Sunday Reflection

Drawn To The Father's Love

Have you ever approached a hushed group and were certain they were talking about you? It's an uncomfortable feeling to catch people murmuring about what you did, said, or didn't do. It breeds division and exclusion. In today's Gospel, Jesus invites us to just the opposite.

The reading opens with the crowds "murmuring" their doubts about Jesus after he has proclaimed himself the Bread of Life. "Is this not Jesus, the son of Joseph? How can he say 'I have come down from heaven'?" In his response, Jesus brings up the Israelites and the manna God brought them in the desert. If you turn back to the story in Exodus, you'll see another similar word: murmuring. As the going got tough, the Israelites doubted Moses and God's plan to protect and care for them as a chosen people. Here, Jesus proposes a difficult theological concept. Jesus himself is "the living bread" and "flesh for the life of the world."

This is not an exclusive concept. "Everyone who listens to my Father and learns (continued on page 3)

Assumption of Mary

Mass Schedule
Wednesday, August 15
8:30 am and 7:00 pm

The graces of Jesus' redemption are outside of time and space. Mary is conceived without original sin. In the feast of the Assumption, we celebrate the result of that reality! Mary's soul and body are not separated at the moment of death, nor does her body decay. She is brought up, body and soul, into Heaven. Even in apostolic times, no religious site has claimed the actual body of Mary. Considering the Church's enthusiasm for relics, this is a startling fact! After Christianity became legal in the Roman Empire, the site of her empty tomb became a place of local pilgrimage. On this feast, we remember that just as Jesus has taken care of his mother, he will take care of us!

IIAAYL (It Is All About You Lord)

by Deacon Paul Mueller

Charity, Justice, & Prophecy

"Why Simply Being Good-Hearted Is Not Enough" was the core message of a three-day seminar given by Fr. Ron Rolheiser, OMI, this past week. Giving money to the poor, helping people in trouble, treating people respectfully are all marvelous charitable things that we Christians are called to do. Let's all do them — all the time, everywhere we go.

Fr. Rolheiser used Scriptures and Church teachings to move us to yet further efforts. He showed us how we are also called to work for justice in our world today and to spread that message to others as well. Fr. Rolheiser called our effective spreading of the message of charity and justice "prophecy."

For over 150 years, pope after pope has written papal documents addressing Catholic Social Teaching, giving us guidance in our changing worlds. Some documents addressed the concept of a fair day's wage for workers and the justice behind workers creating unions. Looking at the 150-year experience of documents we can see that the popes addressed economic problems effecting poorer people, problems caused by the extremes of communism at one end and unbridled free enterprise at the other. Visit our parish website for a list of papal documents and what they addressed.

Is there some movement for justice that each of us should be supporting?

Sunday Reflection (continued from page 1)

from him comes to me." Why? Because "the Father who sent me draw[s] him." The next time you're at Mass, take a few moments to watch the communion line. Young and old, families and singles, diverse races and cultures and stories — we are all drawn to the Eucharistic table. Catholic doctrine may require faith, but it is a faith possible for anyone who seeks truth. Christianity does not hide behind locked doors in an exclusive clubhouse, whispering behind the backs of nonbelievers. Jesus compels us to share the love of God the Father for his children, that we one day be joined with Him and "live forever."

■ Everyday Stewardship

What else is there to give when one has already given away their body and their life? What more can one say or do to demonstrate love for another when all they have has been given to another? This total giving of self to loved ones cannot be trumped by flowery words or material gifts that are fleeting. This is the ultimate in love. This is the love Jesus had for us on the way to his passion, at the institution of the Holy Eucharist. This is the love he has for us daily in the celebration of the Mass on altars in every church, in every city, in every nation on earth. No one can give more. No one can ask for more. (continued on page 7)

Discovering God In Creation

In the simple pleasures of summer there is an invitation to discover God through the beauty of the created world.

“Some people, in order to discover God, read books.

But here is a great book:

the very appearance of created things.

Look above you! Look below you! Note it; read it.

