The Dignity of Work

As we celebrate Labor Day this week, I have been thinking about how work has an inherent dignity. The task of tilling and keeping the garden, i.e. work, was part of God's plan for humanity before the Fall (Genesis 1:27-31; 2:15-17). The ability to work and to create are also part of being made in God's image and likeness.

And, since Jesus Himself worked (probably learning carpentry from St. Joseph), this means our labor is also part of our own growth in holiness.

All of this points to the inherent dignity of work; however, many of us find our work at times to be rather toilsome. Why is this the case? It has to do with the results of the Fall. As God lays out the consequences that will result from sin, He says to Adam, "Cursed is the ground because of you; in toil you shall eat its yield all the days of your life. Thorns and thistles it shall bring forth for you, and you shall eat the grass of the field. By the sweat of your brow you shall eat bread until you return to the ground from which you were taken" (Genesis 3:17-19).

Thus, in this fallen world, work has a toilsome and wearisome quality which makes it difficult to recognize how our work is an expression of being made in God's image and likeness. However, since Jesus worked He has restored, and even enhanced, this dignity.

This Labor Day, let's reflect on the God-given dignity of work. May the Lord make our work a genuine means to holiness.

Until next time, God bless you,
Fr. Matthew

Saint of the Week

Born in Catalonia Spain in 1580, Saint Peter Claver studied at first at the University of Barcelona and then joined the Jesuits. He became friends with fellow brother Saint Alphonsus Rodriguez who encouraged him to be a missionary in the New World. Accordingly, Saint Peter went to Cartagena, a city in present-day Columbia where he was ordained in 1615.

Cartagena was a center for the slave trade, and the young missionary knew where he could best serve God. He proclaimed himself, "the slave of the Negroes forever." As ships would arrive with their human cargo, Saint Peter and a group of interpreters would rush into the hold with food and medicines. When the slaves were moved to pens to await sale, the saint continued to work among them, communicating God's love with acts of generosity and teaching the Catholic faith. He also led missions in the interior, refusing the hospitality of plantation owners and preferring to stay in the slave quarters. He organized charitable societies and is said to have baptized and catechized more than 300,000 enslaved persons.

Saint Peter Claver died on September 8, 1654. He was canonized with his friend Saint Alphonsus Rodriguez in 1888, by Pope Leo XIII. He is the worldwide patron saint of African Americans and of enslaved peoples.

Labor Day Prayer

Good and Gracious God, You created human beings in Your image and likeness and gave us dominion over creation to be stewards of the land and co-creators of Your Kingdom. Jesus, You became one of us and labored as a carpenter. You ask all people — whatever our state of life — to follow you faithfully. Holy Spirit, bless all workers this Labor Day. May all our actions be animated by Your love, as we do all things for the glory of God. Amen
