Reflection on the Synod of Synodality: A Priest's Perspective

The Church, in her timeless wisdom and guidance, has always been a vessel of change and adaptation, while concurrently staying rooted in the eternal truth of Christ. The Synod of Synodality, from my vantage point as a Catholic priest, is a poignant representation of this beautiful dichotomy.

The very name "Synod of Synodality" is intriguing. At its core, synodality is about journeying together, emphasizing the importance of listening, mutual understanding, and the shared responsibility of the clergy and the laity in the mission of the Church. This Synod is not just a singular event but a process; a process of discernment, wherein the whole Church is invited to reflect, discuss, and pray.

The most noticeable element that resonated with me was the emphasis on 'listening'. In today's tumultuous times, true listening is becoming a rare art. Our world is filled with noise, distractions, and polarized debates. The Church's call to deeply listen, then, stands as a counter-cultural statement. Listening to the joys, struggles, doubts, and hopes of the faithful is a reiteration of Christ's compassionate ministry, who always had an ear for the marginalized, the suffering, and the lost.

However, this journey is not without its challenges. As a priest, I am aware of the varying opinions within our diverse and global Church. The concept of synodality could be met with apprehension, misunderstanding, or even resistance by some. The Synod is a reminder that the Church is not a static institution but a living organism. As the world evolves, the Church too needs mechanisms to understand and respond to the signs of the times, all while holding fast to the unchanging truth of the Gospel.

In my daily pastoral ministry, I often encounter individuals who feel disconnected or even alienated from the Church. For them, the Synod offers hope. It sends a message that their voice matters, that they are a part of this grand, communal journey of faith.

In conclusion, the Synod of Synodality, for me, is a profound moment of grace. It's an invitation to introspection, dialogue, and rejuvenation. As a priest, it challenges me to be more open, more listening, and more inclusive. It reminds me that the Church's strength does not lie in its might or structures, but in its ability to love, to understand, and to walk side by side with its people, journeying towards Christ.

Pray for the Holy Father and for the Church

September 26, 2023

Among the Catholic dioceses in the United States, October is Respect Life Month. While we promote year-round the sanctity of all human life from conception until natural death, during the month of October we dedicate additional time for prayer, works of charity and advocacy to proclaim the Gospel of Life. Permit me to offer some thoughts about how we can participate in Respect Life Month.

First, be committed to prayer. Offer prayers of gratitude to God for the gift of your life; giving thanks that God created you and gave you your very life. Thank God each day for this most precious gift. Also, spend time praying for a spirit of conversion that more people will be committed to defending human life, especially the lives of the most vulnerable. Please join me in offering our diocesan Mass for Life on Thursday, October 12 at St. Clare Church in O'Fallon; we'll pray the Rosary at 5:30pm and Mass will begin at 6:00 p.m.

Second, perform works of charity to assist those whose lives are most vulnerable: the child waiting to be born; the mother in a crisis pregnancy; the refugee who has had to flee home because of war, or famine or danger; the person with terminal illness who does not have many friends or relatives nearby. Sharing our time and our resources to help those who are living on the margins is a beautiful way to help ease their anxiety, bringing light to a dark time for them.

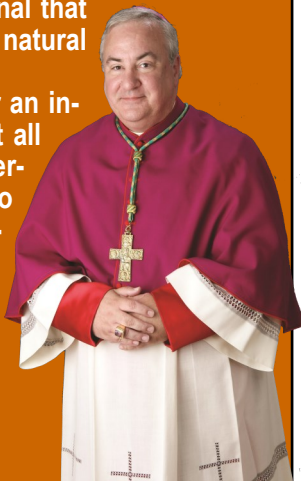

Third, be advocates for the vulnerable who need a voice to speak up on their behalf. Pope Francis is tireless in speaking out about the need for people to move from indifference to involvement on behalf of the helpless, from ambivalence to sincere caring for the needs of those who are often overlooked or seen by some in society as a burden. But it cannot be the Holy Father alone who speaks up; as committed Catholics, we must find our voices and advocate for the protection of human life, whether we are talking about the child in the womb, the migrant or the person in hospice care.

As your bishop, I ask for your immediate efforts to contact our state elected officials and strongly reject the proposal to introduce so-called physician assisted suicide into Illinois. There are clear signs that the state assembly will consider legalizing assisted suicide during the fall term in Springfield. I am writing elected officials this week asking that they reject such a proposal. Please join me in writing to your elected state senator and representative.

Together we must send a clear signal that human life must be respected until natural death.

Please join me in praying daily for an increase in respect for human life, at all of its stages and with all of its vulnerabilities. May the Lord Jesus, who rose from the dead and lives forever, inspire us to become signs of God's love during October as we promote the

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Bishop Michael McGovern

27th. Sunday in Ordinary Time

"The stone that the builders rejected has become the corner stone..." - Matthew 21:42

Jesus was rejected by the religious and political leaders of his day, as well as ordinary citizens, but he was still obedient to God, the Father. Similarly, living a stewardship lifestyle may cause you to be "rejected" by others, but we, too are called to be obedient. Saying grace before a meal in a restaurant may attract some strange looks from some. But to others it is a sign that God is alive and well!!!
