REFLECTING WITH THE PASTOR

JULY 8, 2018

THE FOURTEENTH SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

IS IT POSSIBLE THAT THE LORD IS TRYING TO CONNECT WITH US THROUGH OUR WOUNDS AND WEAKNESS?

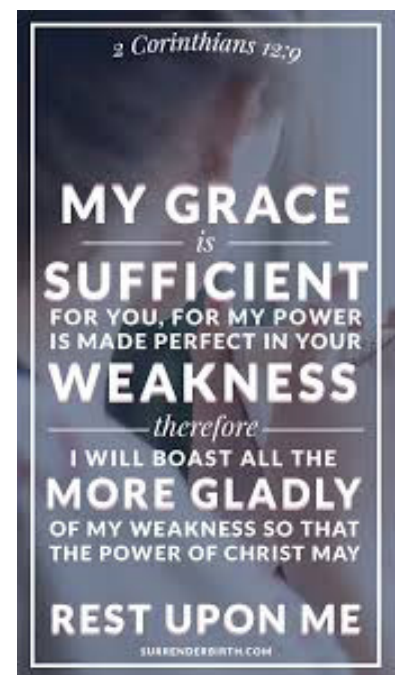

None of us is a stranger when it comes to pain, disappointments, failures. Our wounds, whether physical or emotional, can have an important part to play in our life of discipleship. When we see our wounds through the lens of faith and entrust them to the Lord, it can be a moment of spiritual awakening for us. St. Paul reflects on his own personal wounds and their relationship to his ministry.

What kind of weakness was it? No one really knows. But it is clear, that Paul in no way wants to have this weakness, this thorn in the flesh. Three times he had asked the Lord to remove the affliction from him that he might minister better on behalf of the Gospel. Perhaps you or someone you love has prayed and asked that some weakness or affliction be taken away from you. Unfortunately most people today do not want to endure any pain or discomfort at all... we deaden it with drugs, alcohol, or bad decisions to achieve pleasure at any cost.

St. Paul, you and I, are told that the Lord's favor would be enough for us. In weakness power reaches perfection. St. Paul comes to see that his affliction is not a negative factor in his ministry but a blessing. His weakness is a reminder that as important as he is... as successful a preacher he may be... he still needs God. In fact, it is God, working in him, through his weakness, that brings about such a victorious ministry. Paul tells everyone that the power revealed in his ministry is that of Christ and not his own power. His weakness becomes a source of strength because it causes Paul to rely on and trust in Jesus and resists his own greatness.

Are you uncomfortable with feelings of weakness? Of powerlessness? Of failure? If so, spend some time with St. Paul this week. He is no longer uncomfortable with his burden because he realizes that when he acknowledges his weakness, he is making room for the power of God to act through him. Weakness, instead of being a burden, has now become a blessing. It was true for St. Paul... it can be true for us.

It is mainly through the wounds in human life that God enters. Our failures, our weakness, our failures, our difficulties can be moments when God becomes more visible and evident in our lives... if we allow God to enter those moments... if we are humble enough to admit we need God to achieve anything. Is it possible that the Lord, at this very moment, is trying to connect with you, not through your successes and the things you are proud of but, rather through your wounds and difficulties? Is it possible that there's a powerful kind of discipleship waiting to be born in you because you trust it is God and Jesus and not you achieving everything that is good.

The Pain of Suspicion

A bright and luminous work of art from 1905 by Maurice Denis shows the Child Jesus in Nazareth, apparently teaching the other children. Nazareth highlights the peace, beauty, and joy of those years when Jesus was growing in wisdom and strength right before Mary's eyes.

The little dovelike white ribbons on the heads of the kneeling children indicate the knowledge and spirit Jesus was imparting.

Yet when Jesus returns to Nazareth as an adult, things are quite different. The townspeople are suspicious of his wisdom as they remember him as the carpenter, son of Joseph and Mary. Those humble roots don't justify the knowledge and power with which he spoke. Perhaps envy or jealousy blinded them and brought Jesus to quote the Old Testament, "A prophet is not without honor except in his native place and among his own kin and in his own house" (Mark 6:4).

Their closed hearts pained Jesus, as he would have most certainly wanted to show all the love and power of God to his fellow Nazoreans. Scripture says Jesus was amazed at their lack of faith.

We can also limit everything Jesus wants to do in and for us with our lack of belief in him and his power. Perhaps those of us who are closest to him through daily prayer and regular sacraments are the least convinced of his power. Dare to let Jesus in and do with you what he wants!

—Fr. Mark Haydu, LC
