Honestly in Christian Witness

Whether we like it or not, our language shows whether we are educated or not. It usually indicates which country we are from and, within the country, even which part. It tells about our age and sex, our temperament, our profession, our honesty, our moral values, and our outlook on life.

However, not all languages is honest and reflects the real person. We are constantly exposed, for example, to the multi-faceted language of diplomacy and the deceptive language of the heart, honestly reflecting our best selves. Only by being honest with one another can human beings communicate and overcome the ailment of alienation.

Our thoughts and prayers are with our Holy Father, Pope Francis. His health condition has been determined to be critical. I invite everyone throughout the Diocese of Corpus Christi to remember him at Mass this Sunday and to pray a Rosary tonight and over the weekend for his health. We want to let his Holiness feel our closeness to him as the Diocese of Corpus Christi.
