Faith's Darkness

Why does God stay hidden? Why doesn't God reveal Himself so concretely and physically that no one could doubt His existence?

God isn't hidden. We just don't have the eyes to see God because our eyes aren't attuned to that kind of reality. We are just discovering today that one cannot picture God to oneself in an image that has been carved out of the wood of the world.

We struggle with doubt because we can't picture God's existence, imagine God's reality, or feel God's presence in our normal ways. At a certain point, our minds, imaginations and hearts simply run out of gas, out of room, out of feeling, and leave us dry, unable to nail down the reality of God in the way we're used to nailing down most everything else. The reality of God is elusive to our conscious minds and hearts because we can't picture, imagine, or feel God in the usual way we do these things.

Why is that? We struggle with faith because the world is not God and we can't walk around the landscape of spirit in the same way we stroll around in this world. Why not? Precisely because God and the other world are spirit and we are being invited into a reality whose hugeness is beyond conception, whose silence is beyond language, and whose reality is beyond the physical and all that we can see, touch, taste, smell, and feel in the normal way. God is life, light, love, energy, vastness, and simplicity, beyond our categories.

God has a different metaphysics. Thus, it's easy to have doubts about God's existence, and not just if we are young and still over-enthralled by the reality of this world, its stunning beauty, the promises it dangles before us, and its overpowering physical character.

In a world where the physical defines everything, it can be difficult to believe in anything else.

Such are the dynamics of faith. Sometimes what feels like doubt and atheism (disbelief in existence of gods) is the beginning of real belief.

God's person and being are of a different order, beyond the wood of this world, and that over-powering light can feel like darkness.

Restoring the Cup During Holy Communion

Bishop Larry Silva has decided to allow parishes to restore Holy Communion under both kinds (bread and wine), starting Holy Thursday, April 6, 2023. The Church has always taught the doctrine of concomitance, by which we know that under each species alone, the whole Christ is sacramentally present and we receive all the fruit of Eucharistic grace. The Catechism of the Catholic Church (1390) states: "Since Christ is sacramentally present under each of the species, communion under the species of bread alone makes it possible to receive all the fruit of Eucharistic grace. For pastoral reasons this manner of receiving communion has been legitimately established as the most common form in the Latin rite."

Second Sunday of Easter (Divine Mercy Sunday)

"Jesus came and stood among them and said to them, "Peace be with you."

—John 20:19

Are you good at making people feel welcome? When you meet someone new, like a new neighbor, a new work colleague or a new parishioner, do you make them feel at home? When we make people feel welcome, we make them feel like they are included instead of being excluded. We are made for relationships—with God and each other. When you see yourself as a beloved son or daughter of God, you tend to see others the same way, too—just as God, Our Father, sees us.

LET'S TAKE A MOMENT... By Tere Hunt

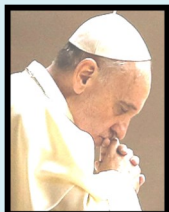

Edition #16

Honesty is a great virtue and living an honest life takes a lot of effort. Here lies the rub: often, to make life easier, we fib, we say a white lie to avoid hurting another or ourselves. Yet somehow in our culture, these mistruths are often accepted and encouraged in certain circumstances. However, no matter the minuteness or gravity of the lie, there are substantial consequences. Dishonesty is tempting to avoid embarrassment or punishment, but if you start believing the lies you purport to convey, there are long-term consequences that could lead to severe pain and suffering. You will have to face the challenges in the future as a result of the lie. When lying becomes addictive, each successive lie becomes easier so that one does not even have to think, it just becomes a natural habit. The deeper the layer of lying, the charade consumes you and you knowingly come to grips with a conflicted conscience. If you cannot be honest with yourself, you can never be honest to others. You are a tormented person. Don't you want to have peace of mind? Gain back the respect of others by developing the habit of honesty. Make a commitment to be honest with yourself, honor and appreciate the incredible things that makes you unique no matter how insignificant, then hold yourself accountable to your behavior, thoughts, and actions. Demonstrate genuine sincerity by following up on the deeds you promised to the end. Start being a role model to others by owning your failures. God forgives the most repentant, contrite and even the most wretched. Experience freedom from the restrictions of lies and LIVE fresh anew! "Whoever speaks the truth gives honest evidence, but a false witness utters deceit" (Proverbs 12:17)

The PABASA was a success! Mabuhay!

