Giving Birth to God

Can you prove that God exists? At least not in a way that would compel anyone to make an act of faith on the basis of a scientific agreement. God can't be proven in that way. The existence of God can't be empirically proven because God doesn't work that way. God doesn't appear in the world as the conclusion to a mathematical equation.

That also describes how faith is born in our lives. God never dynamites His way into our lives with a force so powerful that we can't resist. The divine never takes us by storm. God always enters the world in the same way that Jesus did on the first Christmas. God is conceived in a womb and appears as a helpless infant that has to be picked up, nurtured, and coaxed into adulthood. The presence of God in our world depends upon a certain human consent and cooperation. For God to take on real flesh and power in the world we must first do something. What?

The answer to that lies in the way Jesus was born. Mary, Jesus' mother, shows us a certain blueprint, a pattern of how God is born into our world and how faith is born in our lives. What's the pattern? When we look at how Mary gave birth to Jesus, we see there are four moments in the process: (1) Impregnation by the Holy Spirit: Mary so let the seed of God's spirit take root in her that it began to grow into actual flesh; (2) gestation of God within one's body and soul: Mary's flesh began to give physical sustenance to the life of God and this grew into a child which demanded to be born into the world; (3) Stretching and agony of giving birth: Mary experienced the normal birth-pains common to all mothers; (4) nurturing of an infant into adulthood: Mary gave birth to a baby she nurtured as an infant into adulthood. What's implied in each of these?

Looking at how Mary gave birth to Christ, we are given a blueprint that invites imitation not admiration. Mary is the model of faith. What she did each of us is called upon to do, namely, give birth to God in our lives. Christmas is for marveling at what once took place, but it's also for imitation, for continuing to give God flesh in the world. How do you prove to anyone, yourself included, that God exists? You don't.

The object of our faith and worship doesn't appear as a compelling proof at the end of a scientific experiment. God has to be gestated, conceived, conceptualized into the world the same way Mary did at the first Christmas.

REGISTRATION CLOSED! CLASSES ALREADY ONGOING.

ST. JUDE MISSION STATEMENT

We, the community of St. Jude, commit ourselves to Jesus Christ our Savior, His teachings and the Tradition of the Roman Catholic Church. With the guidance of the Holy Spirit, we embrace and nurture our culturally diverse community through worship, evangelization, renewal and service.

St. Jude Catholic Church now accepts electronic donations Give Electronically

"They fell down and worshipped him. Then they opened their treasures and offered him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh."

—Matthew 2:11

Notice the order of events in the Magi's visit. First, they knelt before Jesus and prayed to Him. Then they presented Him with their gifts. We, too, as Christian Stewards, must take time to pray before we present our gifts to the Lord. We never know what God may be asking us to share!

LET'S TAKE A MOMENT... By Tere Hunt

Edition #1

What if that was your last Christmas; your last holiday and you would no longer be around to see next Christmas, what would you do differently? What legacy would you leave to your families or organizations you've supported the whole while? Death: a state few wish to consider but one which will eventually become a reality for us. Despite your magnanimous plans, your existence will end. We will all perish someday, every last one of us—yet your mind lingers on what your final moments will hold. By learning to accept death, we can live. Don't pretend death doesn't exist; accept the reality and acknowledge its presence within you, then stirring past the fear of it might help you understand life and live it to the fullest for the first time. Cultivate the time you have left, accept the lessons which will make the remainder of your life not just a series of fleeting days, but intensely alive. LOVE YOURSELF, be kind to you. Forgive your failures. If you cannot complete a task, let go of the pressure of imperfection. Just do the best you can. You will find instances in your life that truly matters. Stop wasting your time toiling long hours, worrying over others' responsibilities. Make room for YOUR priorities and gain richness in your life. Business obligations will pass and money will dissolve. LOVE PEOPLE MORE. Love the people in your life with all your heart and mind and soul. Lunch with a friend or loved one instead of sending holiday mass texts! Take this opportunity to humble yourself, empty the burden of bitterness you've harnessed and make amends with those you've scorned. PRACTICE GRATITUDE. Thank those who served you, celebrate their loyal actions too. Concede the brief journey you have left, your view of life may help transition you to "the other life." And by other life, it's the life guaranteed to us since we entered into this world and sustained throughout our brief survival, the assurance of joining our Great Maker who awaits our rightful place beside Him bound for everlasting life, pain-free.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT FROM DIOCESE OF HONOLULU

(Hawaii Catholic Herald, 12/22/23)

"In order to safeguard the sacredness of the Holy Eucharist, Bishop Silva has forbidden that the Eucharist be given to anyone presenting a pyx (see picture) in the Communion line. Only those who are authorized by the parish priest to take Holy Communion to the sick may receive the Eucharist from the priest AFTER the Communion of the faithful, and NEVER DURING the Communion procession." Thank you for your cooperation.

