SOLEMNITY OF THE EPIPHANY
THE BLESSING OF HOMES AND THE CHALKING OF DOORS

20 + C + M + B + 26

On the Solemnity of the Epiphany, you are invited to take blessed chalk home and mark your door in prayer. This simple act places Christ at the center of your home and asks his protection and peace upon all who enter. It remembers the Magi who welcomed the Lord and confessed their faith without hesitation. A marked doorway speaks quietly and firmly. This house belongs to Christ.

How to bless your house: After Epiphany Mass, take home the blessed chalk. A family member, priest or deacon traces on the door lintel: a cross (+), the current year (20+C+M+B+26 for 2026), and C+M+B (Christus mansionem benedicat: "May Christ bless this house"). This invokes Christ's protection via the Magi's intercession, often with children in procession and offerings for charity.

Leader: "Be present, O Lord, to your servants who dwell in this house and humbly beg your blessing, that they may feel you a refuge as they dwell in it, rejoice in your companionship as they go out from it, and enjoy you as their guest when they return, until they come happily to the home you have prepared for them in the house of your Father. Who live and reign forever and ever. R. Amen."

Vocation Corner January 4

What a wonderful Gospel account of the Magi traveling to meet the Lord. They followed the star – their “call” – to come and offer their gifts to the Lord. But the question arises as to how the Magi noticed a star at night and no one else really did. Perhaps we need to embrace the “night,” the stillness, to “see and hear” our call. How are we doing in discerning our call to Holiness – in living our vocation as man, woman, or child; married or single; priesthood or religious – of being called to something beyond ourselves.

MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR

Father Steve Pautler

"Epiphany. When the Music Stops, and God Keeps Talking ."

Epiphany has arrived, which means Christmas ends in the most official unofficial way possible. The Kings show up, gifts in hand, and many of us think, well, that's it. Lights come down. Trees get hauled out. Somewhere in the house a box of Valentine hearts waits quietly, wherever we hid it last year.

I hope your Christmas brought rest, laughter, and time with people who matter. I enjoyed a first this year. Christmas dinner outside, gathered around a picnic table, with a s'mores fire working hard. It was seventy degrees. December felt confused. Nobody complained.

Our family adds another celebration to Christmas. My nephew Travis was born on Christmas Eve, so Jesus and Travis share the spotlight every year. Travis handles it well, which makes him easy to tease. His uncle Steve takes that responsibility seriously. Each year I look for something new. This year delivered.

I found a birthday card with a special feature. Once opened, it sings Happy Birthday. Loudly. Repeatedly. It does not pause. It does not rest. It does not forgive. The only solution involved the s'mores fire. Even then, it took time. Family laughter followed. Travis survived. Christmas memories secured.

Epiphany reminds us God often speaks after the noise settles. No crowds. No announcements. The Magi notice. They kneel. They offer what they brought. Then they leave changed, thinking differently and choosing a new direction. Epiphany invites us to do the same as the year begins. Pay attention. Give what you have. Move forward with clearer purpose.

Epiphany also marks the moment when the nonstop Christmas soundtrack finally ends. Parties wrap up. Shopping bags disappear. Next week we remember the Baptism of the Lord, and Ordinary Time begins. Life returns to its steady rhythm, faithful and familiar.

Our journey does not stop with Christmas decorations packed away. God keeps working. Grace keeps nudging. Faith keeps growing. Much like that birthday card, the message does not shut off easily. It keeps going, sometimes louder than expected, often longer than planned. The difference is this message brings life. Welcome to the new year. Keep your eyes open. God is still revealing himself. And if someone hands you a singing birthday card, head for the fire without delay.

THANK YOU!

Thank you to our parishioners and friends for the beautiful Christmas gifts, phone calls, texts, personal messages, and steady love. It means so much to me. Sharing this journey together brings deep joy, and serving alongside you remains one of the great blessings of my priesthood. God bless you each day, and may His peace stay close to your homes and hearts. - Fr. Steve

This week's question:

Our manger scenes show three kings front and center. When I searched the Bible for their big entrance on Christmas night, I came up empty. Where do the Magi appear, and why do they seem to run late?

Answer:

The Magi appear in Matthew chapter two, not on Christmas night. By the time they arrive, Jesus is living in a house, not resting in the manger, which explains why the wise men stand off to the side in many nativity scenes. Epiphany celebrates seekers who take their time and reminds us life needs quiet moments and joyful ones to stay balanced. It tells us faith grows through showing up and paying attention.

A Church Full of Joy. Children, Families, and Faith at Christmas.

Christmas Eve at the parish drew a standing room only congregation, a joyful mix of children, families, and longtime parishioners gathered to celebrate the birth of Jesus. Voices of every age filled the church in song and praise, creating a scene both reverent and warm. During the homily, the children were invited forward and the story The First Christmas Night was shared, with altar servers reading different parts and bringing the telling to life. Inspired by the familiar rhythm of The Night Before Christmas, the story spoke clearly of love and light entering the world. At the conclusion of Mass, the children brought forward their gifts to God and were met with grateful smiles and a sweet treat. All Christmas Masses were well attended, and the parish extends sincere thanks to parishioners, visiting family members, and friends who came together to celebrate the greatest gift given to humanity.

Purrs from the Pew, Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief

Happy New Year from me. Sister Fluff. Professional napper. Guardian of the PreK3 classroom.

Happy New Year from me. Sister Fluff. I was asleep on the window ledge in the PreK3 classroom, the warm spot near the secret treats, when boom and bang shook my whiskers and rattled my nap. I sprang into action, grabbed a rosary with my tiny teeth, and prayed with deep focus because loud noises deserve serious prayer. For a moment I thought angels were bowling in the sky, then I learned it was New Year's Eve and big and small humans celebrate with bright, noisy colors, the same ones I once watched at Disney World while remaining unimpressed. After a few prayers, a stretch, and a judgmental stare out the window, I went back to sleep dreaming of catnip, shiny shoes left unattended, and a school free of mysterious crumbs. When morning arrived, I spotted the calendar with a bold circle around January 5, which means the little humans return to my classroom, my chairs, my rugs, and my personal walking paths. I paused, reflected, and accepted my vocation. The little humans laugh loudly, drop snacks generously, and attempt to catch me with slow hands. I hide under tables, dash behind shelves, and supervise all activities with holy seriousness. I sit near the cross, nap during quiet prayer time, and listen closely during stories about Jesus, who seems very kind and probably likes cats. I patrol the room like a tiny guardian and keep order through presence alone. Break time ends soon, little humans. Sister Fluff remains alert, fluffy, prayerful, and fully in charge!
