Vocation Corners December 28

Today we hear of Joseph's call to be the Head of the Holy Family. What a wonderful act of selflessness - turning his whole life over to the will of God, even under some really stressful circumstances. This is the call for each one of us - to be "righteous". This should be our daily goal. Encourage everyone to follow their unique vocation to follow the Lord.

Seminarian Prayers

Please keep our seminarians in your prayers as they continue their formation. If you feel called, consider sending them a note or card of encouragement. Your prayers and support mean so much.

MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR

Father Steve Pautler

"Walking This Christmas With You."

Merry Christmas!

What a joyful time of the year. Once again we gather around the mystery we never outgrow. The Word made flesh. God choosing closeness. God choosing to enter our lives without conditions or fanfare. The warmth of love radiates from the Christ Child and reaches every corner of our lives, even the places we keep guarded.

For some of you, I have celebrated many Christmas seasons with you. We have shared baptisms, weddings, funerals, and countless ordinary Sundays. For others, this is our first Christmas together. New faces. New routines. New beginnings. Both matter. Both belong. This past year has asked a lot of us. Parish partnerships. Shared pastors. Shared resources. Shared schedules. None of this has been easy. It has stretched patience. It has tested trust. It has required generosity of spirit. At times it felt heavy. At times it felt uncertain. Still, you showed resilience. You stayed rooted. You kept showing up. Communities do not survive on convenience. They endure through commitment.

Christmas reminds us why we keep going. God did not choose ease. God chose presence. A child born into a real world with real challenges. A family doing their best. A quiet arrival into a noisy place. This feast speaks plainly. God enters life as it is. We each celebrate this joy in our own ways. Some gather with full tables and loud laughter. Others sit quietly, holding memories close. Some carry gratitude. Others carry grief. Christmas holds all of it. No one arrives at the manger the same way. All are welcome.

I am deeply grateful to each of you. For your faith. For your patience. For your willingness to walk a road that has not always been smooth. It has not been an easy journey, but it has been an honest one. I see the effort you give. God sees it even more clearly.

If this Christmas feels bright, give thanks. If it feels heavy, you are not alone. The Christ Child does not demand cheer. He offers peace. Bring what you have. Leave with hope. Take a moment during these holy days to slow your steps. Sit in the church. Light a candle. Say a simple prayer. God listens to honest hearts.

Thank you for allowing me to serve you as your pastor. Thank you for trusting me to walk with you. I carry that responsibility with care. May Christ's peace rest in your homes. May love grow stronger. May forgiveness come easier. May hope take root again. Merry Christmas and God bless you.—Father Steve

P.S. My heartfelt thanks for every Christmas card, gift, text, phone call, and personal greeting. Each one reminded me how generous and attentive this parish remains. I carry your kindness with me, and I deeply grateful to all.

This week's question:

Sometimes I feel like being Catholic is like belonging to a club with too many rules. What does it really mean to be Catholic?

Answer:

Being Catholic isn't about earning membership points. It's about belonging to a family, the family of God. We pray, serve, and celebrate not to check boxes but to grow in love. The Church gives us structure so we don't drift, like a coach who wants the team to play their best. The rules aren't fences. They're guide rails that help us reach heaven without driving into a ditch. we'd need both quiet and celebration to stay balanced.

Christmas Cookie Elves in Full Swing!

If Christmas joy had an assembly line, these ladies ran it with smiles, laughter, and serious baking talent. Our Christmas cookie elves rolled up their sleeves and prepared 300 beautiful cookie trays, each one packed with care and generosity. A heartfelt thank you goes to the bakers who filled kitchens with sugar and patience, the assemblers who turned tables into works of order and grace, and everyone who purchased a tray and shared it with family, friends, neighbors, or coworkers. This was teamwork at its finest, festive, faithful, and a little bit flour covered. The spirit of Christmas showed up early and it wore an apron.

Purrs from the Pew, Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief

Royal Report From The Most Holy Mouse House!

I received treatment fit for a sacred kitty as I climbed into a long tube that looked like a pencil and off we went with Father Steve gripping his rosary like he meant business. I arrived with whiskers high and confidence firm. The oversized overdressed mouse who calls himself the CEO greeted me as if I were visiting royalty then handed me a bobblehead of himself. I accepted it without blinking. The small humans at school expect proof of my adventures and I enjoy keeping them entertained. Father Steve guided me through the gates with my chariot rolling proudly ahead, (he called it a mobility scooter). The basket gave me a perfect view of every popcorn cart and every astonished child who gasped at my beauty. I sat tall. I surveyed the land with steady purpose. I also plotted a little chaos.

Sister Gracie watched from her grand condo on top of Cinderella's Castle. She flicked her tail in judgment. I grinned back with angelic charm then ignored her without apology. Trouble found me fast! Mischief breathes well in open air. The parade marched by with snow drifting from the rooftops. I chased the flakes. Even a holy kitten breaks composure for snow. Fireworks filled the night. The sky burst with color. My eyes grew and my tail expanded. I claimed it was excitement. Father Steve nodded as if he believed me. I thought about staying. Warm breezes. Steady attention. Generous treats. Yet my school waits for me and I enjoy being missed. I returned to my chariot and aimed toward the Haunted Mansion. Father Steve insists it is harmless. I sharpened my claws in response. A wise kitten honors her instincts. Forward I go with mischief ready. I have plenty to tell you!

Merry Christmas! Sister Fluff, F.D.M. Feline of Divine Mischief
