Today's Gospel Reflection

First Reading: Exodus 19:2-6a

Second Reading: Romans 5:6-11

Gospel: Matthew 9:36-10:8

Discipleship

In the Gospel, Jesus is moved with deep compassion for those who suffer. He responds by sending out the twelve with a bold task: Cure the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers, and cast out demons.

Being offered these readings alongside one challenges us to recognize that knowing we are beloved comes first—before any efforts of mission, ministry, or service. If we don't start with knowing our beloved-ness through and through, motivations get muddy. Rather than ministry being a freely given gift, our efforts can be driven by a need to prove our goodness and worthiness, to win praise and admiration. When we don't keep at our center the truth that we are God's precious possession, our attempts, to care can devolve into attempts to control. And this is a recipe for fatigue, resentment, and conflict.

Part of ongoing conversion as disciples of Jesus, sent out as laborers for the harvest, is growing in freedom.

Freedom to say “yes” to an invitation to service when we discern that we are called to share our gifts generously.

Freedom to say “no” to an invitation to service when it's not the right time or season for us to serve in that particular way.

Freedom to serve joyfully—whether those we serve respond with gratitude or indifference, appreciation, or annoyance.

Freedom to serve peacefully—whether others applaud us or ignore us.

Freedom to know we are precious just as we are—that while we are called to do great things, our identity as God's beloved is never in question.

Freedom that comes from knowing we are beloved comes first, and all our actions overflow from that truth that can never, ever change.

Remember how much God loves you. Jesus still calls us to cure the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers, and cast out demons. And we begin to respond to that call by remembering when we have been borne up on eagle's wings, when we have God name us as beloved, precious, and chosen.

for it is God who works in you to WILL & to ACT
in order to fulfill his good purpose.

ST. JUDE MISSION STATEMENT

We, the community of St. Jude, commit ourselves to Jesus Christ our Savior, His teachings and the Tradition of the Roman Catholic Church. With the guidance of the Holy Spirit, we embrace and nurture our culturally diverse community through worship, evangelization, renewal and service.

St. Jude Catholic Church now accepts electronic donations Give Electronically

Checking/Savings ♦ Credit/Debit Card Participate Today

Electronic Giving is a convenient way to provide consistent financial support to our church. Please contact the church office to learn how you can participate. Or sign up online: visit our parish website at www.stjudehawaii.org and click on the "Online Giving" button on the right panel.

For your convenience, volunteers will be available 15 minutes before and after Mass to process donations on the weekends.

To further enhance our services, we also have the attached barcode. Just scan this barcode-like QR code image with a smartphone's QR decoder, and it will instantly connect you to the mobile version of your web page, providing you a quick and easy access to your web page, without having to type out a long web address in order to locate your link.

The Eleventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

"As you go, make this proclamation: 'The kingdom of heaven is at hand.'"

—Matthew 10:7

Many of us take our lives for granted. We think we have plenty of time to "repent." Maybe we should live with a little more urgency in making things right with God. This is the difference in living our discipleship out of obligations versus out of love. Obligation implies we do the minimum required. Love implies we want a relationship. God wants us to be with Him in Heaven forever, but He also wants us to live Stewardship and to be in relationship with us right now, while we are on earth. Start this second—invite the Lord into your heart.

LET'S TAKE A MOMENT... By Tere Hunt

Edition #25

Today is Father's Day! A father's example of strength, honor, sacrifice and responsibility transcends. It is easy to overlook the impact fathers have made in our lives, so let's applaud their positive influence of unconditional love and guidance that endures within us:

Any man can be a father. It takes someone to be a dad. —Unknown
My father didn't tell me how to live; he lived, and let me watch him do it. —Clarence Kelland

Every father should remember that one day his son will follow his example instead of his advice. —Unknown

It is a wise father that knows his own child. —William Shakespeare
It is not the flesh and blood but the heart which makes us fathers and sons. —Johann Schiller

By profession I am a soldier and take pride in that fact. But I am prouder, infinitely prouder to be a father. A soldier destroys in order to build; the father only builds, never destroys. —Douglas MacArthur

One night a father overheard his son pray: Dear God, Make me the kind of man my Daddy is. Later that night, the Father prayed, Dear God, Make me the kind of man my son wants me to be. —Unknown

My father gave me the greatest gift anyone could give another person, be believed in me. —Jim Valvano

One father is more than a hundred schoolmasters. —George Herbert
A truly rich man is one whose children run into his arms when his hands are empty. —Unknown

A father carries pictures where his money used to be! —Unknown
I love my father as the stars—he's a bright shining example and a happy twinkling in my heart. —Adabella Radici

BUCKET LIST QUESTIONS

The Bucket List is a movie about two men, played by Jack Nicholson and Morgan Freeman, who find themselves sharing a hospital room, each diagnosed with terminal cancer. As they talk about the days that remain for each of them, they begin to discuss what they would yet hope to experience before they die. Hence, the title of the film.

At one point amid their many escapades together, Freeman suggests that God is going to ask two questions when they stand before the pearly gates. Nicholson hears this and grows edgy, suspecting his eternal future may be at risk. Freeman then tells him that the first question will be, "Have you ever experienced joy in life?" At that, Nicholson beams with a silly grin that suggests he is thinking more of pleasure than he is of joy. Nonetheless, he decides his luck on eternal life has been more about himself than about others.

Religion is not just about "going to church" but also about "going from church into the world." That, in a sense, is what Jesus did when he named the twelve apostles and sent them out to heal, bring life, and overcome evil. It is also what we find ourselves sent to do amid the scattered events of every week—to bring joy into the lives of others. — Fr. Joseph Juknialis

Dear Padre

Is there a right to health care? As a Catholic, what kind of obligation do I have to use my resources to help with the purchase of medicine for my brother? His insurance won't cover the costs, and he's on a fixed income.

Saint John XXIII's 1963 encyclical Pacem in Terris (Peace on Earth) said people have a right to live and a right to the "means necessary for the proper development of life" (11). This text serves as a foundation for the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops' speaking of a right to "basic" or "adequate health care" in their Ethical and Religious Directives for Catholics. What is not clear in Church teaching is who has the duty to ensure that right. In some cases, the state has taken this responsibility, but this need not be the case. The condition of millions of our brothers and sisters in Christ, however, urges us to action on their behalf.

Regarding the case of one's brother, the question is difficult because of the need for more information. What is the brother's prognosis? Is he taking care of himself responsibly? What do you feel capable of doing morally without placing yourselves and others in your care at risk?

Whatever one's responsibility to respond in this case, one's relationship with one's brother should be marked by compassion and a sincere desire and will to help in whatever way is morally reasonable.
