monthly prayers for children

January

Dear God, my children are being raised in a culture where truth and morals are relative. I pray that my children would know the truth about You, and would follow You wholeheartedly. May they know and love the Bible.

February

Dear God, I pray for holy influences in the lives of my children. Please bring good friends into their lives who will hold them accountable and sharpen them.

March

Dear God, I pray for my children's vocations. May they offer You their lives. If it is Your will that they marry, I pray they would choose a person of Christian faith and that the strength of their marriage would come from a mutual commitment to God. If it's Your will that they'd have a religious vocation, I pray they would say yes, offering You their very best. Either way, I pray they would seek out what Your plan is for their lives, and that You equip them to fulfill their unique calling.

April

Dear God, please protect my children from evil. I ask for protection from sexual immorality, specifically pornography and promiscuity. Help them to use media wisely, especially internet social networking sites.

Dear God, I pray that my children would be leaders in their generation, holding high the causes of Christ instead of the causes of the world.

June

Dear God, I pray that my children would respect authority. I pray they'd respect their father and me, teachers, the Church, and other authorities. I pray that their ultimate authority would be You, and that they would surrender their will to You.

July

Dear God, I pray that any suffering in the lives of my children would be used to produce holy character. In my role as a mother, I desire to protect. Help me not to get in the way of Your work in my children's lives.

ROM
5:3-5

August

Dear God, I pray that my children would be people of integrity (being the same person when no one is looking). Keep them from the faulty belief that you can be one person online and another in reality. Keep them from an obsession with image. May they find their identity in You.

COL

September

Dear God, as my children prepare for another school year, I pray that they would have strength of character so they can stand firm against peer pressure and the devil's schemes.

EPH
6:14-18

October

Dear God, I pray that my children would have hearts of compassion. May they desire to serve and meet the needs of the suffering and marginalized. May they be focused on others and free from the mentality that "it's all about me."

PRV

November

Dear God, grant my children the wisdom to recognize Your truth and Satan's subtle lies. I specifically pray against the following lies: "What I do on the internet is my business." "It's harmless and doesn't hurt anyone." "Beautiful girls are worth more." "I have to perform to be loved."

JOHN

December

Dear God, I pray that my children would be careful with their words—not gossiping, exaggerating, lying, or speaking unkindly. I pray that their words would be pleasing to You not just out in public but also in the way they speak to their family members.
