Knights News

Faithful Navigator Jim Nalewajka and the Knights of the Fourth Degree Santa Maria Assembly would like to thank everyone who supported their Palm Sunday breakfast and everyone who helped prepare the breakfast.

The St. Lawrence Knights will be hosting an Easter egg hunt today after mass. There will be two age groups: Ages 5 years and younger and Ages 6 years and older.

DO YOU FEEL CALLED?

Are you discerning the possibility of serving the Lord as a priest, consecrated sister or brother, missionary or permanent deacon?

If you are looking for guidance about how to discern answering the Lord's call, please join Fr. Godfrey Mullen, OSB, and Bishop Michael McGovern for a Day of Recollection. We will gather at St. Nicholas Parish in O'Fallon on Saturday, April 5 from 9:00 AM – 3:00 PM. The day includes morning Mass, two talks, reflection questions, group discussion and a period of Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. Light breakfast and lunch will be provided.

The Stone Is Rolled Away—So Now What?

"He saw and believed." – John 20:8

On behalf of myself, Msgr. Darin, Deacon Steve, Deacon Mark, and Deacon Dan—Happy Easter! There's something beautifully human about Easter morning. It's that deep breath, that exhale after the long journey of Lent and the powerful, emotional days of Holy Week. I think even the church pews seem to sigh a little. For many of you, today is filled with family traditions, joyful worship, big meals, and yes—plenty of chocolate bunnies (solid ones, not hollow—we have standards). For those of us in collars, Easter is joy, relief, and maybe just a little sleep. We love this season, but let's just say it's not exactly low-impact ministry.

I want to offer my sincere thanks to everyone who helped make this Lent and Holy Week so meaningful. From those who prepared and served our fish fries (I'm fairly certain the smell of fried cod is now permanently embedded in my collar), to the volunteers who led Stations of the Cross, decorated the church, participated in the liturgies, played music, cleaned, cooked, organized, showed up, and supported in a hundred unseen ways—thank you. The Church is at its best when it feels like a family, and that's exactly what you made it feel like. You brought life to the season, and that same life is what Easter is all about.

Today's Gospel from John (20:1–9) is fascinating. It doesn't give us trumpets or a shining, risen Jesus breaking out of the tomb like a superhero. It gives us an empty tomb, a rolled-away stone, and a lot of confusion. Mary Magdalene runs, Peter and the other disciple race to see, and what do they find? Nothing—just linen cloths and a whole lot of questions. And yet... he saw and believed.

That's Easter faith. It's not always about what we can touch or see or prove. Sometimes, it's about recognizing hope in emptiness, trusting love even when things feel uncertain.

And since we live in Illinois—"The Land of Lincoln"—here's a little historical twist I always find oddly perfect for Easter. Did you know that President Abraham Lincoln's coffin was opened not once, but twice? The first time was in 1887, 20 years after his death. Why? Because rumors had spread that the coffin didn't actually contain Lincoln's body. So they opened it, and sure enough—he was there. Fourteen years later, the same rumors popped up again. And yes, they opened it again, and guess what? Still Lincoln.

Now, imagine if that happened with Jesus. When the disciples went to the tomb, they found nothing. And that wasn't proof of a cover-up—it was proof of a miracle. The rumors about Jesus' body spread too, but this time the absence confirmed what He had promised: He is risen. No body. Just life.

The angel's question in another Gospel account rings loudly: "Why do you look for the living among the dead?" It's still a question worth asking. Some-times we search for hope in the wrong places, trying to bring life out of things that are already gone—old grudges, fears, failures. Easter invites us to stop searching among the dead and instead look for life: in Christ, in our relationships, in our community, and in the ways we care for one another.

So today, let's rejoice—not because the tomb was full, but because it was empty. That emptiness is our fullness. It's the start of something new. May this Easter fill your heart with hope, joy, and renewed purpose. And may you laugh a little too—because resurrection means that even death doesn't get the last word. God does.

