CHURCH TODAY

King Charles visit confirms closeness between Catholic and Anglican Churches

On Thursday, October 23rd Pope Leo XIV participated in various events with King Charles III and Queen Camilla, including an ecumenical prayer in the Sistine Chapel, marking a historic moment in Anglican-Catholic relations.

The day included a private meeting between the two leaders in the Apostolic Palace and an ecumenical service in the Basilica of Saint Paul Outside the Walls, where King Charles was conferred the title of Royal Confrater of Saint Paul.

Father Martin Browne, an Irish Benedictine monk and official for the Dicastery for Promoting Christian Unity, whose work focuses on the Church's relationship with the Anglican Community, spoke to Vatican News, about some of the main elements of this historic day, especially the ecumenical aspects and the unifying theme of the care for creation.

A Series Of Important And Historical Events

"One of the most significant things is that an English King has not prayed in the same place as a Pope since before the Reformation, since long before the separation of the Church of England from the Church of Rome," said Father Browne.

Despite many English sovereigns having visited the Vatican, the last time they prayed with a Pope was 500 years ago. This historical event thus marks a "further development in the warmth of the relationship" between the two Churches. Father Browne continued.

The afternoon service in the Basilica of St. Paul Outside the Walls also represents the inauguration of "a new kind of relationship between the Basilica and the English crown".

With the King becoming a Royal Confrater, (a symbol of spiritual fellowship) he was "welcomed formally to the Basilica and seated in a very special chair that has been created for the occasion," which bears his coat of arms and the verse in Latin from the Gospel of John, Ut unum sint ("That they may be one").

"Traditionally, before the Reformation, the English sovereigns were known as the protectors of St. Paul's Outside the Walls. The Benedictine Abbey to this day still has a symbol of the British Order of the Garter, which is the highest order in the United Kingdom, as part of its coat of arms," Father Browne said.

Common Ground Visible Between The Churches

The Vatican official underlined that, since King Charles III also holds the title of "Supreme Governor of the Church of England," he wanted to have a "spiritual dimension" to his trip, despite it being a state visit to the Holy See.

For Father Browne, the King "clearly wished to express a closeness that he believes already exists and to make that concrete and visible" through the various events.

Additionally, both Pope Francis, with whom the ecumenical prayer had initially been scheduled in April but had to be postponed due to his ill health, and then later Pope Leo XIV welcomed this initiative.

"I think on both sides it's about recognizing that, even though there are remaining divisions between our churches, very serious ones on all kinds of issues that we will work on them in our various theological dialogues, as there is a huge amount of common ground, of shared faith, of shared spiritual tradition," Father Browne explained.

Both services of the day, he emphasized were "prepared very carefully in conjunction with the Royal Family and the Royal Household by us here in Rome, and every detail very carefully explored and discussed."

St. John Newman A Witness of Faith for Both Churches:

Father Browne underscored how in both the morning prayer in the Sistine Chapel and the afternoon service in the Basilica of St. Paul Outside the Walls, St. John Henry Newman was featured.

Continued ...

The hymn at the beginning of the former liturgy was written by St. Ambrose of Milan, but the English version was translated by St. John Henry Newman.

In the latter service, the hymn "Praise to the Holiest in the Highest" was featured from his poem, The Dream of Gerontius.

"St. John Henry Newman spent half of his life as a member, and later a priest, of the Church of England, and half of his life as a member and later a cardinal of the Catholic Church," the Vatican official said. He is "a very significant figure in the joint history of faith and witness of our two traditions."

The Church of England very strongly and warmly supported both his canonization and the recent decision of the Holy Father to declare him a Doctor of the Church," Father Browne underlined. In fact, the then Prince Charles attended Newman's canonization in 2019 and recently visited his rooms in the Oratorian community in Birmingham.

An Ecumenism of our Common Home

Another important theme that was especially emphasized in the readings and psalms featured in the morning ecumenical prayer was the care of creation. "This visit was originally arranged when Pope Francis was alive and they wished to honour the common commitment of Pope Francis and King Charles to environmental concerns on the 10th anniversary of Laudato si' publication, Father Browne explained, adding that Pope Leo welcomed the event, as he shares the same engagement for this topic.

FAMILY CONNECTION

One of the great gifts of our Catholic tradition is remembrance of and prayer with the saints. The Church offers us an official canon, or list of saints. On All Saints Day, we recall and pray with these saints. It is important to continue to tell these stories of saints and saintly people to our children so that they have ample models of people of faith for their own lives.

Together as a family, name and tell the story of a favorite saint. Together prepare a list of some of the traits that these people have in common (generosity, courage, prayerfulness, and so on). After preparing this list, read together today's Gospel, identify how the attitudes described in the Beatitudes are reflected in the lives of the saints and people you name.

Pray together as a family a Litany of the Saints. (For example, the leader prays, "St. Elizabeth," and the children are invited to reply, "Pray for us.") Include in your list the saints and holy people you name in your discussion. Conclude by praying that your family will follow the example of these people as disciples of Jesus.

DID YOU KNOW

All Saint's Day, also known as All Hallow's Day, the Feast of All Saints, the Feast of All Hallows, the Solemnity of All Saints, and Hallowmas, is a Christian solemnity celebrated in honour of all the saints of the Church, whether they are known or unknown.

All Saint's Day was formally started by Pope Boniface IV, who consecrated the Pantheon at Rome to the Virgin Mary and all the Martyrs on May 13th in 609 AD. Boniface IV also established All Soul's Day, which follows All Saints.

The choice of the day may have been intended to co-opt the pagan holiday "Feast of the Lamures," a day which pagans used to placate the restless spirits of the dead.

From the 4th century, feasts commemorating all Christian martyrs were held in various places, on various dates near Easter and Pentecost. In the 9th century, some churches in the British Isles began holding the commemoration of all saints on November 1st, and in the 9th century this was extended to the whole Catholic Church by Pope Gregory IV.

In the Western Christian practice, the liturgical celebration begins with its first vespers on the evening of October 31st, All Hallow's Eve (All Saint's Eve or "Halloween"), and ends at the compline of November 1st. It is thus the day before All Soul's Day, which commemorates the faithful departed. In many traditions, All Saint's Day is part of the season of Allhallowtide, which includes the three days from October 31st to November 3rd inclusive.

The Christian celebration of All Saint's Day and All Soul's Day stems from a belief that there is a powerful spiritual bond between those in heaven (the "Church triumphant"), the living (the "Church militant"), and the "Church penitent" which includes the faithful departed. In Catholic theology, the day commemorates all those who have attained the beatific vision in Heaven. The Lutheran branch of Christianity, on All Hallow's Day, remembers "those blessed fellow-believers who died in the Lord and are now at rest even as we wait with them for the Last Day and the resurrection of the body to eternal life with Christ".
