When Margie Smiles 😊

At Sunday School they were learning how God created everything, including human beings. Johnny was especially intent when the teacher told him how Eve was created out of one of Adam's ribs.

Later in the week his mother noticed him lying down as though he were ill, and said, "Johnny, what is the matter?"

Johnny responded, "I have pain in my side. I think I'm going to have a wife."

Respect Life Ministry:

'In 2023 our nation will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the infamous Roe decision. Generations of Americans have now grown up not knowing what it is like to live in a country that values and protects the lives of the smallest, most defenseless and vulnerable members of its society. Fifty years, over 60,000,000 deaths and many more millions of scarred lives later, it is time for a frank and honest reassessment. Abortion not only kills the child, it deeply wounds the woman.' From: Before I Formed You in the Womb I Knew You by the Most Reverend Salvatore Cordileone, Archbishop of San Francisco

Ministerio de Respeto a La Vida:

"En 2023 nuestra nación conmemorará el quincuagésimo aniversario de la infame decisión Roe. Generaciones de estadounidenses han crecido sin saber lo que es vivir en un país que valora y protege las vidas de los miembros más pequeños, indefensos y vulnerables de su sociedad. Cincuenta años, más de 60.000.000 de muertes y muchos más millones de vidas marcadas después, es hora de una reevaluación franca y honesta. El aborto no solo mata al niño, sino que hiere profundamente a la mujer. De: Antes de que te formara en el vientre te conocí por el reverendísimo Salvatore Cordileone, Arzobispo de San Francisco

Faith Formation Corner

Control – This word is the bane of life. We try to attain it, keep it, let go of it, are confused by it, and don't truly always know what to do with it. Well, in my work, I have found there is a paradoxical truth. Not my truth, a true truth. The paradoxical truth is that: "The more control you try to get and keep, the less control you actually have; the more control you let go of (Good Luck- on a good day is a work in progress) the more you actually have. Sounds contradictory I know, but it is a truth. I challenge you to try it.

I have spent a significant portion of my 61 years attempting to keep control. I had no idea, until I was in my 40s that I could give up control. So the last two decades were, and still are, what I call, tilling ground. The Lord is constantly turning me over, and over again, giving me so very many opportunities to let Him have the control!! And I fall on my face over and over again as well. This “control” or “falling on my face over and over again” is what I liken to Peter walking on the water. (Matthew 14:28-30) I feel as though I am constantly attempting to “walk on the water,” although it usually looks and feels more like getting my face up off the ground. You know, those of us who are “super needy,” we have a harder fall, a steeper climb; I believe we also have a higher joy, a sweeter experience, a deeper feel.

Truly, the common thread here is the “control” part; the “doing whatever my way, the way I think it should be, or could be done.” The part where I “lean on my own understanding,” instead of leaning on the Lord.” I think our world is filled to the brim with people who are “in control.” I would even be so presumptuous to say that that may be the problem with the world, especially now!!!! I have experienced, time and time again, that when I can get over myself, and keep my eyes on Jesus, my anxiety level ultimately decreases, it is as though He parts the Red Sea (or my brain waves) and I can actually see His vision, His plan, His way. I have to admit though, that at the very onset of “letting go of my grip on whatever it is” I feel a slightly heightened sense of anxiety. When I allow myself to acknowledge this anxiety, and breathe, I can then get myself out of the way, and move my head (and eyes) up toward Jesus, and then “let go.” As someone who has to physically and emotionally work this, it can feel as though I am removing a part of my body and releasing it into the air and that can be a weird feeling for someone who is so “control friendly.” It can also feel as though my feet aren’t on solid ground, even if I am literally standing on ground.

I wonder if that was Jesus' message to Peter all along. Jesus would never have let Peter fall. Remember Peter requested to "walk the water." If you read this passage, Jesus did not contest Peter's desire. He simply affirmed Peter and let him step onto the water. It was only when Peter called out in distress to him that Jesus physically moved toward Peter. This does not mean that Jesus only waits until we are in distress to respond to us. No, I think Jesus prefers that we are in touch with him all the time, but notice, Jesus did not interfere with Peter's level of faith. He merely allowed him to experience his limited faith. We can only "walk on water" when we give up "our control," our own ideas, our judgements, our "should" and give way to Jesus. Jesus will not interfere with our insistence on having things our way, He merely stands waiting in case we need him, in case we call out to Him in distress, in case we give up our control and finally call to Him. What a thought, he, the Christ, merely stands and it is He, who waits on us. I don't know about you, but I trust Jesus more than myself. But, as I stated previously, I am a work in progress; see you "on the water" or "on the tilling ground." Blessings, Roz

Twenty-First Sunday in Ordinary Time/ Vigesimo Primer Domingo en el Tiempo Ordinario

In today's first reading, Joshua challenges the people to decide whom they will serve. Recalling God's faithfulness to them and to their ancestors, the people declare, "We also Will serve the Lord, for He is our God." May we, too, be mindful of God's gifts to us and renew our commitment to serve Him with grateful hearts.