He is risen! He is truly risen! Alleluia!

With Easter joy,

Did you know....

The Easter Bunny traces back to 1600s German Lutherans, symbolizing judgment and new life, while eggs represent the empty tomb and were a Lenten treat on Easter Sunday

Prayer of Abandonment

Father, I abandon myself into Your hands;
do with me what You will.
Whatever You may do, I thank You:
I am ready for all, I accept all.
Let only Your will be done in me,
and in all Your creatures.
I wish no more than this, O Lord.
Into Your hands I commend my soul;
I offer it to You with all the love of my heart,
for I love You, Lord,
and so need to give myself,
to surrender myself into Your hands
without reserve,
and with boundless confidence,
for You are my Father. Amen.

Easter Sunday

April 20, 2025

"Like us, Christ entered the world through the womb of a woman. He willingly experienced the fullness of human suffering. He breathed his last on the Cross at Calvary in order that He might save us. Therefore, 'God is the foundation of hope: not any god, but the God who has a human face and who has loved us to the end' (Spe salvi 31)."

Vocation Corner

Easter Sunday

April 20, 2025

Hallelujah!! He is Risen! All our souls have been redeemed. What a wonderful legacy! We need to share this Redemption story with others – our Calling as Catholics. This is what we commemorate through each celebration of the Eucharist which allows us to receive our Lord in Holy Communion. We need to witness to this fact through our daily lives – talking with our classmates, taking care of our spouses and children, engaging with our friends and family, with our co-workers – in all we do! This is our vocation - a Call to Holiness.

Quote for the week: Sometimes it takes worst pain to bring about the best change.

Easter Week

Easter Sunday, we read from the Acts of the Apostles to hear Peter's preaching about the Resurrection. The Letter to the Colossians reminds us "You have died and your lives are hidden with Christ in God." The gospel is from John's Gospel and gives us the first story of that Easter morning - Mary Magdalene discovers the empty tomb and runs to Peter and the "disciple Jesus loved" to tell them. They run to the tomb and discover for themselves that it is empty. The first reading for Easter Week is from the Acts of the Apostles. We hear Peter's preaching the Good News and experience the first deeds of the Apostles, which parallel the acts of Jesus, including the conflicts he experienced and his power to heal.

The gospels this week are all resurrection appearances. These wonderful stories contain some common elements. They appear designed to make it clear that this was not a group of disciples who dreamed up the resurrection, because they were hoping for it so much. In fact, they found it difficult to believe. The Jesus they saw and experienced was not a "ghost." Instead, he had a body.

Monday, is the story of Jesus appearing to Mary Magdalene and the other Mary, as well as the "cover-up story" and pay off of the guards. Tuesday, we read of Jesus' appearance to Mary Magdalene, through the eyes of John's Gospel. Jesus missions her to announce the Good News to his brothers. On Wednesday we are treated to Luke's marvelous story of Jesus' appearance to the two disciples on the road to Emmaus. They were sad, because they had hoped the story would have turned out differently. Jesus tells them why he had to first suffer and die in order to enter into his glory. As they stopped to eat, "he was made known to them in the breaking of the bread." Thursday Jesus appears in the room where the disciples are gathered. "Peace be with you" he says and then eats with them and shows them his wounds. On Friday, we have the powerful appearance in John's Gospel at the Sea of Tiberias. Peter decided to return to fishing. Jesus appears and re-missions him. On Saturday, the week concludes with the summary of appearances in what appears to be an addition to the end of Mark's Gospel.

On the Second Sunday of Easter, as we celebrate Divine Mercy Sunday, we get a picture of how the early community gathered around as "Many signs and wonders were done among the people at the hands of the apostles." John's Gospel gives us two post-resurrection stories that feature Thomas, the doubting apostle. "Have you come to believe because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed."

