Glory in the Ordinary

From the ancient time until today, people have been mesmerized and enamored with glitz and glamour and with pomp and pageantry. Upon seeing Jesus being transfigured with His face like the sun and His clothes becoming white as light, Peter said, “It is good to be here” and even suggested to build three tents. Certainly, the magnificent display of splendor was tantalizing to the eyes and perhaps the apostles wanted the visual spectacle to last a little longer. Alas, the voice of the Father thundered through the clouds and their momentary feeling of grandeur turned into terrible fear. A few moments later, they saw Jesus alone and the same being as before as if nothing had happened.

Was there really a transfiguration? In the eyes of the Apostles, yes it was because up to that moment, they had not seen anything like it. Yet the glory of Jesus' divinity has been there even before the creation of the world (John 1:1, John 17:5). His glory was there when He was born in a manger. His glory was there when He was performing miracles and proclaiming the Kingdom of God. His glory was there when He was comforting widows and eating with sinners. However, just like any other human being, the Apostles failed to see the glory of God in the ordinary events of life.

A few days after the “Transfiguration” event, the glory of Jesus was on full display upon the cross on Mount Calvary but alas, the Apostles except for John, were nowhere to witness it. Peter, James, and John witnessed the glory of Jesus in splendor but they were not able to witness the full glorification of Jesus in shame.

May the Holy Spirit guide us and open our eyes to see the glory of God in the ordinary events of our life.

ST. JUDE MISSION STATEMENT

We, the community of St. Jude, commit ourselves to Jesus Christ our Savior, His teachings and the Tradition of the Roman Catholic Church. With the guidance of the Holy Spirit, we embrace and nurture our culturally diverse community through worship, evangelization, renewal and service.

St. Jude Catholic Church now accepts electronic donations Give Electronically

Checking/Savings ♦ Credit/Debit Card Participate Today

Electronic Giving is a convenient way to provide consistent financial support to our church. Please contact the church office to learn how you can participate. Or sign up online: visit our parish website at www.stjudehawaii.org and click on the "Online Giving" button on the right panel.

For your convenience, volunteers will be available 15 minutes before and after Mass to process donations on the weekends.

To further enhance our services, we also have the attached barcode. Just scan this barcode-like QR code image with a smartphone's QR decoder, and it will instantly connect you to the mobile version of your web page, providing you a quick and easy access to your web page, without having to type out a long web address in order to locate your link.

MIKE MADIX at (808) 349-5779

Not how much of my money will I give to God

but how much of God's money will I keep for myself.

The Transfiguration of the Lord

"...then from the cloud came a voice that said, 'This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased; listen to him.'"

—Matthew 17:5

When Peter, James and John heard this they immediately fell, prostrate to the ground and they "were very much afraid." We Stewards may respond the same way when we hear God's voice. How many times do you become fearful when invited to participate more fully in the life of the Church? Or, when someone says something negative about the Church, are you afraid to respond? Remember, we too, are beloved sons and daughters of God; Jesus is there to help us, but we need to listen.

LET'S TAKE A MOMENT... By Tere Hunt

Edition #29

Recently embarking from our family mainland vacation, I experienced an overwhelming realization that there is no escape from growing old. Whereas you spent your youth wasting time excessively, you now reach that point where you come to grips that the end advances faster than you wish it to be. Where firm, and nimble fingers once held calibrated instruments, her unblemished elegance striking in high heels now altered by swollen, calloused arthritic hands, ambling in a hunched, deliberate and lingering gait, my 91-year old mother struggles to keep pace with my unhurried steps, while softly humming an inaudible tune, she smiles ever so gently at me, keenly aware I could easily leap over the threshold if not for her frailness. Such an incessant reader, favoring romance novels, is delightfully amused when she stumbles upon a children's book idly stowed by her great grandchild. Meticulous with her medications, I irritably watch her pore over vial upon vials of drugs, gingerly dropping a blasted pill in every puka of her dispenser. Does she remember to take each one and must she? Conversations can be a thrill, futile if she fails to don her rechargeable hearing aids. Yet when you capture her attention, she is conveniently all ears! She gestures that I play the piano, intent on crooning the old serenades, amazed she still remembers the lyrics. She finds solace in her flourishing rose garden, harvesting her fruits, and patiently scans the horizon anticipating the sparrows' daily visit. Slowly tracing my father's name etched on his plot, she whispers a silent prayer and I turn away so she may have her moment. They say you grow up to be like your parents and if what you witness are vestiges of your future, embrace them! Relish enjoying these precious interludes. THANK HIM over and over for blessing you with the gift of such a magnificent creature.

THE GIFT OF MYSTERY

In life there are moments that some call transcendence, when the divine shines through the human and the veil that seems to cloak another world falls ever so briefly to reveal that there are not two worlds but only one wrapped in mystery. That is what took place on a mountaintop when Peter, James, and John realized that this Jesus with whom they talked and walked and shared meals, this friend, this very ordinary one, was so much more, was extraordinary, was “of God.” While real, it seemed better not to tell anyone about what they had seen.

Are there also moments in our lives when the human glows with the divine, when we come to realize more clearly than ever before that there is another power at play in life than you yourself? Most assuredly. While we are powerless to create such experiences of transcendence, more than 100 years ago the psychologist William James described such moments when they occur. He identified four qualities in such experiences: 1) they seem closer to being emotional than intellectual or cognitive; 2) they tend to bring us new understandings of life and of what is, akin to insights, though they cannot be found in a book or be taught; 3) they tend to be very brief, a few seconds for most people; and 4) there is a sense of being sustained by a superior power. This was the apostles’ experience of the transfiguration, the feast we celebrate today.

Reflect

Have you had an experience of the transcendent that changed you?

— Fr. Joseph Juknialis

Parish Community/Liguori Publications

Dear Padre

For the past year or so I have been trying to pray on a regular basis, but I am constantly distracted. My mind wanders so easily. Do you have any suggestions?

Distractions in prayer are an inescapable part of the human condition and the result of our imagination. Even great saints experienced distractions in prayer, and some of their suggestions may help. When St. Therese of Lisieux struggled with prayer, she would recite an Our Father or a Hail Mary or read from the Gospels. Praying an act of faith or returning to God’s presence and love can turn our focus away from other concerns, but even then, distractions may still arise.

When we become aware of them, we should calmly renew our focus and continue our prayer. Saint Teresa of Avila offers this guidance: “We should not be distressed by reason of our thoughts, nor allow ourselves to be worried by them...The thing is inevitable, therefore do not let it disturb or grieve you” (The Interior Castle). No matter how often distractions return or how long they last, they are not sinful. Rather, they are opportunities to show God that we are sincere about praying.

Saint Alphonsus, another great teacher of prayer, reminds us that prayer is necessary, beneficial, and always possible. Hang in there, he says, because the devil would like nothing better than for you to stop praying.

Don't allow anything to interfere with your love for Jesus.
You belong to Him.
That one sentence is important to remember.
He will be your joy, your strength.

If you hold onto that sentence, temptations and difficulties will come, but nothing will break you.
Remember, you have been created for great things.
