Reverend Steven Pautler

“Are We There Yet?”

A Reflection for the Feast of Saints Peter and Paul John 21:15–19

How many of you, and be honest, have been on a long trip and heard that immortal question: “Are we there yet?” Maybe it came from the back seat, or maybe, let’s admit it, you asked it yourself. And if it’s our kids or grandkids, the question slowly turns into a whine that could peel paint off the dashboard! We respond the same way every time: “We’re getting there... it won’t be long... just be quiet.”

Translation: “If I hear that one more time, we’re turning around.”

Now picture Peter in today’s Gospel (John 21). He had walked with Jesus, seen miracles, denied Him three times, and wept bitterly. Now, face to face with the Risen Lord, Jesus asks him a familiar question, not once, but three times: “Do you love me?” And Peter, a little worn out, says again and again, “Yes, Lord, you know I love you.” I can’t help but think Peter was feeling a bit of that same frustration: “Lord, are we there yet?”

But Jesus wasn’t just repeating Himself for no reason. Each time Peter answered, Jesus responded with a mission: “Feed my lambs. Tend my sheep. Feed my sheep.” No map. No instructions. No finish line. Just a call. Peter didn’t realize it yet, but in those three short commands, Je-sus was giving him the greatest responsibility ever entrusted to a human being—to lead the Church after Jesus returned to the Father.

Peter’s journey wasn’t a short ride to Holiday World. His journey was long, hard, and full of sacrifice. “Are we there yet?” would take on a whole new meaning—because “there” wasn’t comfort or ease.

“There” was salvation.

And then there’s Paul. The firebrand! The former persecutor turned preacher. The man who once dragged Christians into chains now preaching Christ to the ends of the earth. He and Peter were wildly different, Paul was bold and brilliant, Peter was pastoral and often a bit slow to catch on. They even argued! Paul called Peter out publicly when he thought he was being inconsistent. And yet, they remained united in the same mission. Paul would later call Peter one of the “pillars” of the Church.

They both died in Rome. Peter, crucified upside down. Paul, beheaded. They gave their lives for the same Lord, in the same city, and are remembered together on the same feast day. The early Church didn’t see them as rivals. They were brothers, very different, but united in love for Jesus Christ.

So maybe this feast is a chance for us to ask a better question than, “Are we there yet?” Maybe we ask: “Am I on the road Jesus is calling me to?” “Am I feeding His sheep?” “Do I love Him enough to keep going, even when the road gets long?”

The journey isn’t easy. But Peter and Paul didn’t ask for easy, they asked to follow Jesus. And that’s what made all the difference.

Let us pray, for peace in the Middle East and all lands torn by war, and for immigrants, refugees, and all who are exploited or displaced: that God may guide world leaders to choose dialogue over destruction, protect the innocent and vulnerable, and bring hope to the suffering. On this Independence Day, may our nation use its blessings not for comfort alone, but to uphold life, defend human dignity, and extend compassion to those in need. AMEN.

Vocation Corner Saints Peter and Paul, Apostles June 29, 2025

"When I was 15, my father died suddenly; it's a low point in my life, but also a turning point. My mom, who had converted to Catholicism several years earlier, encouraged me to speak to our parish priest. I quickly saw a transformation within myself and began to think, "If God is helping me through this Catholic priest, there must be something to this Catholic Church." After my confirmation, the Lord said to me in prayer, "Anthony, you see what I've done for you through the priesthood; now go and do likewise." I was ordained in June 2018, and I wake up every morning thanking God for allowing me to be his servant.

Quote for the week: Not everything has to make sense, let it go and choose peace.

Thirteenth Week of Ordinary Time

Sunday is the Solemnity of Saints Peter and Paul, Apostles. In Matthew's Gospel, we hear Jesus ask his disciples "Who do people say that the Son of Man is?" and follows with "But who do you say that I am," to which Simon Peter affirms "You are the Christ, the Son of the Living God."

Thursday is the Feast of Saint Thomas, Apostle. The readings for this feast are unique from the regular daily readings in honor of this special day.

The stories from Genesis continue in the first readings this week.

Jesus begins an itinerant preacher phase of his ministry this week. In the gospels, we follow Jesus departing the Sermon on the Mount and proceeding to the territory of the Gaderenes and "his own town." We see profound examples of compassion and healing, as Jesus drives demons into the swine, cures the paralytic, or calls Matthew the tax collector to follow Him. We witness Jesus being driven out of an area by those who do not want to believe, so crowded by believers that his "patient" is lowered through the roof, and questioned by the disciples of John the Baptist. All these as primary examples for us of what we could face if we follow Him.

Next Sunday is the Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time. We continue in Luke's Gospel with Jesus sending out the seventy-two "like lambs among wolves." Typical of Jesus' teachings, the sending reveals both the grace of being sent and a lesson of what to be thankful for. We are called not to be proud in our status as Christians, but joyous in our knowledge that we have a place in God's Kingdom.

