

Miss Emily's daily September 6th, 2022

Theme of the week: All about me.

This morning, the children were invited to do a fine motor/sorting activity. They were encouraged to use tweezers to pick the different color people up and sort them into the correct color house.

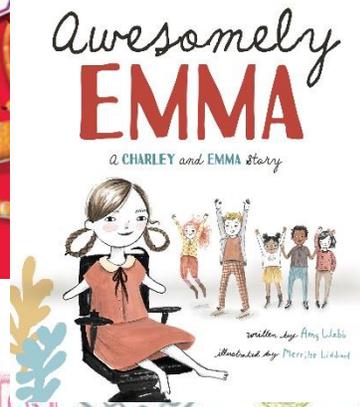

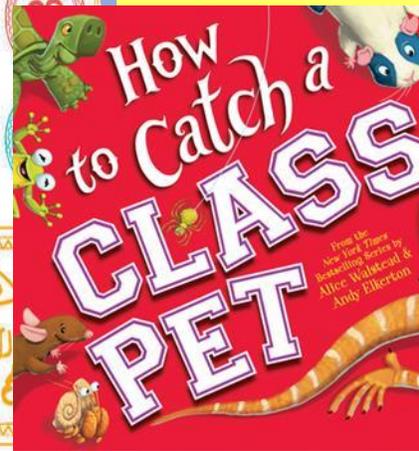

During center time, the children were invited to do a math activity. They each created their own family by placing a certain number of each color pet or people into their house. When they were done creating their family, they counted each person/pet to see how big their family was.

Before ready the story, How to Catch a CLASS PET the children were prompted to answer the question, "If you could pick a class pet for the class what would you pick?"

Important information

- Your child is to only wear sneakers to school. Please do not send your child in boots, rain boots, sandals, etc.
- Back to School Night is tonight at 6:00. No children are allowed to attend. You will get your child's take-home folder tonight.
- Please make sure to label your child's CARES snack with their name and CARES.
- The doorbell seems to not be working every time someone rings it. If you see that myself or Miss Michelle doesn't answer the door, ring the bell again. The mornings are still crazy, so we don't always hear when you knock.
