dress, eat, act, and think as they instruct them to do. Picture a young person feeling alone and despondent, because someone told them they don't deserve to live through a series of texts or social media posts. How arrogant is it for someone to think that they have the right to decide if one of God's children, made in His image and likeness, deserves to live?

There is hope in this fallen world though, hope that is provided by the example of Jesus. Throughout His public ministry on earth, Jesus modeled for us the virtue of humility. Jesus did not associate with the rich and powerful, but with those who were outcasts, those considered socially inferior, those who were sinners. He did not consider Himself to be above them. Women and children particularly had no standing in Jewish society, but Jesus engaged with them and loved them. Jesus showed us that to be humble we needed to stay in prayerful communion with the Father, to obey His will in our lives, and to put the needs of others before our own. Being humble does not mean that we are weak, as many perceive it. It means that we should behave with kindness, compassion, and goodness, showing inner strength, serenity, and a healthy self-worth as a child of God. By humbly submitting ourselves to the will of the Father, we are empowered by Him to live a life like Jesus showed us, one of grace and love of God and others.

We extend our condolences to Mary Ann Iffert, of Du Quoin who passed from this life after a short illness. Mary Ann is the mother of Bishop John Iffert, former pastor of St. Mary, Mt. Vernon. She is survived by her children and husband John, May eternal rest be granted her Lord, and let perpetual light shine on her. May she rest in peace.

MASS BEGINS AT 12:00 P.M.

Burr! I spent the whole day in my favorite window letting the big round orange ball warm me up! I miss the warm weather already. I haven't put on my winter fur yet. I am going to have to give Mrs. Vicki some loving so she will warm up a nice cup of cows milk for me. I might share with my brother Blaise, maybe! The warm weather goes by too fast! The biggest problem, a feline perceives is critters. They are looking to stay warm, so I will be back on patrol checking for critters in the Lil Cat's School. Its my life what can I say! Love Sister Gracie.

RESPECT LIFE

O Blessed Mother, you received the good news of the incarnation of Christ, your Son, with faith and trust. Grant your protection to all pregnant mothers facing difficulties.

Guide us as we strive to make our parish communities places of welcome and assistance for mothers in need. Help us become instruments of God's love and compassion.

Mary, Mother of the Church, graciously help us build a culture of life and a civilization of love, together with all people of good will, to the praise and glory of God, the Creator and lover of life. Amen.

30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"...for whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted."
Luke 18:14

Pride and ego are the root causes of most of our sins. Thinking your time is so valuable or your talent is better than anyone else or your money gives you status is another way of making those things "gods" before God. Pride is the opposite of humility. Remember, all that we have and all that we are is a gift from God. We should be humbled by God's incredible generosity and be grateful for all we have been given. Ultimately, gratitude leads us to humility.