THE SEEKERS

I live at a parish in downtown Milwaukee. From my window I watch the world pass by, everyone below in search of one thing or another. Students from the local university seek an education, business folk look for a sale, street people often look for a place to spend the night, teenagers hope to find love. Yet beneath all of those longings, in each one there is a deeper hunger that wonders what life is all about and the hope that they might find it. Hidden amidst it all, the real hunger is for God, a longing sewn into our being, sometimes recognized but too often not.

The story of the Magi is a story of seekers making their way from afar in hopes of finding the promised one, a newborn king. Perhaps they knew of this child's divine nature, more likely not, yet it was ultimately that same hunger that exists in all of us that drove them, a deep desire to know God.

Every serious religion seeks to experience God in life and tells the stories of those who have done so. There are Christian mystics like ST. John of the Cross and St. Teresa of Avila, Jewish mystics of the Kabbalah tradition, the Sufis of Islam, Native Americans who go on vision quests, the Hindus who practice yoga, as well as the Buddhists and Taoists and Confucians. Like the Magi, we all seek to find God.

Does it make sense to you to say that your deepest hunger is for God?

Arise! Shine, for your light has come, the glory of the LORD has dawned upon you.

Dear Padre

On what date was Jesus born?
Was it December 25 or some time between December and April, when shepherds watched over their sheep?

Due to the complexity of history's various calendars and ways of calculating time, we cannot be sure of the date. Matthew and Luke, the two Gospels that detail the birth of Jesus, do not give a date.

Early Christians observed an annual feast to remember Jesus' death and resurrection, focusing on the paschal mystery rather than on His birth. As Christianity grew and spread, however, Christians wanted to celebrate more events from Jesus' life. The celebration on December 25 has more to do with an expression of faith in Jesus as Emmanuel, "God with us," than with establishing the exact date of His birth.

December 25 is listed as the date of Jesus' birth in a fourth-century calendar of martyrs, but how this date was chosen is unclear. Some scholars believe Christians in Rome chose December 25 to counteract the celebration of the pagan sun god Emesa. Another theory follows the influences of the seasons: early Christians believed John the Baptist was conceived on the autumnal equinox and born at the summer solstice. In Luke's Gospel, Jesus' conception took place six months after John's. That time line would place Jesus' birth at the winter solstice, December 25 on the Julian calendar. A third theory says Jesus' birth would have occurred on the same date as His death, which we believe to be in the spring at Passover. Regardless of the exact date, we celebrate Jesus as the true Son of God who came to enlighten us and, by His death and resurrection, to give us life.

The Epiphany of the Lord

In 1975, Cardinal John O'Connor, archbishop of New York, penned a headline in the local Catholic New York paper: "Help Wanted: Sisters of Life." He wanted a religious community of women who would give themselves fully to the protection and enhancement of the sacredness of every human life, beginning with the more vulnerable. Eight sisters founded the new order on June 1, 1991, which has grown to more than 100 sisters in New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Colorado, Arizona, and the District of Columbia.

On August 1, 2023, the Knights of Columbus awarded Mother Agnes Mary Donovan, Mother Superior, the Gaudium et Spes Award, the highest honor given by the Knights. She is the 13th recipient of this honor. The sisters continue to operate a crisis pregnancy hotline, welcome pregnant women into their homes and care for their babies after birth. They also host post-abortion healing retreats and accompany young adults contemplating an abortion. Through continual prayers and fasting, the Sisters of Life continue their mission of saving lives.

You are cordially invited to a presentation by the Sisters of Life. Meet Sister Veronica and Sister Amata. Join us Monday, Jan. 15th at St. Stephen's at Nuuanu from 5-8pm. Potluck RSVP to vstreff@rcchawaii.org

SAY "Amen!"

The proper form when receiving Communion is to reply "Amen" AFTER the Eucharistic minister raises the Host or Chalice and pronounces it, "The Body (or Blood) of Christ." By responding this way, you openly state your belief in the presence of Christ in the Eucharistic bread and wine as well as in His Body, the Church.

CELEBRATE LIFE!

January is the month during which our Church celebrates life. This is when we take time to recognize that we are all reflections of God and have great value in His eyes from the moment of conception to a natural death.

Celebrating life means being pro-human every day of the year. Your life is your message to the world. Make sure it's inspiring!

"For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former things shall not be remembered or come into mind" (Isaiah 65:17).