We started on April 6th, Holy Thursday at 3pm, and culminated in the blessed wee hours of Good Friday, at 6:07 a.m.! Commencing in the chapel at 3pm, then adjourned for the Holy Thursday Mass, we promptly reconvened after the Mass at the site of the MPR, with about 30 attendees. Visitors from other parishes joined us in the invocations, repeatedly taking turns in vocalizing the ancient verses depicting the life, passion, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Ample food and refreshments were available to keep us awake and nourished throughout the vigil. As the participants lessened, we trooped back to the chapel until we were whittled down to just 11 members, who, bless their hearts, battled the onslaught of sleep, fatigue and hoarse voices. We thank the valiant devotees who pledged their commitment to this religious tradition and hope they remain inspired to attend next year's night watch! —Filipino Catholic Club

The Gift of Doubts

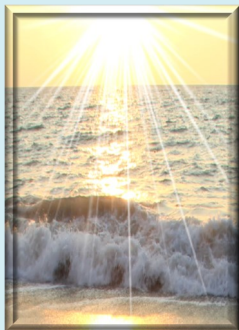

When people tell me they have doubts about their faith, I usually tell them that doubts can be a good thing. "Reflect on your doubts," I say. So very often the doubts bring someone to deeper faith and understanding. When people say they're not sure they believe in God anymore, often what they mean is that they don't believe in a particular idea of God, like the bearded old man in the sky or a God who "allows" children to die of cancer and "permits" wars that slaughter people.

What such doubts ask us to do is to rethink our understanding of who God is. Tossing out our old idea of God does not mean there is no God. It simply means we had a faulty or immature notion of God. It may take some time to rethink who God is, but if we stay with it, do some reading, ask some questions, and pray over it, we may come to a deeper and richer understanding of God. In short, because I don't understand how something can be does not mean something—or someone—is not true or real.

In this week's Gospel, Thomas, who was not with the community when Jesus appeared, later could not believe that the Jesus he had known was alive. He doubted. Yet when he was with the community the following week, he discovered that the risen Lord was indeed real but in an entirely new reality. It takes a community of faith to become a believer.

— Fr. Joseph Juknialis

Parish Community/Liguori Publications

Dear Padre

I am very curious why after His resurrection, Jesus told Mary Magdalene not to touch Him, but in the upper room, Thomas was encouraged to touch Him.

Saint John tells us of this incident between Mary and the risen Jesus. There are scholars who say that immediately after Jesus spoke to Mary He ascended to heaven. His encounter with Thomas, then, would be after the ascension, and the feast of the Ascension we celebrate forty days after Easter is simply a termination of Jesus' earthly appearances.

There is another explanation to consider, offered by other Scripture scholars. The word Jesus uses to tell Mary Magdalene not to touch Him is more like "cling" to Him. She cannot cling to her old relationship with Jesus. Since His resurrection, a new relationship is necessary. Mary was looking for the Jesus she knew before the passion, not the Jesus of the resurrection. She must now come to know the risen Jesus.

Mary could not cling to Jesus because she had to see Him in a new way. For Thomas, the situation is different. Jesus invites Thomas to place his hand on the wounds to prove that He is "real"—that He is really a new kind of being, a resurrected being. Thomas, in his way, also wants to cling to what he thought he knew about Jesus. Both he and Mary Magdalene were close to Jesus, but even so, there were things they still did not understand. Jesus always has the ability to surprise us.

A WORD FROM POPE FRANCIS

Don't be afraid of doubts, because they are not a sign of the lack of faith...on the contrary, doubts are "vitamins of faith": they help strengthen faith and make it more robust. They enable faith to grow, to become more conscious, free and mature. They make it more eager to set out, to persevere with humility, day after day.
