Welcome to AutumnFest!

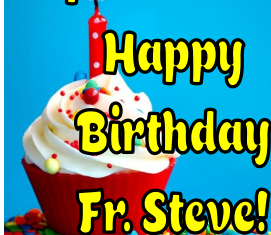

23rd. Sunday

O God, by whom we are redeemed and receive adoption, look graciously upon your beloved sons and daughters, that those who believe in Christ may receive true freedom and an everlasting inheritance. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever
AMEN

It is with heartfelt warmth and joy that I welcome you to our Annual Autumnfest. Our Autumnfest will not just be a celebration of the season, but it will also carry a special significance as we remember and commemorate the events of September 11th through our '911 Never Forget Memorial,' immediately following Mass. Our Autumnfest will be filled with fellowship, gratitude, and the celebration of community. Your presence is that perfect addition to make this event memorable. Please enjoy all that AutumnFest has to offer this year. God's Blessing be with you always! Fr. Steve

23rd Sunday of Ordinary Time
September 10, 2023
Deacon Dan Laquet

Our readings this week focus on a conversion of heart. We are encouraged to overcome sinfulness and to go beyond merely following the letter of the law and to truly learn to love. Supporting each other along the path to holiness and helping each other overcome our sinfulness is a part of being a Christ-centered community of believers.

In the first reading, God appoints Ezekiel as a watchman for Israel. He is instructed to warn the wicked to turn from their ways. If he fails to do what he is asked, their guilt falls on him. If he does as God asks him to do, and they don't repent and change their lives, then they will die, and he will be saved because he performed his task as watchman. The book of Ezekiel showcases the prophet's role as a messenger of God through words and actions. Its themes of divine intervention, human unfaithfulness, and the promise of restoration through repentance resonate as Ezekiel conveys both warnings and a pathway to redemption.

Paul's letter to the Romans emphasizes owing love to each other as the true fulfillment of the law. The commandments issued by God to Moses, including those against adultery, killing, stealing, and coveting are summarized in "Love your neighbor as yourself". Love prevents us from violating such commands against our neighbor. Paul's audience is presented with salvation through faith in Jesus Christ and love of each other rather than just strict law adherence. He reminds us of the cost of sin in a community and that through Christ's great sacrifice and God's grace we can live a righteous life.

There are many underlying themes in Matthew's Gospel passage. The first is community accountability. Our gospel emphasizes the responsibility of the church community in addressing conflicts and promoting self-awareness of how one's actions affect all. The members are all interconnected and must work together to support each other in their spiritual journeys. This ties in with the theme of conversion of heart. By addressing one another's sin in a kind, compassionate way, it invites individuals to examine their hearts, admit wrongdoing, and seek reconciliation. Jesus' instruction about approaching a brother or sister who has sinned mirror the principles of confession and penance within the Church. It reflects the sacramental aspect of seeking forgiveness and restoring one's relationship with God and the community of believers.

Lastly, Jesus' assurance of His presence when two or three are gathered in His name underscores the reality of divine presence within a united church. It highlights the importance of communal worship, prayer, and decision-making in building a strong faith community. We all have a responsibility to do spiritual works of mercy, like "admonishing the sinner" and "instructing the ignorant". By the practical application of spiritual works in our daily lives we can help guide others, and ourselves, toward the path that God desires us to follow.

Dear Friends in Christ,

This summer has included some very hot days with temperatures in the 80s and 90s in southern Illinois. While I enjoy the summer, I must admit that I am looking forward to the fall which is perhaps the most beautiful time of the year weather wise.

In September and October I will celebrate the Holy Eucharist with a number of groups in our diocese. On Sunday, September 10, I will offer Mass at the Cathedral with many young adults present for the liturgy and a reception afterward. I will also offer Mass with: families that home school their children; two Catholic school communities; a group of Catholic school teachers; a group of attorneys and judges (the Red Mass); staff; and supporters of a Catholic hospital plus several Sunday Masses in the far southern areas of our diocese.

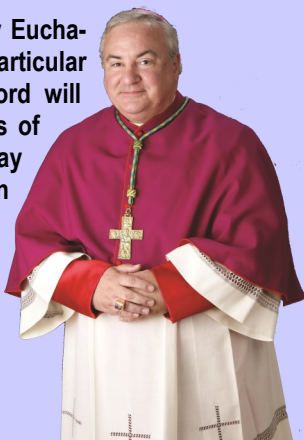

I mention all of this to offer a glimpse into the importance of the bishop celebrating the Eucharist which unites so many Catholic people in Christ. It is a profound privilege for me, as your bishop, to stand at the altar and offer the Holy Mass so that Jesus Christ may feed, strengthen and sanctify parents, children, teachers, nurses, clergy, attorneys, doctors and people of every walk of life.

Feed, strengthen and sanctify. As our Catholic bishops have called for a Eucharistic revival among Catholics in our nation, I invite you to reflect on how Jesus feeds us in Holy Communion with his own self, his body and blood. The Bread of Life strengthens us with the power of the Lord which is beyond our imagining. Christ sanctifies us by receiving him, so that having received the Holy One we can become holy people.

I look forward to celebrating the Holy Eucharist each day this fall, often with particular groups. But my prayer is that the Lord will unite us together with all the Catholics of our diocese whatever our vocation may be, for our common calling and vocation is to live as the Body of Christ.

Please pray for me and know that I pray for you each day.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Bishop Michael McGovern

REMOVE THE SUNSET

#SAVE MY SCHOLARSHIP

The Invest in Kids Tax Credit Scholarship Program has awarded more than 40,000 scholarships totaling more than $332 million. The program is a proven success with bipartisan voter support. Thousands of families rely on tax credit scholarships to help their kids. Without the program sunset being removed, kids and families will face uncertainty or be unable to attend the school they love. Tell your legislator to remove the program's sunset or kids across Illinois will lose their scholarships.
