FORMED video on Prayer
A Surge of the Heart

Finding time to pray can be difficult. Modern life is very busy with so many distractions at every turn, and there's always another job to be done. This inspiring presentation challenges us to make more time for God in our lives and highlights the importance of an ever-deepening life of prayer. It looks at the true meaning of prayer, the different types of prayer, and how we can grow in our spiritual lives. It addresses how to overcome difficulties and temptations, how to find inspiration in the lives of the saints, the centrality of the Holy Mass, and the ultimate goal of prayer.

This 39 minute film will benefit anyone longing to grow in their love for and relationship with God.

Fr. Steve's Practice for Consideration: Dressing Appropriately for Holy Mass

I would like to wrap up my series on the proper protocol for the celebration of Mass this weekend by addressing a topic that I readily admit is a sensitive one: dressing appropriately for the celebration of Holy Mass. First, I wish to state right away that I am not addressing this issue because I believe it to be a significant problem in either of our parishes. I am addressing it because I think that occasional reminders about the basics are an important part of retaining our zeal and love of the Holy Mass. Unfortunately, we live in a society which is placing less and less emphasis on dressing in a way which is situationally appropriate. We are told that we should dress however we want, and not be concerned about rules of etiquette or protocol, because it's "what's inside that counts." However, how we dress for a given event, whether we like it or not, says something about how important we view that event to be. The argument of "it doesn't matter what I wear on the outside, what matters is what's on the inside, in my heart," sounds nice, but we don't really believe that in reality if we think about it. Imagine, for example, if a groom-to-be said that to his bride-to-be the day before the wedding, and then told her that he would be trading in his tuxedo for a tank-top and shorts. Do we honestly believe that she doesn't have good reason to be upset with his wardrobe choice? How about if we were an employer, and a perspective employee came to an interview dressed in their gym clothes? We would naturally presume that this interview must not be that important to them because they couldn't be bothered to dress neatly for it.

But for some reason, when it comes to our attendance at Mass, the argument is sometimes made that it doesn't matter what we wear. After all, we often hear, "God doesn't care what I wear, He just cares that I am there." Unfortunately, this line of thinking is incorrect for two primary reasons. First, how do I know that God doesn't care what I wear? If we read the Bible, we will find in fact that the opposite is the case- God is very concerned that those who participate in worship are properly attired, ritually cleansed and ready. I think that sometimes, people say, "God doesn't care what I wear to Mass, He just cares that I am there," as a way to reassure themselves that they can dress however they want. The truth is, we do not know that God doesn't care, we are assuming that He doesn't. And we should always be cautious about assuming that we know what God wants or what God thinks.

Second, the idea that "God doesn't care what I wear, He just cares that I am there," puts the focus on the wrong person. Dressing appropriately for Mass is not necessarily about pleasing God, it's about US showing our love for HIM! Just as a husband and wife might dress up for date night, the effort that we put into preparing ourselves for the celebration of Mass speaks of our love for God. We dress appropriately to show God how much we love and care for Him- that we love Him enough to honor Him by dressing well for our encountering Him at Mass. Every time that we go to Mass, we meet the God of the universe, the King of kings face to face; thus, everything that we do, including how we dress, should reflect that. While I am not going to go into specifics about what "appropriate dress for Mass" looks like, because it varies greatly from location to location, from person to person and from celebration to celebration, I would say this: the way we dress for Mass should be neat, clean, and modest.

Finally, I want to offer a caution here. This bulletin article is meant for each of us, myself included, to honestly evaluate our own interior attitudes about how we dress for the celebration of Mass and ask whether any changes are in order. This bulletin article is NOT permission for us to evaluate how others around us at Mass dress and to correct them. We never know the reason why a person may be dressing in a way that we might otherwise consider to be too "casual" or not "appropriate." Perhaps they had to come directly from work to Mass, or perhaps they do not have the financial means to purchase fashionable clothing. This bulletin article is meant to be a measuring tool for each of us to evaluate ourselves, not others. When it comes to the dress of others, we should always be willing to give them the benefit of the doubt.

God bless you! ~ Fr. Steve

Baptized in Christ

Lincoln Michael Hogan (parents: Garin & Sara) was baptized this past weekend at Holy Spirit. We congratulate his parents on this happy occasion and we pray they will be the best of teachers of their child in the ways of Christian faith.

Parish Meeting

Please plan to attend a parish meeting after the 11:00 Mass TODAY (Sunday) to discuss the renovation project in the church. This meeting will specifically focus on Phase I which is new flooring for the church entrance, nave (where parishioners sit), and sanctuary. Fr. Steve wants to hear parishioner opinions on some flooring options to help him make a final decision.

Our next coffee social is next Sunday, November 4th. Please join us in the fellowship hall for treats and fellowship following the 11:00 AM Mass.

Fundraising Committee - Seeking new members!

Cassi's Corner

I want to talk to all the moms for a minute. Has your inner voice ever told you you're not doing enough for your children? Or maybe you think you do too much for them? Do you ever think you just can't get it together to do this mothering job right? Perhaps you even think that if anyone really knew how you did (or didn't) do this job, they'd turn you in to the authorities. I want you to know you are not alone! You are enough! You are just who God intended your children to have as a mom! These false accusations that we hear are actually the topics in the book we are reading in the mom's group.

You might ask yourself why you should add yet another appointment to your already swamped schedule, so let me tell you what those who have been attending have said. Some are relieved to know that they aren't the only ones who battle all the negative self-doubts. Others are grateful for time to focus on themselves for a bit so they are better equipped to handle the day-to-day of family life. Still others are finding that the mom's group is a place to talk about their Catholic faith since they don't have that opportunity in their other social groups. Mom's group is a safe place to be real; no judgements, no pressure, no homework! Most of all, it's fun!

Haven't been to a mom's group yet? Join us either Wednesday, November 7th at 6:00 pm, or Friday, November 16th at 10:00 am, or both! If you need childcare (Fridays only), please contact me no later than Thursday of the meeting week. Feel free to contact me with any questions.
