GOSPEL REFLECTION

Trust in God—as the Rock of our salvation, as the Lord who made us His chosen people, as our shepherd and guide. This should be the mark of our following of Jesus.

Like the Israelites we recall in this week’s Psalm Response, we have made an exodus, passing through the waters of Baptism, freeing us from our bondage to sin. We too are on a pilgrimage to a promised homeland, the Lord in our midst, feeding us heavenly bread, giving us living waters to drink (1 Corinthians 10:1-4). We must take care to guard against the folly that befell the Israelites, which led them to quarrel and test God’s goodness at Meribah and Massah. We can harden our hearts in ways more subtle but no less ruinous. We can put our trust in possessions, squabble over earthly inheritances, kid ourselves that what we have we deserve, store up treasures and think they’ll afford us security and rest.

All this is “vanity of vanities,” a false and deadly way of living, as this week’s First Reading tells us. This is the greed that Jesus warns against in this week’s Gospel. The rich man’s anxiety and toil expose his lack of faith in God’s care and provision. That’s why Paul calls greed “idolatry” in the Epistle this week. Mistaking having for being, possession for existence, we forget that God is the giver of all that we have, we exalt the things we can make or buy over our Maker (Romans 1:25).

Jesus calls the rich man a “fool”—a word used in the Old Testament for someone who rebels against God or has forgotten Him (Psalm 14:1). We should treasure most the new life we have been given in Christ and seek what is above, the promised inheritance of heaven. We have to see all things in the light of eternity, mindful that He who gives us the breath of life could at any moment—this night even—demand it back from us.

GOSPEL REFLECTION

In today's Gospel our Lord tells the disciples and through them, all his followers, how they should conduct their lives on earth so that they would always be found in God's friendship when their call to judgment comes. This teaching of our Lord should make us all sit up and take serious notice. We may have let this world get such a grip on us that we have no time or thought for the world that is to come. For such foolish people, and indeed for all of us, today's warning is that our call to judgment will come on each one of us like a thief in the night, at a moment when we least expect it.

Take a serious look at your way of living today. Is your behavior in the home, in your place of work, in your recreation, in your relations with God—prayers and church attendance—and with your neighbor, it is such that you would change nothing in it, if you were told by God that you were to die tonight? If it is, thank God for it and keep on going; you are on the right road. If it is not, don't wait for God to tell you when or where you will die; he will not tell you. Put things right today, and then you need not worry when your call to judgment comes. Death will be graduation day for the good Christian—not examination day.

POPE FRANCIS' PENITENTIAL PILGRIMAGE TO CANADA

The papal visit has ended, and hopefully it has helped to heal the hurt of residential school survivors and First Nation communities. To help cover the cost of his visit and as a way to participate in healing and reconciliation, we have been asked to make a financial contribution to his visit. We will be collecting donations for the next couple of weeks. There are special donation envelopes by the main entrance for cash donations or cheques (made out to RCECO). You can also send an e-transfer directly to the archdiocese, (cfo@archottawa.ca, using 'Diocese' as the security word) or you can donate through the Canadahelps.org website (www.canadahelps.org/en/charities/archdiocese-of-ottawa/campaign/popovisit-to-canada-july-2022). Thank you for your support.

THE SAINT OF SECOND CHANCES

The feast of the St. Ignatius of Loyola is Sunday, July 31. In the movie Ignatius of Loyola, you will learn the story of the founder of the Jesuits, often called The Saint of Second Chances. It is an incisive and thrilling look at the life of the real man behind the legend. Through a life of many challenges, he would come to see the hand of God working in his life, shaping him into a loyal and passionate soldier-saint. Watch Ignatius of Loyola on FORMED at: <https://watch.formed.org/ignatius-of-loyola-1>

If you wish to have access to FORMED's vast library of Catholic resources and are not yet a parish subscriber, go to <https://formed.org> and sign up as a parishioner. Please contact Sandy Duff at apduffngb@gmail.com for more information or if you are having problems signing up.

Donations of supplies can be placed in the labelled boxes by the church entrances. Gift cards and Cash can be placed in an envelope clearly marked 'CWL SCHOOL INITIATIVE' and dropped into the collection basket or at the Church Office no later than August 28, so the backpacks can be given to the schools by the start of the new school year.
