Benchmarks:³

Weekly Goal⁴: $20,400.00
Fiscal Year-to-date Receipts / Budgeted:
$989K / $856K
Mortgage Capital Reserve⁵:
$4,097,004.86 / $10M
Moving Monthly Mortgage Allocation⁶:
$27K / $64K

² Including Mass intentions, sacramental offerings, blessings, outreach & candles, etc.

⁴ Proposed Updated Budget divided by 52 weeks; weekly collection amounts can vary according to season and celebration (e.g. Christmas collection, Easter Collection, etc.).

⁶ Shared for informational purposes only, updated annually, and subject to change; the $27K is the monthly mortgage amount that St. Jude can currently afford based on present financial situation and mortgage assumptions; the $64K is the goal amount required to afford a $10M loan, which is a rough estimate of the loan amount necessary in order to complete building a new Church building/campus at the Leihano property; $27K will be allocated each month into the Mortgage Capital Reserve for Fiscal Year beginning on July 1, 2025 and ending on June 30, 2026; this amount may increase or decrease in the next fiscal year.

FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

"The stone which the builders rejected has become the cornerstone."

—1 Peter 2:7

Every steward has been given gifts from the Holy Spirit. These are called "charisms" and they are used to build God's kingdom of earth. While many people are able to recognize their natural talents and abilities, they may be unsure of their charisms. If you know someone who is struggling for a direction in life, give them a little encouragement. Help them discern their charisms and how God is calling them to use them. Remember - no gift is too small or insignificant in God's salvation plan.

Diocese Annual Appeal for FY 2026 St Jude Goal: $55,593.00

LET'S TAKE A MOMENT... By Tere Hunt

Edition #17

"Do not judge, or you too will be judged. For in the same way you judge others, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you. Why do you look at the speck of sawdust in your brother's eye and pay no attention to the plank in your own eye? How can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' when all the time there is a plank in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the plank out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye." — Matthew 7:1-5

Most Christians bring this passage up when someone is doing something wrong. Often, the reply is, "Who am I to judge?" The belief is that we are all sinners, so God is not okay with us to judge. While the passage seems like a ban against all forms of judgment, it is really a warning against hypocritical judgment. Jesus tells us that we cannot judge others when we are guilty of the same sin! If you read the full passage, Jesus is calling out those for improper judgment. We are not called to judge, yet sadly it's a natural tendency. First look at ourselves and focus on the changes we should make—not on other's faults. If we find ourselves constantly looking at the sin of others, we are turning a blind eye to our own sin. We can't take the speck out of someone else's eye until we take the plank out of our own eye. Likewise, we cannot condemn others for their sins by judging them. When we do, we are committing an even bigger sin. Look first at our own sin before we judge the sin of others. Confront the sin of others with truth, respect and love. If we are judging, we are missing God's call to love others. In reality, we will all be judged by the same measure that we apply ourselves. If we cannot apply this standard to our own lives, there is no way we can or should apply this standard to others.

Please join us on the Saturday of Mother's Day weekend, as we come together in faith to honor our Blessed Mother Mary.

Our celebration will include a joyful May Crowning and the prayer of the Rosary, lifting our hearts in gratitude and seeking her loving intercession for our families.

As part of our cherished tradition, we will present her with fresh flowers, a simple yet heartfelt offering.

This is a time to unite as a community, lifting our hearts in prayer and seeking Mary's intercession for our families.

All are welcome to share in this sacred moment of gratitude and grace. Let us gather in faith and unity to celebrate the gentle presence of our Mother, who always leads us closer to her Son.

There is a Season for Everything

By Ron Rolheiser, OMI *

A friend of mine likes to explain his religious background this way: "I have powerful conservative roots. I was raised in a very strong conservative, Roman Catholic, immigrant, German farming family, with all the inhibitions, protectiveness, exclusivity, and reticence that this entailed. It would be hard to find a more strongly conservative religious background than mine. And I'm grateful for that. It's one of the greatest gift you can be given. Now I'm free for the rest of my life!"

There is something both healthily conservative and healthily liberal in that assessment. The instinct within the liberal wants to push edges, to widen the circle, to move away from narrowness, to be more inclusive, to not always see the other as threat, and to protect the ineffability of God and God's universal salvific will. Whereas the conservative intuits the necessity of being rooted in truth, in grounding yourself in the essentials, in having proper boundaries, and in not being naive to the fact that everything that's precious and true will invariably be under attack.

Both protect the soul. The soul, as we know, has two functions which are often in tension with each other. On the one hand, the soul is the source of all energy inside of us, the fire that fuels everything we do. We know the precise moment when the soul leaves a body. All energy ceases. On the other hand, the soul is also the source of unity and integration. It glues one together. Decomposition begins the very second the soul leaves the body. Without the soul, every element goes its own way.

The liberal instinct is mostly about the fire, the conservative instinct is mostly about the glue. The story of the man who was raised in such a strong conservative background and who now feels rooted enough to be more liberal illustrates that both are necessary. There is a time to be liberal and there is a time to be conservative and it is important that we know which time is right both as regards to our own growth and as regards to the growth of others.

Malcolm X once said something to this effect: I have a strong allegiance to both Christ and Muhammad because we need them both. Right now, so many of the men to whom I am trying to minister need the discipline of Allah. Their lives are in such disrepair that they need clear, hard rules of discipline that are spelled out for them without ambiguity. Later on, once they have their lives more in order, they can turn more to the liberal love of Jesus. First we need the discipline of Allah, later the freedom of Jesus.

He understood that there are stages to the spiritual life and that what is needed in one stage will sometimes be very different than what is needed in another. What are the basic stages of the spiritual life?

The gospels, the mystics and the great spiritual writers, with some variation in how they express this, concur that there are three clear stages to the spiritual journey or, in another way of putting it, three levels of discipleship:

The first level, which might aptly be termed, Essential Discipleship, is about essentials, the struggle to get our lives together, to achieve basic human maturity (which itself might be defined as the capacity for essential unselfishness, the capacity to put others before ourselves). That task is mainly conservative: learning proper teaching so as to have a healthy vision, submitting to rules of behavior that ground us and move us beyond our instinctual selfishness, and being a learner within family and church community. Metaphorically speaking, at this stage we are learning the "discipline of Allah."

The second level can be called Generative Discipleship and is the struggle to give our lives away in love, service, and prayer. This challenge becomes different. Now the task is to give our lives away—and to give them away ever more deeply and to an ever-widening circle. That's a more liberal task and it becomes even-more liberal as we move towards that truly great unknown, death, where all that we have grounded ourselves in must be left behind as we are opened to the widest circle of all, cosmic embrace, infinity, and the ineffable mystery of God.

The third level can be called Radical Discipleship and consists in the struggle to give our deaths away, that is, to leave this earth in such a way that our deaths themselves become our final gift and blessing to our families, churches, and society.

In our discipleship, our spiritual journey, there is an important time to be conservative, just as there is an important time to be liberal. We are not meant to pick one of these over the other.

END-OF-LIFE-PLANNING

An understated gift we can leave behind for our loved ones after our passing is a certain peace of mind in the form of end-of-life planning. The administrative planning we do now can allow our loved ones the space they need to grieve our loss. We are very fortunate to have a pre-planning advisor who can help you begin that process of pre-planning end-of-life matters.

For more information and to sign up to speak to the advisor, contact Keahi Teson at the Parish office, (808) 492-1059.

Thank you for helping to prepare your loved ones for your passing.
