DO YOU FEEL CALLED?

Are you discerning the possibility of serving the Lord as a priest, consecrated sister or brother, missionary or permanent deacon?

If you are looking for guidance about how to discern answering the Lord's call, please join Fr. Godfrey Mullen, OSB, and Bishop Michael McGovern for a Day of Recollection. We will gather at St. Nicholas Parish in O'Fallon on Saturday, April 5 from 9:00 AM – 3:00 PM. The day includes morning Mass, two talks, reflection questions, group discussion and a period of Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. Light breakfast and lunch will be provided.

Palms in the Attic, Prayers in the Heart

Each year as Palm Sunday approaches, I'm brought back to one of those simple but sacred memories—receiving palms at church. As a kid, I always felt like I was handed something holy, something ancient. And I suppose I was.

In 1970, when I was ten, I helped my dad, uncle, and brother clean out the old farmhouse that belonged to Grandpa Lawrence and Grandma Gertrude. Grandpa had just passed, and Grandma had been gone since 1959—just before I was born. As we climbed into the attic, tucked into a quiet corner was a cedar box filled with what had to be hundreds of palms. Brittle, dry, aged by time—but clearly treasured. Grandma had saved them, year after year. They weren't just leaves. They were memories. They were prayers.

And just this past summer, I found myself doing something similar at my parents' house. Sure enough—Mom had her own palms, many of them lovingly folded into crosses. I imagine both of them—Grandma and Mom—holding those palms during the reading of the Passion, back when it was read in Latin, or quietly reading the passion narrative. Maybe Grandpa drove them home afterward, the palms resting quietly in their laps. Maybe they thought, like I do now, about Simon of Cyrene helping Jesus carry the cross, or the good thief who, in the very last moment, asked Jesus to remember him.

It's funny how something so fragile can hold so much strength. Those little branches remind us that even when life feels brittle or broken, we're part of a much bigger story. The palms that we hold today are blessed with the same words and prayers as those held generations ago. In a world that changes so quickly, it's comforting to know that some things—like the love of Jesus and the hope of Easter—stay steady and sure.

I wonder sometimes if Grandma knew, tucking those palms into her cedar box, that they would speak decades later. Not in words, but in whispers of faith. I like to think she smiled in heaven when I found them. I like to think Mom does too. Maybe that's what we're doing when we pass down these traditions—not just handing on a ritual, but sharing a piece of heaven's joy.

These are more than traditions. They're part of the great tapestry of Holy Week. So this year, as you receive your palm, hold it with joy. Re-member someone who once did the same. Display it, cherish it, pray with it. And let it lead you gently toward Easter morning—with memory, with love, and with a smile.

And maybe—just maybe—tuck one away somewhere special. Years from now, someone might find it. And in that moment, they'll not only remember you, but also the love and faith that shaped your life—just as Jesus shaped His final days for love of us all.

Because that's what these palms really are—they're quiet witnesses. They don't shout or sparkle, but they stand as gentle reminders that faith is passed on not only in great sermons or dramatic moments, but in small, consistent acts of love: a child watching their parent hang a palm behind the crucifix, a grandparent folding one into a cross, a family bowing their heads during the reading of the Passion. These are the holy echoes that shape our hearts—and they just might be the most powerful sermons of all.

"My desire to become a priest began when I received my first holy Communion. In that moment, I had a profound understanding that Jesus was truly present in the Eucharist and that it was the priest who makes Him present in the Mass. Serving at Mass as a child drew me even further into the mystery of the sacred liturgy. It is an otherworldly experience, as it should be; it is the most extraordinary thing that ever happens on earth! St. John Vianney said of the Mass "Martyrdom is nothing in comparison, for it is but the sacrifice of man to God; but the Mass is the sacrifice of God for man." Those words, which I came across in seminary, changed how I saw the liturgy. I have taken them to heart since my ordinations more than 15 years ago. As a priest, I stand in a special way with Mary and John at the foot of the cross every time I celebrate Mass. I feel so unworthy, but blessed, that God called me to the priesthood." Fr. Quote for the week: Some beautiful paths cannot be found without getting lost.

Beginning Holy Week

On Palm Sunday of the Passion of the Lord we make our way into Holy Week. We read the gospel about Jesus' entry into Jerusalem, Paul's invitation to us to imitate Jesus who emptied himself, and the whole Passion, this year from Luke's Gospel.

The next three days - Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week - are the final days of Lent. The first readings are from the Suffering Servant Songs of Isaiah. Though originally sung about Israel, God's servant, and perhaps a specific servant, they clearly spoke to the early Christian community about Jesus and his mission.

Monday and Tuesday's gospels are from John's Gospel. The anointing at Bethany - at the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus - has taken place at a wonderful celebration of Lazarus' return to life and a fine thanksgiving to Jesus. Mary anoints Jesus' feet with the precious oil that reminds us of his burial. Then, at the Last Supper (skipping over the reading we will use on Holy Thursday about the washing of feet) Jesus identifies his betrayer. Finally, Jesus talks with Peter who professes his loyalty to Jesus who predicts Peter would deny him three times later that night.

Wednesday's Gospel is the story of Judas' betrayal of Jesus, from Matthew's perspective. We can feel the tension and pressure Jesus is under. There is a sadness at hearing the arrangement Judas makes - 30 pieces of silver - to deliver Jesus into the hands of his enemies.

The stage is now set for the Triduum - Holy Thursday, Good Friday and the Easter Vigil.

Daily Prayer This Week

This is the week we call "Holy" because it is a memorial of God's saving deeds for us in Jesus. There is a solemn nature to this week. We might be tempted to be sad or conflicted this week. It is not easy to get close to the reality that we are sinners and our Lord and Savior went through this betrayal, suffering and death for us. So, sometimes, we avoid looking at this week closely, and praying with it, because we fear getting into our guilt.

The invitation this week is to come closer to the reality of God's profound love for us. Yes, we are all sinners. But, we are loved sinners. We are being invited to be grateful, not to beat our breasts. We are invited, in this spirit to feel all that we can feel this week. Yes, we will feel some discomfort - after all, we feel discomfort when anyone puts themselves through some sacrifice for us. And, the sacrifice here is the gift of his very self - so that we might always know how completely Jesus entered into the reality of our human existence - "even death, death on a cross." [Phil. 2:6-9]

This week we follow our ongoing pattern of connecting with our Lord, as early as we can each morning. For even a few moments we name our desire: "Lord, let me be with you this week and open my heart to feel what you want me to feel about your love for me, personally." Then, throughout the day, in many background, in-between moments, we can continue our brief conversations with our Lord as we relate this desire with the people and events of our day. Finally, each night, we can pause, perhaps before a crucifix, or placing ourselves in our imagination before the cross, and speaking to our Lord, friend to friend, the gratitude we feel for the gift of mercy and eternal life his love has gained for us.