Daily Prayer This Week

We now begin a celebration of the Resurrection of our Lord for the next seven weeks - when we mark the Ascension forty days after Easter and culminating in the celebration of Pentecost on the fiftieth day after Easter. This week, we begin that deepening realization of, and reflection upon, the meaning of the gift of life we have received in God's raising Jesus from the dead so that we might have eternal life.

Just as it difficult for many of our cultures to face the reality of death, it is difficult to accept the reality of life after death. St. Paul invites us to live in this passing world with our hearts set on the world that will never end. This week let us try to open our hearts to a deeply-felt sense of what a difference it makes that the tomb is empty, that Jesus is alive, that he allows us to recognize him in the breaking of bread, and that he missions us to proclaim this Good News.

Each morning this week, we can pause for a moment and simply thank God for our being alive today. Even more, we can thank God for the life that Jesus won for us. Throughout the day, and at different brief moments, we can remember that this is Easter Week and ask to live more freely today, more gratefully. We can name the grace in our own terms and in the context of what we are experiencing, what gets us discouraged or what gives us life. Overall, we want to live the freedom we have been given. If death has no hold on us, so many of our fears would melt away. If we realized our ultimate home is in heaven, our spirits would be lighter and we would walk around more gratefully.

So, as we go through this week, we can let ourselves believe in the Resurrection that was won for us. "Lord, I believe in the gift of life you have given me in the death and resurrection of your Son, Jesus." We can say this act of faith, or sing any of the wonderful Easter songs in the back of our minds, as many times as it takes to let ourselves feel the effects of Easter. Perhaps we had a difficult Holy Week or Easter. There might have been loneliness or family conflicts. Perhaps we are facing a chronic illness or deep struggles with a loved one, or we are grieving the loss of a loved one. These, and many other struggles can challenge our Easter hope and joy. This is the week to place our trust in the one who is now alive, so that we can live forever. We can ask for the gifts of hope renewal these days. In giving thanks, we can ask that our hearts be opened even more to receive the gift of his Spirit.

Registration Now Open at St. Mary School

Registration for the 2025-2026 school year at St. Mary School is now officially open! We are excited to welcome new and returning families into our vibrant learning community where faith, knowledge, and service come together each day. Whether your child is entering preschool, kindergarten, or transferring from another school, St. Mary's offers a warm and welcoming environment where students grow academically, spiritually, and emotionally.

Catholic education is one of the most powerful gifts we can offer our children. At St. Mary School, we don't just teach curriculum—we form disciples. Our students learn to see the world through the eyes of faith, guided by values like compassion, integrity, and respect. But we can't keep this gift to our-selves! If you love what St. Mary's offers, share it with others—neighbors, friends, coworkers. Word of mouth is one of the best ways to help more families discover the blessing of Catholic education. Let's continue to build a community where Christ is at the center and every child can shine.

From Our Hearts to Yours – Thank You!

The St. Mary School PTO would like to extend our deepest gratitude to everyone who made this year's Fish Fry such a wonderful success. Whether you brought a dessert for the free-will donation table, fried fish in the kitchen, served with a smile, set up tables, cleaned up afterward, or simply came and enjoyed a delicious meal with your family—we are so thankful for you!

Events like this don't just happen—they're made possible by the incredible spirit of our school and parish family. We're especially grateful for the students and their parents who stepped up to serve and support in countless ways. Your generosity, time, and cheerful hearts brought our cafeteria to life and reminded us all what makes Catholic education so special: a community that comes together in faith, fun, and fellowship.

Proceeds from the Fish Fry will directly support Catholic education at St. Mary School, helping us continue to provide a nurturing environment where our children can grow in knowledge and faith.

Thank you again for showing up, pitching in, and making a difference. We are truly blessed! With gratitude, St. Mary School PTO

What is a Vocation?

A vocation is how God calls us to love, follow and serve Him in our lives. Everyone is called to a life of holiness, but the different vocations are the ways we could be called to live. There are four main vocations in the Catholic Church: marriage, priesthood, consecrated life, and single life.
