MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR

Reverend Steven Pautler

Four Parishes, One Grateful Heart
(with a nod to Luke 10:1–12, 17–20)

This weekend, Jesus sends out seventy-two disciples—two by two—into towns and villages, saying, “The harvest is abundant, but the laborers are few.” He tells them to travel light, to bring peace, and to trust that God will do the rest. And when they return, they're filled with joy, amazed at how the Spirit was with them every step of the way.

Honestly? That Gospel hits home for me right now.

As I begin this new chapter as pastor of our four wonderful parishes, I feel a bit like one of the seventy-two. I don't have a money bag or sandals to shake off, but I've got my car keys, a strong cup of coffee, and a heart ready to serve. The road ahead may be busy, but the mission is clear: bring peace, walk with joy, and serve the people God has placed before me.

Each parish has its own spirit, its own stories, and its own way of saying “welcome.” One might have legendary fish fries, another the best choir harmonies, another still the kind of donuts after Mass that make you linger a little longer. Some have statues that tell stories, pews that creak with memory, and people whose quiet prayers have held the place together through thick and thin. But across our four churches, we share one faith, one mission, and one joy in the Lord. Jesus tells the disciples not to be proud of their accomplishments, but to rejoice that their names are written in heaven. That's the joy I want to live with you, not in checking boxes or clocking miles, but in walking with faith, with humility, and with one another. I may be the one driving between towns, but we're all on the same journey, following Christ, loving one another, and building up the Kingdom together.

So if you see me with a confused look and a church key that doesn't fit, just smile and show me the way. And if I walk in the wrong door or sit in someone's favorite pew, have mercy. I'll learn quickly. Let's walk together. Let's serve together. Let's rejoice together. The harvest is rich, and the journey is just beginning.

FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

THE HARVEST IS ABUNDANT.

LUKE 10:2

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time July 06, 2025

“O God our Creator... through the power and working of your Holy Spirit, you call us to live out our faith in the midst of the world, bringing the light and the saving truth of the Gospel to every corner of society.”

United States Conference of Catholic Bishops “Prayer for Religious Liberty”

Vocation Corner: “When I was 15, my father died suddenly; it's a low point in my life, but also a turning point. My mom, who had converted to Catholicism several years earlier, encouraged me to speak to our parish priest. I quickly saw a transformation within myself and began to think, “If God is helping me through this Catholic priest, there must be something to this Catholic Church.” After my confirmation, the Lord said to me in prayer, “Anthony, you see what I've done for you through the priesthood; now go and do likewise.” I was ordained in June 2018, and I wake up every morning thanking God for allowing me to be his servant.

15th Sunday in Ordinary Time July 13, 2025

"You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart... and your neighbor as yourself." How powerful are the two Great Commandments we need to live by to "inherit eternal life." How do you do that in your vocation? First, are you truly living your vocation – are you called to something greater? Are you bringing souls to Christ through your spousal vocation – through your single vocation – through your daily life? Hopefully, we are imitating the Good Samaritan and tending to others. Take some quiet time to pray and listen to what the Lord has intended for you.

Quote for the week: Faith is taking the first step, even when you don't see the whole staircase.

Fourteenth Week of Ordinary Time

Sunday is the Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time. We continue in Luke's Gospel with Jesus sending out the seventy-two "like lambs among wolves." Typical of Jesus' teachings, the sending reveals both the grace of being sent and a lesson of what to be thankful for. We are called not to be proud in our status as Christians, but joyous in our knowledge that we have a place in God's Kingdom.

Friday is the Memorial of Saint Benedict, abbot.

We continue with the final week of a three-week cycle of Genesis readings. Jacob stops for the night and has a vivid dream about a stairway to heaven and the Lord telling him that the land on which he rests would be given to Jacob and his descendants. Jacob wrestles with a stranger in the night and is blessed by that stranger before they part.

The readings then jump ahead 10 chapters to pick up the familiar story of the famine and Joseph, Jacob's son who has been sold into slavery by his brothers. Joseph is now a powerful man in Egypt managing food in a starving world, and his brothers, are sent by their father to Egypt to beg for food. Joseph meets with his brothers finally reveals himself to them and is reunited with his now-elderly father, Jacob, who comes to Egypt. Jacob dies a happy man, asking only that his family take his body back to their homeland for burial. The readings end as Joseph dies in Egypt, also asking to be buried in the land of his birth. It's a great story of God's fidelity.

Matthew's gospel this week is filled with healing and invitations. Jesus offers a cure and courage for the woman with hemorrhage, raises an official's daughter from dead and as "his heart was moved with pity" he continues to cure every disease and illness.

