Easter Joy

The Psalm for Easter Sunday says, “This is the day the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it.”

Above all days, Easter is a day of joy.

But what is joy? The answer St. Francis gave to this question is famous. St. Francis said to his Brother Leo, “When we come to St. Mary of the Angeles [our house], soaked by the rain and frozen by the cold, all soiled with mud and suffering from hunger, and we ring at the gate of the place and the brother porter comes and says angrily: ‘Who are you?’ And we say: ‘We are two of your brothers.’ And...he does not open for us, but makes us stand outside in the snow and rain, cold and hungry, until night falls—then if we endure all these insults and cruel rebuffs patiently,...oh, Brother Leo, ... perfect joy is there!”

Whatever we may think of St. Francis' explanation of perfect joy, Easter reminds us that Francis' kind of joy is not the end of the story. At Easter, we celebrate the other kind of joy, the kind each of us longs for, when every tear is wiped away, and there is no sorrow anymore—no more suffering from weather or hunger or hurtful human beings. As we sing in the much-loved hymn at Easter there is only “the cross and passion past; dark night is done, bright morning come at last!”

When we ourselves rise to meet our risen Lord, in that bright morning we will hear the Lord say, “Come away, beloved. The winter is past; the rain is gone, and the flowers return to the earth” (Song of Songs 2:10-12). In the loving union of that encounter, all the heartbrokenness of our lives will be redeemed. That will be perfect joy.

If all we had was the joy St. Francis describes, our courage might fail us in this life. Easter celebrates now the perfect joy waiting for us when we and all creation are reborn with our resurrected Lord into the everlasting love of God. This is the day that the Lord has made. Let us rejoice and be glad in it.

Restoring the Cup During Holy Communion

Bishop Larry Silva has decided to allow parishes to restore Holy Communion under both kinds (bread and wine), starting Holy Thursday, April 6, 2023. The Church has always taught the doctrine of concomitance, by which we know that under each species alone, the whole Christ is sacramentally present and we receive all the fruit of Eucharistic grace. The Catechism of the Catholic Church (1390) states: "Since Christ is sacramentally present under each of the species, communion under the species of bread alone makes it possible to receive all the fruit of Eucharistic grace. For pastoral reasons this manner of receiving communion has been legitimately established as the most common form in the Latin rite."

—Office of Worship/Diocese of Honolulu

No one has ever become poor by giving.

Easter Sunday of the Resurrection of the Lord

"Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth."

—Colossians 3:2

Do you put God first in all things? Possession, money, power, ego can easily become gods to many of us. Do a quick check of what is important to you. Is God at the very top of the list? If not, our priorities need to be re-adjusted. Don't let earthly things become a god before God. This is also the first commandment — I am the Lord your God, you shall not have any strange gods before me.

LET'S TAKE A MOMENT... By Tere Hunt

Edition #15

Do you feel a slight tug at your heartstrings when you see old couples keeping in step with one another while still holding hands? Or when an elderly struggles to cross the street ever so slowly? It's difficult to accept when, in particular, the younger generation shrug their elders or show their indifference and consequently dismiss them by overtaking them on the street with an exaggerated sigh. Many see older folks as irrelevant because they are not up to date with the latest technology and simply reject their wisdom because they are not knowledgeable in this area. Well, news flash, kids, if you live long enough, you are most likely going to experience these problems too because no one lives forever! Our elderly should not be stored away from the rest of society, instead we should embrace them with respect, celebrate their presence, listen and learn from their life experiences because they have gone through unworldly grueling conflicts you may someday traverse. Your grandparents carved the path for your parents' smooth upbringing, sacrificed and toiled selflessly so you may enjoy the comforts you can't part with, so honor them with forthright courtesy. Calling on chivalry for the elderly: walk on the traffic side of the sidewalk, pick up the parcel they're struggling to carry, offer your hand when they're ambling in difficulty, be respectful when they flounder for words, and will you please give up your seat? Show that you care by blessing them, praying for encouragement of strength and special needs. They, too, are God's unique gift to us. "Stand up in the presence of the aged, show respect for the elderly and revere your God" (Leviticus 19:32) Let chivalry thrive!

A WORD FROM POPE FRANCIS

The peace Jesus gives us at Easter is not the peace that follows the strategies of the world, which believes it can obtain it through force...This peace, in reality, is only an interval between wars...The peace of the Lord follows the way of meekness and mildness: it is taking responsibility for others.

Learning “Alleluia”

I overheard this conversation in a coffee shop:

- Child: Mom, I wouldn't have to go to school today. I could stay at home with you.
- Mom: I know, Joe, but I think Mrs. Burns would miss you.
- Child: But won't you miss me, Mom?
- Mom: Sure, Joe, but I know you'll be back in the afternoon, and I can be with you then.
- Child: But I could help you in the kitchen.
- Mom: What do you think you'll be doing in school today? It's getting close to Easter. I bet Mrs. Burns will let you make bunnies.
- Child: Yeah, maybe Mom. I think my tummy hurts.
- Mom: Oh, I think it'll get better once you're busy in school.
- Child: Mom, couldn't I stay home with you today. I'll miss you.
- Mom: I know you will, Joe, but it's only for a couple of hours. How's your apple juice?
- Child: Ok, Mom. I think it would be OK if I stayed home today.

By the time they left, it looked as if Joe was going to school.

Joe was learning an important lesson in life. Sometimes we have to do what we don't want to; we have to go into what seems to be “the tomb of death” if we're going to find life.

Easter's Gospel is that of Peter and John going and finding the tomb empty. Curiously, they didn't become believers until they entered the tomb, until they entered death's home. It's how faith happens, finding life when we expected only death and recognizing the hand of God in it.

“Let us celebrate the feast, not with the old yeast, the yeast of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and trust.”

—1 Corinthians 5:8

Dear Padre

Why should I believe Jesus founded the Catholic Church?

What a great question, especially during our Easter season, when the readings at Mass are about how the early Church discovers its mission and identity. Jesus intended to found a Church to carry on His mission.

Jesus chose twelve men to accompany him and learn from him. He passed on His mission to them: “Whoever listens to you listens to me. Whoever rejects you rejects me. And whoever rejects me rejects the one who sent me” (Luke 10:16). Jesus called Simon Bar-Jonah “Peter,” meaning “rock.” Indicating His foundational role, Jesus said to Peter, “I will give you the keys to the kingdom of heaven. Whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven” (Matthew 16:19).

Throughout the New Testament, we read how the apostles in their turn passed on their authority to other individuals by the laying on of hands (Acts 6:6; 13:3; 1 Timothy 4:14; 2 Timothy 1:6). Initially, the only two orders were bishops and deacons but soon priests were also ordained to share some of the authority of the bishop and to be his assistants.

The Church would exist and do Jesus' work until the end of time. The whole Church, “the “Body of Christ,” as Paul would call it (1 Corinthians 12:27), would be Christ acting in the world on His behalf. The Church and all its members are to be “the light of the world” and “the salt of the earth” (Matthew 5:13-16).

DIVINE MERCY

The devotion of the Divine Mercy novena is prayed between Good Friday (at 3pm) and ends on the Sunday following Easter. The main purpose of the Divine Mercy chaplet is to save dying sinners. Even more significant is that Jesus dictated it in a vision to St. Faustina which she recorded in her diary in September of 1935. He directed this humble nun to pray it unceasingly, and attaching to its prayer recitation a myriad of extraordinary promises. So it is in that same manner that the Chaplet is prayed today worldwide. Pamphlets of the Chaplet of Divine Mercy is available in the back of the church for yours to take and encourage everyone to participate in.
