It's the Big One:

A Lenten Reflection on Urgency and Mercy

Just a week ago, some of the strongest storms and winds passed through our area. We had been warned repeatedly by meteorologists, including our own JD Rapp, as they sounded the alarm: "It's the big one!" I couldn't help but think of Fred Sanford's famous line, "I'm coming for you, Elizabeth!" That night, I had long-awaited tickets to see a comedian at the Enterprise Center in St. Louis. I had been looking forward to this for years! About twenty minutes into the show, suddenly, 10,000 cell phones lit up at the same time with the same urgent message: "Tornado Warning—Take Cover Now!" The reaction in the crowd was intense—some panicked, some froze, and others anxiously tried to decide what to do. But amidst it all, the comedian on stage remained calm, adding just a little humor to keep the crowd from spiraling into fear. He helped us stay focused and grounded, even in the face of an impending storm.

As I reflect on this experience, I can't help but think about the season of Lent. These six weeks are our spiritual warning system, preparing us for the biggest of big ones—not a tornado, but the ultimate event in human history: the suffering, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

For thousands of years, God's people waited for the Messiah. They were warned not by meteorologists but by prophets, signs, and wonders. And still, many failed to recognize the urgency of their time.

In Luke 13:1-9, Jesus addresses a crowd asking about tragic events. He warns them not to assume that suffering is simply punishment but instead to take it as a sign to repent. He follows with the parable of the barren fig tree—a tree that had not borne fruit for years. The landowner was ready to cut it down, but the gardener interceded, asking for just a little more time to care for it, nurture it, and give it another chance.

That parable is for us. Lent is that extra time given to us by the Divine Gardener—time to bear fruit, to turn back to God, to prepare our hearts for the Resurrection.

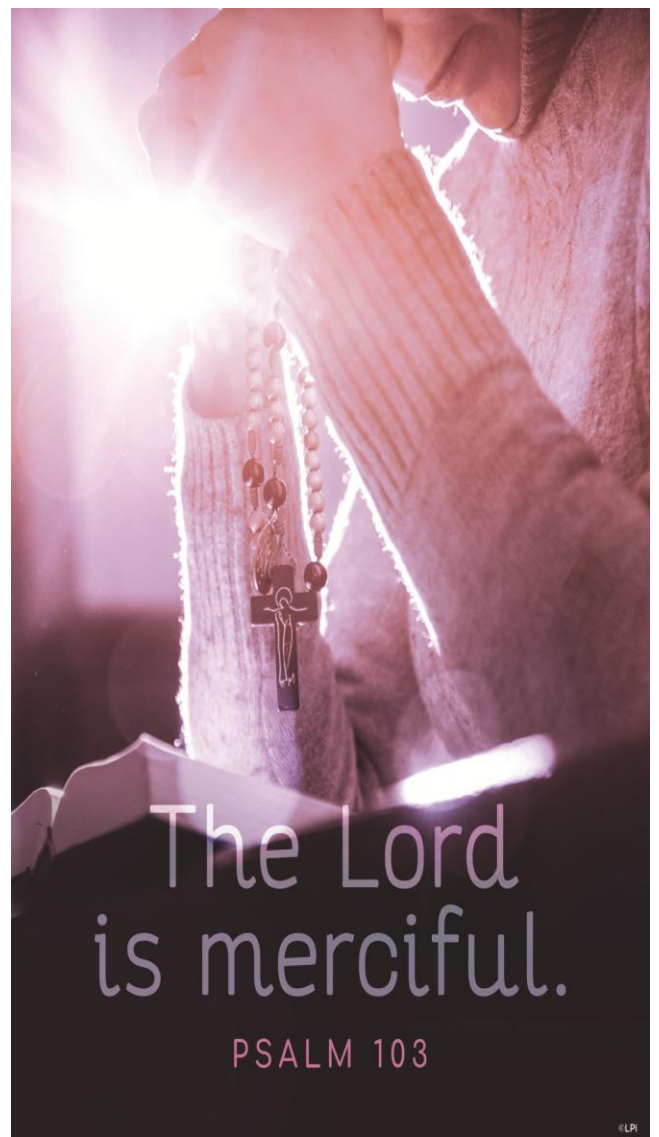

Like the tornado warning in that crowded arena, Lent calls us to pay attention. It's easy to be distracted, thinking we have all the time in the world. But the truth is, our time is limited. The "big one" is coming—not just Easter, but ultimately the day when we will stand before God.