Along with these stories of healing in the First Gospel, the call from Jesus begins.

"The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few;
so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest."

Jesus summons the apostles and sends them out to continue his work, but curing illness and driving out unclean spirits. He tells them how to be a laborer in his field and cautions them of the challenges ahead. On Saturday, he offers a tender example of God's love for us in the story God's love for even the lowly sparrow. "Do not be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows," he concludes.

Sunday is the Fifteenth Sunday of Ordinary Time. In Luke's gospel we see Jesus challenged by a scholar who asks how to obtain eternal life. Jesus says "love your neighbor as yourself." When he is asked, "who is my neighbor?" Jesus tells the well-loved story of the Good Samaritan, who stopped to help a Levite who had been left for dead. Even though others had passed by the Levite, the Samaritan cares for him with tenderness. "Go and do likewise," Jesus tell us.

Daily Prayer This Week

As Jesus heals, he gives courage. As he carries out his ministry of healing and announcing the terrific news of the closeness of the Kingdom of God, he is filled with compassion for all those who suffer and who need this encouraging news. So Jesus calls us to join him. This isn't the call to priesthood or religious life. This is the universal call addressed to all of us to see with his own compassionate eyes and to reach out and heal others. As Jesus sends us, he knows that we will encounter resistance and opposition - sometimes from within our own heart first, but certainly from others. He always tells us not to be afraid. Even when things happen that take away our peace, our peace will be given back to us. He knows he is sending us like sheep among the wolves of this world, and so he to be both wise and simple - two great gifts for our mission. He assures us that even when we don't know how to speak tender or reconciling words, the Spirit will speak through us. The only thing we need to fear is the stuff we get into that can actually destroy our soul.

What a great week to ask for the grace to be responsive to his call! All week, with attentive eyes, we can see with Jesus' own compassion, where he is directing our heart to love and to heal. We begin the week with such a great orientation. Jesus invites us to come to him with our burdens and the stuff that weighs us down and he sends us. He doesn't say we are not supposed to expect burdens. He just invites us to take up his burden, the ministry he gives to each of us.

Each day, following our pattern of focusing throughout the day in brief moments of conversation and connection with the Lord, we can consciously recognize the "calls" the Lord has given us and is offering us. And we can acknowledge them, accept them, embrace them. Of course, our primary relationships are all the ways we live our discipleship call. So often though, these relationships are where we need the greatest courage to be tender, compassionate and courageous in loving, in letting the Spirit speak through us. Let's ask ourselves all week: how can I bring healing and peace to each important relationship in my life? And, where I'm afraid, or resistant, or even where I've given up, that can be the place of the deepest and most important prayer of the week. It certainly can be the place we come to Jesus to be refreshed.

All week, we can try to be conscious of how our day-to-day work is part of our call from the Lord: to be an agent in the world for good, to make products, to offer goods and services to people, to coordinate human activities, to protect and defend others' rights, to heal others. Some of us are still available to be called to a specific work or ministry. This is a great week to ask for openness. Every one of us can find great meaning and deeper peace in placing what we do in the pattern of our response to God's call to us, through Jesus. When we do our work, we can thank the Lord for this work, ask to do it faithfully, lovingly, compassionately and justly. Some of us are struggling to find work that offers us dignity and a living wage. We can ask the Lord to send us to be his servants, with our gifts, and trust in his fidelity.

As we move through the week, growing in our relationship with the Lord all week, as we make this more conscious background moments of insight, recognition and connection, we can give thanks and trust that if we scatter his seed, with trust and with abandon, we don't have to worry. The harvest has his guarantee of abundance.

Purrs from the Pew Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief

This week, the summer kids have returned to the kitchen, and so have the smells! Brownies, cookies, and something cheesy have been waft-ing through the halls of St. Mary like holy in-cense. I haven't stopped sniffing since Monday.

I try to keep a low profile. Not because I'm shy, please, I'm magnificent—but because I know these kids. The moment they see me: "KITTY!" And suddenly I'm in a whirlwind of hugs, pets, and sticky hands trying to cradle me like a baby.

Sister Gracie, my beloved mentor in fur, al-ways said, "If you're going to wear the habit of Critter Patrol, you need dignity." She now lives in retirement near Disney World, where I hear she's befriended a raccoon and eats shrimp daily. Living the dream!

So, I patrol with grace. I nap with purpose. I supervise snack time from a safe distance. But every now and then, a quiet kid will spot me, crouch low, and gently say, "Hi, Sister Fluff." And just maybe, I'll allow a head pat. But only one. Until next week, stay paw-sitive and guard your snacks.

With divine mischief, Sister Fluff
