Today's Gospel Reflection

First Reading: Wisdom 7:7-11

Second Reading: Hebrews 4:12-13

Third Reading: Mark 10:17-30

In the Gospel Reading, a rich young man asks Jesus, “What must I do to inherit eternal life?” In response, Jesus says to him, “You are lacking in one thing. Go, sell what you have, and give to the poor.”

Selling what you own is a pretty radical thing to do. Just think what you own: a house, a car, a bed. And that’s just the beginning, isn’t it? There’s also the computer, the cell phone, the TV—and on and on.

Early in Christian history, people who sold everything they owned set up religious orders, so they could live together and share what they needed. And so Jesus’ exhortation to sell what you have and give to the poor is usually taken as a call to religious life. Understood in that way, Jesus’ advice to the rich young man is one of the counsels of perfection. It explains what you have to do to be perfect in this life.

But here’s a puzzle worth noticing. You don’t have to be perfect to go to heaven. You don’t have to be a member of a religious order to go to heaven. But going to heaven is what the rich young man was asking Jesus about: “What must I do to inherit eternal life?” And so the answer Jesus gave the rich young man should have explained to him what you have to do to get to heaven. A counsel of perfection is by its nature not an answer to the rich young man’s question. If selling all he has and giving it to the poor is what the rich young man needs to do to inherit eternal life, what about everybody else? Does everybody have to sell what he has in order to attain heaven? If you don’t sell everything you have, are you going to hell?

The solution is to think about the description of the man asking Jesus the question: he is a rich young man—his gifts lie in his wealth. There are lots of gifts, gifts of learning, of music, of many other things. But whatever a person’s gifts are, they are meant to be given back in service to the Lord. You cannot bury your talent—your gifts—in the ground and hope to please the Lord. Here is what you need to do to inherit eternal life: You need to follow Jesus and use your gifts to the fullest when you do.

COME JUST AS YOU ARE"

The world asks, "What does a man own?"

Christ asks, "How does he use it?"

28th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for one who is rich to enter the kingdom of God." —Mark 10:25

Jesus uses tough language that we may not want to hear. But, we are all called to be generous with ALL of our gifts. Not just the ones we pick and choose, but all our gifts, and especially the one that means the most to us! That includes our time in prayer to God, our talent in participating in parish ministries and our treasure supporting our local parish and other charities.

LET'S TAKE A MINUTE... By Tere Hunt

Edition #38

Do you want to become like God? Become a giver. When you become a generous person, it seeps over into your relationships with other people. It doesn't stop with just money. You become generous with your time and your talents. People who describe their lives as very happy or content "volunteer" their time to help other people, or spend quality time with others. If you were to choose whom you wish to spend your time with, would you want to be with a self-centered, obnoxious and greedy person, or with someone who is unselfish, kind, and considerate? Undoubtedly, you would desire to be with one who does not expect anything back. When you develop a life of generosity, you foster deeper relationships and cultivate sincere friendships. Being generous makes you happier because it strengthens and deepens your bond with other people. You are happier when you share. It's contagious! Giving enables you to connect with your divine identity. God, our supreme giver is exceptionally generous and we celebrate such generosity, that grace, when we expose that blessedness, that divine happiness that God wants all of us to experience. "God so loved the world that He gave His one and only son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

I keep telling my husband that my checkbook isn't overdrawn, it's underfunded.

TAKE YOUR PICK

The vast array of possibilities in today's world is both an extraordinary advantage because it can so enrich life and a bewildering encumbrance as we face weighty decisions. Many think that life in the past was less complicated. It might have seemed that way, but women and men have always had to face the same fundamental questions: What is life all about? To what shall I commit myself? And answering such questions has seldom been easy.

Today's first reading underscores the importance of discernment or wisdom as we search for answers. It insists that such discernment or wisdom outstrips riches, or even health, as the goal to which we should strive. It further assures us that in our striving for wisdom we will discover that she does not come to us alone. Rather, she brings all good things with her.

The Gospel passage tells of a young man in search of true meaning, of wisdom, of eternal life. Having valued the law and the way of life it offers a believer, he is dissatisfied. He wanted something more satisfying; something deeper. He is still struggling to discover what life is all about, to what he should commit himself. Jesus tells him that he will not find what he is looking for in his riches. Rather, he should commit himself to the welfare of others.

Unfortunately, this advice was too much. He went away sad. Even knowing that he was dissatisfied with his wealth, he still would not walk away from it.

—Sr. Dianne Bergant, CSA

Reflection:

Do you still cling to something that cannot fulfill your deepest desires? Why?

Pray for the courage to commit yourself to what might make life more meaningful.

[Jesus said,] "Go, sell what you have, and give to [the] poor and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me."
—Mark 10:21

Dear Padre,

I've been married to a Catholic for fifty years and would like to become Catholic. My parish's Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults runs from September through Easter. That's a long time for someone in her eighties. Is there any way to accelerate the process?

RCIA was designed to meet the needs of two main groups: those who have been baptized as Catholics or in a Protestant tradition but have received no additional instruction in the Catholic faith, and those who have not been baptized. Someone in the first group has a different starting point from someone who has little knowledge of Christ or who has never participated in a church community.

RCIA programs use an instruction process called catechumenate, in which people seeking to become Catholic (catechumens) experience a worshipping community, pray, and reflect on God's word. The catechumenate is divided into steps that are marked by liturgical rites; some parts of the rites are optional, depending on each catechumen's pastoral situation. Catechumens can be received into the Church at any time of year.

Talk to your pastor about your closeness to Catholicism since your marriage and how it has formed your faith. Together, you can determine the amount and type of preparation that's right for you.

Chaminade Scholars Program

"Being a Chaminade Scholar helped me to grow holistically during my undergraduate education. It helped me organize my priorities to ensure both academic success and spiritual growth. Most importantly, the program encouraged me to intentionally think about my purpose in life." —Andrew Ancheta, 21

If you are a high school senior and attend a Catholic parish, you could be eligible to receive up to 75% off tuition. Chaminade University is inviting you to nominate someone to be a Chaminade Scholar. Chaminade Scholars from a community of life and learning that provides each member with the support needed to excel academically, to pursue spiritual development and to thrive socially at Chaminade University. At least one member from each parish in Hawaii will become a member of the new class of Chaminade Scholars when school starts in August 2022. If you have questions about the program, please contact Brother Ed Brink, S.M., Vice-President for Mission and Rector, at Chaminade University, at (808) 735-4835 or email at rector@chaminade.edu.
