MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR

Father Steven Pautler

"When the Night Gets Loud, Stay Awake for Christ."

Night can turn the bravest soul into a jumpy rookie. You wake from a dead sleep because something went bump in the dark. You lie there in heroic silence while your mind is already writing your obituary. Then your Ring chimes and your heart jumps, only for you to discover a skunk wandering across the porch like it owns the place. We tell ourselves we are calm. We know better.

Truth is, nighttime pokes our defenses. A few weeks ago someone threw a rock through the windows at St. Mary in Centralia. The first thing we said was more cameras. More locks. More lights. That instinct sits in every one of us. We know all about the things that slip in without warning. The scammer who swears the IRS is sending a patrol car. The ridiculous virus that shows up on a computer that has never touched the internet. The family member who borrows your drill and returns something that looks like it survived a tornado. These little ambushes wear us down.

Night has a way of making everything louder. A creak turns into a crisis. A thump turns into a full investigation. Even the cat sneezing can send us into a prayer that ends with Lord take me now. We laugh about it in the morning, but in the moment we feel exposed. Vulnerable. A little too aware of the things we do not control.

Matthew gives us the real version of this on the First Sunday of Advent. Jesus points back to the days of Noah. People carried on with normal life. They ate. They married. They planned. They lived as if tomorrow was guaranteed. Then the flood came. It was sudden, not dramatic. Not loud. Sudden. Jesus says His return will be the same. Not announced with a Ring notification. Not telegraphed by the sound of a raccoon knocking over the trash can at midnight. He arrives at an hour we do not expect.

Advent steps into that space. Jesus knows how easily fear pushes us into frantic living. He gives us a steadier path. He tells us to be awake, not worried. Ready, not rattled. The world keeps throwing its little surprises. The broken window. The scam call. The friend who borrows your jumper cables and returns a tangled mess you swear is a modern art project. All of it reminds us how fragile life feels.

Christ answers with a promise. He steps toward us every day. He draws near through the sacraments. He strengthens us in quiet prayer. He meets us in the ordinary tasks that fill our hours. Advent teaches us to look for Him with clear eyes and a steady spirit. One honest step at a time.

This week's question:

When should I put up my Christmas decorations? I hear we're supposed to wait until Christmas and keep them up until the Baptism of the Lord. I can't help myself, I start the day after Thanksgiving!

Answer:

You're in good company. The Church's liturgical calendar says Advent is a time of waiting, and Christmas begins on December 25 and lasts until the Baptism of the Lord. But there's no sin in a little early sparkle. If your tree helps you reflect on hope and joy, go for it. Maybe keep one thing, like the Baby Jesus from your Nativity, off display until Christmas Eve. That way your heart keeps the waiting even if your living room looks ready for Bethlehem..

Veterans Honored at Thank You Dinner Hosted by Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

The Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Santa Maria Assembly of Marion County, held a successful Thank You Veterans Dinner on November 15 at the St. Mary School Cafeteria. The evening drew a strong crowd and was highlighted by Deacon Dan's homily, which deeply resonated with many in attendance. Guests enjoyed a delicious meal, shared stories, and honored the service and sacrifice of our veterans. The Knights extend heartfelt thanks to all who attended and especially to the veterans, whose dedication and courage continue to inspire.

Welcome Holden and Harrison into God's family.

They were surrounded by love and support from Father Steve, Amber, Quinton, and Avery. Congratulations and welcome, Harrison and Holden—may your journey of faith be filled with grace, joy, and the light of Christ.

Purrs from the Pew, Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief

Advent through the eyes of a very holy kitten

I trotted through the neighborhood this week feeling rather important. A kitten on official Advent patrol. Something was different. Lights everywhere. People cheerful enough to bend down and give me treats. Even offered gentle pets. No hugs please. I have my dignity. The whole place felt warm. Hearts open. Spirits lifted. I started to purr without even thinking. Then it hit me. We stepped into Advent. The countdown to Bethlehem already humming in the air. In a few short weeks the Christ Child arrives. A kitten feels joy in her whiskers long before the humans notice. I sat under a glowing porch light and thought about gifts. Trouble arrived fast. Christmas shopping. What do I give Sister Gracie. She loves order and silence. Neither fit my daily mission. Maybe I will bless her with patience instead. Father Steve is easy. A big bag of Snickers and a diet coke will keep him cheerful until Lent. I better get moving before the good treats disappear. Advent waits for no kitten. I plan to keep watch every night. I plan to stay close to the manger scene as it takes shape. I plan to welcome the Child with a steady heart and a grateful purr. I will guard the nativity from rowdy critters, I saw Mr. Becker stringing lights and I thought shall I pounce? I will keep the straw fluffed for holy company. I will listen for angels even when the humans fall asleep. I will welcome Bethlehem with every beat of my tiny heart.