The good news? We have a Savior who, like that comedian, remains steady even when we panic. Jesus Christ doesn't want us to freeze in fear—He calls us to trust, to turn back, to bear fruit in our lives.

So this Lent, let's take the warning seriously. Not in a way that leads to fear, but in a way that calls us to action. Let's prepare, let's repent, and let's trust in the One who is always in control. Because when the big one comes, may we be ready—not with fear, but with faith.

Respect Life Corner

“There is an everyday heroism, made up of gestures of sharing, big or small, which build up an authentic culture of life... Part of this daily heroism is also the silent but effective and eloquent witness of all those ‘brave mothers who devote themselves to their own family without reserve, who suffer in giving birth to their children and who are ready to make any effort, to face any sacrifice, in order to pass on to them the best of themselves’... We thank you, heroic mothers, for your invincible love! We thank you for your intrepid trust in God and in his love. We thank you for the sacrifice of your life” (The Gospel of Life 86).

Vocation Corners

March 23:

“I was in 3rd grade when I decided to become a missionary priest like those who served my parish in the Philippines. Little did I know that 20 years later, I would find myself thousands of miles away, ministering in the mission-rich field of western Oregon. Doubts and homesickness sometimes cast shadows over my steps, and I even took time off from the seminary for a while. When I look back, I can see clearly how God has journeyed with me, giving me strength through the sacraments and through people he sent my way... the grace I receive through my priestly ministry far outweigh the challenges”

Quote for the week: Sometimes it takes the worst pain to bring out the best change.

Third Week of Lent

We now begin the time in Lent when on the third, fourth and fifth Sundays of Lent, at least one Mass may use the Cycle A readings for the Scrutinies of the RCIA program. On the Third Sunday, that includes John's gospel of the woman at the well. (For more information, see Praying the Gospels of Weeks 3, 4 and 5.)

For those not attending the Mass with those readings, the Third Sunday of Lent offers Moses' encounter with God in the burning bush. The Lord promises Moses that he will lead the captive Israelites out of Egypt and into "a land flowing with milk and honey." Luke's Gospel tells us of Jesus' warning that we must be willing to repent now and that our lives could end by accident or through the evil of someone else. The parable of the barren fig tree reminds us of God's patient love for us, even when we show no signs of changing our lives.

Tuesday is the Solemnity of the Annunciation of the Lord.

Jesus challenges the people in his hometown of Nazareth to look at him in a new way - "No prophet is accepted in his own native place." In a fury, they drive him out of the temple. Peter asks Jesus the limits of forgiveness. Jesus says that we must forgive again and again. He tells the parable about the servant, who though forgiven himself, does not forgive his fellow servants. Jesus has come to fulfill the law and the words of the prophets, not abolish them. When someone claimed that Jesus must be using Satan's power to heal, Jesus responds "Every kingdom divided against itself will be laid waste and house will fall against house." When asked to name the "greatest" commandment, Jesus names two, thus putting together the necessity of loving God with our entire being and loving our neighbor as our very selves. The week ends as Jesus tells a powerful story of the Pharisee and the tax collector praying in the temple. I tell you, the latter went home justified, not the former; for everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted."

For the Fourth Sunday of Lent we read the powerful story of the Prodigal Son from Luke's Gospel. The younger son, who asks for his inheritance and spends it all, returns and asks to be a servant at his father's house. Instead he is welcomed home with open arms by his father who was filled with compassion, ran to his son and forgave him. The older son is jealous and will not share in the happiness but the father says to "celebrate and rejoice, because your brother was dead and has come to life again; he was lost and has been found." For Masses using Cycle A readings for the RCIA, John's Gospel will offer the story of the man born blind.