Daily Prayer This Week

It can sometimes take great amounts of courage to follow Jesus. So easily can our being "Christian" be taken for granted that the foundational meaning of what it means to follow Him gets lost in the hype, or even popularity, of being a Christian. We can so easily, and often justifiably, get so caught up in our daily routine that taking time to consider the question of "Why do I follow Christ?" gets postponed until I have more time.

This week, we can find those times in our day where we have down time, no matter how little, and consider this question. We can first be grateful for this time offered, and rejoice in this call of Christ to follow where He has gone. "Lord, thank you for knowing me, and calling me down your path." As we become more comfortable finding these niches in our day, anywhere from in the shower, the commute to work, or the mid-morning coffee break, we can reflect on this call to follow and be grateful that not only have we been called, but we have been given the gifts necessary to fulfill that call. "...just as you have given me the grace to desire and offer this, so may you also give me the grace to fulfill it." (From the Vows of the Society of Jesus)

A great temptation is to consider that we are not worthy to follow in this call of Jesus. We may be aware of things we have done or people we have wronged that might "disqualify" us from following Jesus as we think he intends. The week is a wonderful opportunity to reflect upon His words as we realize that "I desire mercy, not sacrifice. I did not come to call the righteous but sinners." We can rejoice in the heartfelt knowledge that no matter how unworthy we may feel, we are beloved children of God and have been called to a place in His Kingdom.

At the end of each day, we can spend a few moments in thanks. Grateful that we have been called, and grateful that we have been given the gifts necessary to heed that call. We can rejoice in the knowledge that we are amidst brothers and sisters that share that call, and that we all have a place in the Kingdom of God.

"Boat Races & Blizzards: A Sweet Summer Splash!"

Our summer fun continues at SMS with a week full of creativity, teamwork, and treats! Students teamed up to design and build sturdy paper boats, putting their engineering skills to the test. The real challenge came when we launched them in the official SMS test pool (a.k.a. our trusty Walmart kiddie pool) to see which ones could stay afloat! After a day of boat battles and lots of laughs, we sailed our imaginations straight to Dairy Queen for a well-deserved ice cream break. Because nothing says "summer success" like floating boats and double-dip cones!

Today, on the glorious Solemnity of the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ—Corpus Chris-ti—we lifted high the Real Presence of our Lord in procession. Though the weather kept us indoors, the power of our prayer was not diminished. With every step through the aisles of our church, we asked Jesus, present in the Blessed Sacrament, to bring healing to our broken world, justice for immigrants seeking hope, and strength to those who suffer persecution for their faith. The walls of our church became a sanctuary of mercy, a place where heaven touched earth, and Christ walked once more among His people.

Introducing Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief

From the Desk (and Windowsill) of Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief
Successor to the Esteemed Sister Gracie, Retired in Dignity and Fur

Dear Parishioners and Feline Fans, Allow me to introduce myself—I am Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief, niece of the legendary Sister Gracie, who served St. Mary Parish with grace, poise, and a suspicious tolerance for toddlers pulling her tail during Children's Liturgy. As many of you know, Sister Gracie has officially retired and taken her vows of "sunshine and leisure" down to Florida, where she now patrols the Magic Kingdom. Yes, she now chases mice at Disney World. We wish her well, though rumor has it she's negotiating a truce with Mickey for full control of Tomorrowland. Now, the torch—or should I say catnip mouse—has been passed on to me. Why the name "Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief"? Well, it's not just the cloud-like fur and the angelic face—I've also been known to rearrange the altar flowers, lead unauthorized choirs of barking dogs from the parking lot, and sneak into the sacristy just as Father Steve is trying to prep for Mass. My mischief is never mean-spirited, only divinely inspired (with maybe a smidge of chaos).

Each week, I'll be taking over Sister Gracie's column right here in the bulletin, sharing my tales (and tails) from around St. Mary Parish and School. I'll report on who left the doughnuts unattended, which second grader tried to teach me Spanish, and why the janitor now double-knots his shoelaces. So buckle up, dear humans. The reign of fluff has begun. With a twitch of my whiskers and a purr in my heart, Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief!

Bulletin Contributor, School Mascot, and Unofficial Parish Watchcat ☺ P.S. Sister Gracie says hello and asks if the sisters are still hiding her treats in the hymnals.

ST. MARY SCHOOL IS LOOKING FOR A FEW HELPING HANDS!

DO YOU HAVE ONE DAY A WEEK TO SPARE? WE'RE SEEKING PARENTS, GRANDPARENTS, PARISHIONERS, AND FRIENDS OF THE SCHOOL WHO CAN COMMIT TO ONE DAY EACH WEEK—ON THE SAME DAY—TO HELP WITH SERVING LUNCH AND CLEANUP. IF YOU'RE WILLING TO ROLL UP YOUR SLEEVES AND LEND A HAND IN OUR LUNCHROOM MINISTRY.

PLEASE CONTACT MARIA PRYOR AT 532-3473 OR MARIAPRYOR@STMARYCENTRALIA.ORG.