*God whom you want to discover,
never wrote that book with ink;
instead, he set before your eyes
the things that he had made.*

Can you ask for a louder voice than that?”

— St. Augustine of Hippo

This summer, what are some ways you and your family can “read” the book of creation? What are some of the everyday sacred moments you already experience? How can you reflect on these experiences as a family? What are some ways you can find God in creation this summer?

Go for long walks, hikes, or bike rides as a family and talk about what you see, smell, hear, and feel.

Say your evening prayers outside under the stars.

Create a special garden with your kids that they can be responsible for (perhaps a wildflower garden to attract honeybees or butterflies).

Take a “rain walk” on a rainy day (not stormy) and discuss how different everything looks in the rain.

With older kids, you might read and discuss parts of Laudato Si’, Pope Francis encyclical “On Care for Our Common Home.”

Everyday Stewardship (continued from page 4)

This is the true heart of Christian stewardship.

If you take the time to gaze upon your God in the simplest of forms and begin to reflect on what has actually taken place with bread and wine becoming the presence of the Divine, then you can begin to understand true humility, sacrifice, and love. And when you have the privilege to take that Real Presence into your body at the meal where you are an honored guest, you become one with the One who is the embodiment of stewardship. Then, you must ask the question of yourself, "How can I even begin to reflect the love that I have encountered at this feast?" The answer is you can begin with the simple actions of the day: where will you go, whom will you meet, and in what work will you partake?

Jesus Christ has shown that the greatest gift ever given can be disguised in this world in a piece of bread. By joining your body to his, he can now transform human hearts, not by grand acts, but by everyday acts, by everyday people practicing Everyday Stewardship

Questions of the Week

First Reading

Within the larger narrative of today's reading, the prophet Elijah has been fleeing for his life from Queen Jezebel after defeating the false prophets of the god, Baal. In desperation and exhaustion, Elijah prays for death. The Lord responds by sending an angel to strengthen Elijah. How does prayer strengthen you in your spiritual journey?

Second Reading

Paul presents a series of ethical imperatives for the Ephesian Christians to live by. How well does your faith community live to these standards?

Gospel Reading

Jesus is not deterred by the Jews murmuring against him as he continues to speak of himself as "living bread." Why do you think some of the Jews found this idea so threatening?

Catechesis of the Good Shepherd "Materials Workshop"

Thursday, August 16, 2018
6:00 - 8:00 pm
in the Rainbow Room

Facilitator: Sr. Nancy Ayotte, IHM

Our Catechesis of the Good Shepherd (CGS) Team is in need of help in maintaining the many materials used with the children during the CGS sessions. Each material is specifically designed to assist the child to ponder a particular aspect of scripture, liturgy, or Catholic tradition. When children work with these materials week after week, an item can break, become unglued, or simply wear out.

Would you like to help us? A few hours a month, or every few months would go a long way! Sr. Nancy, a teacher of CGS Catechists, will lead the "Materials Workshop," showing the work that is needed and how various items are created. We'll gather in the Rainbow Room where we can spread out and you will be able to engage in the work of your choice. Sign up at the back of church or call the parish office so we'll know you are coming.

Q Why can't everyone who wants to receive Communion, receive Communion at Mass?

A Outside of the Church, many organizations have all sorts of requirements for membership: dues, achievements, professional standings, etc. The requirements bring the group together in common purposes and goals. Within the Church, there are also basic "requirements" for receiving the sacraments. As Catholics, we believe that the Eucharist is the true "Bread of Life." It is the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ. When we receive the Eucharist, we are receiving Jesus. Out of reverence for Christ, only those in union with this teaching and in a state of grace should receive communion. As Catholics, we should abstain from communion if we are in mortal sin.

While we share many articles of faith with our Protestant brothers and sisters, their understanding of this teaching is fundamentally different. For most non-Catholic churches, they do not believe that Christ becomes truly present in the Eucharist. As such, they should not receive communion in a Catholic Church. These differences are greater for people of non-Christian faiths, and even more apparent for those who do not believe in God. Receiving communion is not a right, but a gift to be accepted in humble, trusting faith.