Daily Prayer This Week

This is a pivotal week of Lent. We can solidify the patterns we have begun or we can make a new start, if we haven't been able to get started yet. If we have begun to recognize what needs realigning in our lives and have begun to fast and abstain from some things that get in the way of our relationship with the Lord, then we are engaging in a struggle. We are likely uncovering resistance and experiencing our personal sinfulness face-to-face.

This is all preparing us for a deeper conversion, a readiness for reconciliation with God and the graces that will allow us to be a source of reconciliation with others. This is the time when we begin to see and experience how much God loves us at a new and more personal level. These graces prepare us to keep our eyes focused on Jesus in the weeks ahead - to learn from him, to fall in love with him more deeply and to be drawn to imitate him more completely. If we are just getting started with our Lenten journey, renewing our desires for these graces will be all we need to begin with a renewed openness. God does not need a lot of time to convince us of his love for us.

This is a week about God's love for us and our call to love others the same way. It is a week to keep our daily focus on naming a desire each morning. The day ahead will shape what we ask for as our feet hit the floor in the morning. Pausing to thank the Lord for this day and to ask for the grace to let our mind and heart be renewed in the concrete circumstances, relationships and obligations of our day. Throughout the day, we can then return to those desires in background of our awareness. Our request for the Lord's help is always there and our consciousness of it will help us make the choice we desire to make, to let go of what we need to let go of, to add what we need to add. This will take us deeper and deeper into self-awareness and a sense of our need for a Savior, who is right there to embrace us and give us the graces we ask for.

Spreading Kindness, One Thorn at Time!

During Lent, the 1st-grade students are embracing 40 days of kindness with a special project that encourages compassion and generosity. They created a crown of thorns, symbolizing sacrifices and good deeds. Each day, one student is chosen to share an act of kindness they have done, and in return, they remove a thorn from the crown. This meaningful activity not only teaches the students about the spirit of Lent but also helps them build a habit of kindness and empathy. Their smiles and enthusiasm show the joy they find in making a difference, one thoughtful act at a time!

St. Mary Takes on the Challenge: Let's Tackle Hunger Together!

St. Mary School is excited to participate in the Centralia High School National Honor Society's Annual Food Drive, joining nine other schools in a city-wide competition to help tackle hunger. This important event runs from March 17 to March 21 and encourages students to bring in non-perishable food items to support local families in need.

Each grade level has specific donation categories, ranging from canned vegetables and fruits to breakfast items, pastas, and side dishes. To motivate students, special incentives will be given based on the number of items collected. Students who bring in 5 items will earn extra recess minutes, while those who donate at least 10 items will be rewarded with an out-of-uniform day next Friday. In addition to individual incentives, there is a classroom challenge within St. Mary School, where the class that collects the most donations will get to choose between a pizza party or an ice cream party as their prize. On a larger scale, the top-performing school in the city-wide competition will be awarded a trophy and the honor of being recognized as the most generous school in the community. With several

St. Mary alumni participating in the National Honor Society and encouraging us to help, we have a great opportunity to make a difference. Let's come together, give generously, and support those in need! Check the attached flyer for details, and let's see how many items we can collect to help struggling families.

From SMS to Service: Thomas Steps Up for the Community!

It's great to see such dedication and community spirit in action. Thom-as (on the right) is not only an alumnus of SMS but also a shining example of what it means to give back. His continued involvement and leadership in efforts like this food drive show his commitment to making a positive impact. Alongside Eli (second from the right), who is gaining valuable experience as a CHS intern, they exemplify the strong values instilled at SMS and CHS. With several SMS alumni in NHS, it's clear that this community fosters service-minded leaders. Keep up the great work, Thomas! Your contributions truly make a difference!

Celebrating Birthdays with Sweet Smiles!

On Wednesday, March 12th, during All-School Mass, students and faculty with February, March, and April birthdays were celebrated in a special way. As their names were called, they stepped forward to cheers and applause, receiving a full-sized candy bar of their choice. From Hershey's to Kit-Kats and Reese's, the sweet treats brought smiles and laughter, making the day extra special. More than just candy, this tradition highlights the strong, supportive community that values and appreciates every student and staff member. Happy Birthday to all who celebrated!
