Knights News

The St. Lawrence Knights will have the annual Tuition Assistance Breakfast on Sunday, August 2nd to assist families attending St. Mary School in Centralia. Please use the enclosed flyer to help advertise the breakfast.

Jesus tells us today about another farmer. He scatters seed everywhere. Some falls on the path. Some lands on rocky ground. Some lands among thorns. Some finds rich soil and produces an abundant harvest. At first glance, it almost seems like the farmer is wasting seed. Yet Jesus reminds us that God's generosity is never measured by efficiency. God keeps sowing because He never gives up on the human heart.

There is a story that fits this Gospel well. It is called "The Cracked Pot" There once was a woman who walked each morning to the well with two buckets hanging from a wooden pole across her shoulders. One bucket was strong and perfect. It carried a full load of water home every day. The other bucket had a crack in its side. By the time the woman reached home, half the water had leaked out along the road. The cracked bucket felt ashamed and said, "I am sorry. I have failed you. Every day you work so hard, and every day I lose half the water." The woman smiled and said, "Tomorrow, as we walk home, look along your side of the path." The next morning the bucket saw bright flowers blooming all along its side of the road. The woman explained. "I have always known about your crack, so I planted seeds along your side of the path. Every day you watered them. Because of you there are flowers for the house, flowers for the neighbors, and beauty along the road." What the bucket saw as a flaw became a blessing.

Many of us feel like that cracked bucket. We notice our mistakes. We remember our failures. We compare ourselves with others and wonder why we are not stronger, smarter, or more faithful. Jesus sees something very different. He sees people worth loving and worth sowing into. He knows our weaknesses, yet He continues planting seeds of faith, hope, mercy, and love within us. He never waits for perfect soil before He begins His work. The question is not whether we have cracks. Every one of us does. The question is whether we trust God enough to work through them.

So, this week, spend less time worrying about your imperfections and more time letting God use your life. A kind word, a visit to someone who is lonely, a prayer for a neighbor, or a simple act of forgiveness often becomes a seed that grows far beyond what we ever see. God has always been in the business of bringing life from unlikely places. Sometimes the most beautiful flowers grow because of the cracks we wish we did not have. That is the Good News of today's Gospel. God keeps sowing. God keeps trusting. God keeps bringing forth a harvest from ordinary people like us.

QUESTION: Why do altar servers ring the bells twice during the Eucharistic Prayer?

Answered by Father Steven Pautler

ANSWER: The bells help us pay attention at the most sacred part of the Mass. The first ringing happens when Father extends his hands over the bread and wine. This is called the epiclesis. Father asks the Holy Spirit to come upon the gifts, so they become the Body and Blood of Christ.

The second ringing happens when Father lifts up the consecrated Host and then the chalice. This is the elevation. At this moment, we look with faith and adore Jesus truly present in the Eucharist. Think of the bells as a holy "Wake up, people" moment. The Church knows our minds wander. One minute we are praying, the next minute we are wondering what is for lunch. The bells lovingly call us back. Something sacred is happening. Look up. Pray. Adore.

VOCATION CORNER JULY 12, 2026

"I grew up loving two things: our family farm and sports. There was a basketball hoop in the haymow of our barn, and during breaks from working with the cattle, I would play pickup games with my brothers and cousins. I grew to love football, too, and was even blessed to play quarterback at the collegiate level for a year. But over time, another love quietly grew in my heart: a love for Christ and his Church. My parents instilled in me a strong work ethic and an unswerving trust in the Lord. My parish priest provided an example of real eucharistic amazement, an intense prayer life, and filial devotion to our Blessed Mother. Through their influence, I discovered that the greatest joy of my life was when I could draw others closer to our Savior. To all those discerning their vocations: Let His love conquer!"

The Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time is about God's fidelity. The promise of Isaiah 55 and Parable of the Sower from Matthew's Gospel remind us that no matter what obstacles we face as his disciples, as sowers of the Good News, God will work effectively through us. "But the seed sown on rich soil is the one who hears the word and understands it, who indeed bears fruit and yields a hundred or sixty or thirty fold."

Tuesday we celebrate Saint Kateri Tekakwitha, Virgin. Wednesday we remember Saint Bonaventure, bishop and doctor. This week, the first readings are from the Book of the Prophet Isaiah. The preaching of the first part of Isaiah contains powerful words about the infidelity of the people and the kings, God's sanctions so as to purify a people who would be faithful. On Saturday, we begin reading from the Book of the Prophet Micah.