En la primera lectura de hoy, Josué desafía a la gente para que decida a quien va a servir. Al recordar la fidelidad de Dios para con ellos y sus ancestros, la gente declara, “Por eso, nosotros también serviremos a Yavé: Él es nuestro Dios.” Que nosotros, también, estemos atentos a los regalos de Dios a nosotros y renovemos nuestro compromiso de servirle a Él con corazones agradecidos.

Gospel Reflection: John 6:60-69

Simon Peter confesses his faith that Jesus alone has the words of the eternal life.

For our Gospel today we hear the conclusion of the “Bread of Life discourse” in the sixth chapter of John’s Gospel. In the preceding verses, which we have heard proclaimed in our liturgy over the past few weeks, we have heard Jesus explain that he is the Bread of Life, given so that those who believe may have eternal life. This discourse follows the miracle in which Jesus fed more than five thousand people with five barley loaves and two fish. As Jesus has been teaching these things, John’s Gospel describes a murmuring crowd unable to accept Jesus’ words. In today’s Gospel, the crowd has dwindled in number, and John no longer references them, or the Jews. Instead John describes the questioning of those considered to be Jesus’ own disciples.

Today’s Gospel first records the response of those in the crowd who are described as Jesus’ disciples. Just as the larger crowd had struggled with Jesus’ teaching, these disciples also cannot accept Jesus’ words. Jesus is said to know about their murmuring. He responds by acknowledging their unbelief and by reiterating that only those chosen by the Father will follow Jesus to the end. John’s Gospel reports that many of those who had been Jesus’ disciples ceased to follow him at this point. The number of people following Jesus dwindled from a crowd of more than 5,000 to only 12 people. And it is to these Twelve that Jesus now turns his attention.

Simon Peter’s response to Jesus’ question as to whether those closest to him will also leave, reminds us of the reports of Peter’s confession of faith in the Synoptic Gospels. Peter announces, on behalf of all the Twelve, that they have come to believe all that Jesus has taught about himself: Jesus is the one from God in whom they have found the path to eternal life.

This conclusion of the Bread of Life discourse focuses on personal faith in the life of Christian discipleship. Each person must make his or her own judgment about who Jesus is and in doing so determine the way of life that he or she will follow. God’s grace invites us to be Jesus’ disciples, but each person must respond to the grace of God and confess as his or her own the belief that Jesus is the one from God. This faith then commits us to the path of life, leading us to eternal life.

Family Connection

When a child is baptized, the parents speak on behalf of the child in professing the faith in which the child is to be baptized. The parents promise to teach their child this faith so that they may one day accept this faith as his or her own. In the example of Simon Peter, we learn that each person must also make his or her own profession of faith in Jesus as the one sent by God to save us. We pray for our children as they mature in the faith that they may learn that Jesus alone has the words of eternal life and that they may choose to follow the way of Christian discipleship.

As you gather as a family, talk about promise that parents make at their child’s baptism to teach their child about Jesus and the faith of the Church. Talk about the importance of this promise to your family and about some of the things that you are doing to try to honor this commitment. In today’s Gospel we hear Simon Peter speak about what he has come to believe about Jesus. Together read today’s Gospel, John 6:60-69. Pray together that each person in our family will grow in his or her faith that Jesus is the one sent by God who alone has the words of eternal life. Pray together the Apostles’ Creed or the Nicene Creed.

Let them be filled with patience and joy in your presence as they wait for your healing touch. Please restore your servants to full health, dear Father. Remove all fear and doubt from their hearts by the power of your Holy Spirit, and may you, Lord, be glorified through their life, Amen.” Deja que se llenen de paciencia y alegría en tu presencia mientras esperan tu toque sanador. Por favor, restaura a nuestros siervos a la plena salud, querido Padre. Quita todo temor y duda de sus corazones por el poder de nuestro Espíritu Santo, y que tú, Señor, seas glorificado a través de su vida, Amén."