In our readings from Matthew's Gospel, we read more about the challenge of being a disciple of Jesus. He calls us to a bond with him that is even greater than the bonds of family. "Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it." Jesus reproached the towns where he worked miracles, and the people had not repented. Jesus thanks God that, though the wise and the learned remain in unbelief, the childlike are open to God's grace and believe. Jesus says, "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest." Taking on discipleship we will find that it is easy and we will find rest in him. When controversy comes up about his disciples' picking grain to eat on the Sabbath, Jesus give a startling response to the judgment of the Pharisees: "I desire mercy, not sacrifice." Jesus leaves town when the Pharisees want to kill him to fulfill the Prophet Isaiah: "He will not contend or cry out, nor will anyone hear his voice in the streets. A bruised reed he will not break, a smoldering wick he will not quench, until he brings justice to victory."

This Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time we are reminded that God has sown good seed, but, of course, an enemy has sown weeds in the same field. We are not supposed to go out there judgmentally pulling up weeds, but to leave judgment to God. The way the Kingdom of God grows is the way tiny seeds grow and the way yeast makes dough rise: it is surprising and slow and almost imperceptible. If we have ears, we ought to hear.

Daily Prayer This Week

This week, we are invited to place our trust in God as we respond more deeply to Jesus' invitation to be his disciples. Being his disciple means being connected with him with a bond stronger than any other bond in our life. It may set us at odds with others. Seeking self-fulfillment will always be frustrating and unattainable. Letting go of ourselves for Jesus' sake brings a fulfillment beyond our imagining. It is not enough to be part of a wonderful family or an outstanding parish community. We need to repent ourselves and make our own commitment. Being smart and clever are not what is required of us. Jesus asks us to be childlike, that is, trusting, dependent, open to learn and receive. Being his disciples means that we come to Jesus in all our needs, especially for the resources we need to serve him. It is as companions of Jesus' own mission that the burden of our mission will become lighter and quite easy. Coming to Jesus will bring refreshment and peace. A sign of our discipleship will never be self-righteousness and judgmental of others. What he desires is that our hearts become like his: full of mercy and love. His own heart is moved with pity for those who are wandering, without direction, as though shepherd-less.

How can we find intimacy with God in the midst of our busy lives, while reflecting on our discipleship? By letting these precious messages of Jesus to us settle into our hearts. If we really hear them, they will become a part of us this week. It doesn't take much time. It takes a focus. Each day, we can let these words of Jesus interact with what is going on in our daily lives. For example, the call to be bonded with him might strike a chord in our hearts. That is, I might recognize that my bond with Jesus is weak, and I recognize a desire for a deeper bond. Or, I might be challenged by the invitation to let go of my need for self-fulfillment in order to really find real meaning in life and the true self within me. Perhaps I might feel the call to repent or to be more trusting and childlike or to be less judgmental and more merciful, as particularly addressed to me.

All we need to do is to begin each day simply naming these desires that the readings reveal in us. Then, throughout the day, in the in-between times - dressing, driving, walking from one place to another, finding myself alone here or there - I can have brief conversations with the Lord asking for these graces. In particularly difficult times, or in times when my weaknesses reveal themselves to me, I can recognize the desire more deeply and express that to the Lord, growing in gratitude for the intimacy and grace I am experiencing each day.

From Sister Fluff of Divine Mischief
The Parish Feline

Dear Parish Friends,

I have been staying indoors because this heat is no joke. My favorite window sill has become the perfect place to keep cool, watch the world, and enjoy a peaceful afternoon nap. I have also been helping the teachers arrange their classrooms. By helping, I mean moving things ever so stealthily. When they come in during the morning and say, "Who moved that?" I keep a holy silence, then giggle and snicker to myself.

I have also inspected pencils, supervised stacks of paper, and tested a few chairs for proper napping quality. Somebody has to keep the school in order, and I take my duties very seriously, especially when treats or open doors are involved.

Please know the classrooms are under careful feline supervision. Stay cool, say your prayers, and trust that Sister Fluff is keeping an eye on everything.

Purrs and blessings,
Sister Fluff
