GOSPEL REFLECTION

Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Excuses, Excuses

If you get pulled over for speeding, you might have several excuses to use, but did you ever say that you didn't know you had to obey the speed limit? As the saying goes, ignorance of the law is no excuse. That is what Moses is telling the people in the first reading. The laws of God are not difficult to understand. Anyone with a conscience should be able to live with them.

By the time of Jesus, the scribes and Pharisees had added many more laws. The scholar who questioned Jesus about eternal life knew what was important: loving God with all your being and loving your neighbor as yourself. If he had stopped there, he would have been all right. But by asking "Who is my neighbor?" he implied that there are limits to love. That's why Jesus used the parable of the good Samaritan to show that love is as simple as helping someone in need.

Even today, we find people making excuses for not doing what God asks of us. We want someone else to interpret it for us, hoping they will find a loophole we can use to ignore God's commands. We judge people who need help, saying they choose to be poor or homeless. We say that between work and family obligations, we have no time to give to the community. We sign our kids up for so many sports that we don't even go to church on Sundays. We always have time to watch our favorite TV shows, but there's never enough time for daily prayers.

Before you start beating yourself up with guilt, remember that God expects us to take care of our families, to spend time with our children, and even to take time to rest and relax. If we are willing to look at our lives and bring them to God, asking for guidance, we are making the first steps to keep God's law of love. Even Jesus, whom Paul describes in the second reading as the image of God and source of all creation, had to die on the cross to show God's love to the world. Jesus understands the difficult choices we make. Ask for his help and you shall receive.

PARISH NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Why St. Norbert was called Apostle of the Blessed Sacrament

St. Norbert possessed an intimate love of Jesus in the Holy Eucharist and he tried to ensure that his followers remained rooted in the Blessed Sacrament.

St. Norbert founded the Canons Regular of Prémontré (commonly called the "Norbertines") in 1120, and from the very beginning he wanted his followers to devote themselves to both private and public devotion to the Blessed Sacrament.

This desire flowed out of his own deep devotion to Jesus' presence in the Holy Eucharist.

Apostle of the Blessed Sacrament

Writer Cornelius James Kirkfleet provides a few details about St. Norbert's devotion in his book History of Saint Norbert:

He himself never undertook any important work without first offering up the holy sacrifice of the Mass and spending hours in prayer prostrate before the altar. The very first chapter of the Constitution of the Order has for its title De tremendo altaris Sacramento and explains how to derive from the Blessed Eucharist true zeal for the salvation of souls.

One of the primary aims of the Norbertine Order is "To spread and increase devotion to the Blessed Sacrament."

Pope Francis recognized this essential part of the Norbertines in an address he gave to the religious order in 2022: "Following in the footsteps of Saint Norbert, the piety of the Premonstratensians reserves an increasingly central place for the Eucharist, both in the solemn and intimate community celebration, and in silent worship. Precisely as he is present for us in the Sacrament, so the Lord wants to be present through us in the life of those we meet."

Restoring faith

St. Norbert is also known for his defense of the Holy Eucharist, in particular when the city of Antwerp called upon his help. At the time there was a heretical preacher who tried to eradicate the city's devotion to the Eucharist. St. Norbert then took it upon himself to evangelize the city and restore the faithful's understanding of the Blessed Sacrament.

He was successful in his endeavours and the local people proclaimed him the "Apostle of the Blessed Sacrament," for his work in restoring their faith and devotion.

This is one of the reasons why St. Norbert is traditionally depicted holding a monstrance, highlighting the deep devotion he had to Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament and his missionary zeal in proclaiming belief in the Real Presence of Jesus Christ in the Eucharist.

St. Norbert's legacy continues to be passed on today by many Norbertines across the world, putting an emphasis on Eucharistic worship.

MOUNT
CARMEL

July 16

According to Carmelite tradition, Simon Stock received the scapular of Our Lady of Mount Carmel from the Blessed Virgin on July 16, 1251, in Cambridge, England.

The Carmelite order sees in the scapular, now worn by Carmelites and others, a sign of Mary's motherly protection.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

On a summer day, with the windows open, we may hear the sound of church bells. Bells seem to have come into church life in Irish monasteries around the seventh century, and spread around the Christian world by Irish monks on missionary journeys. By the eighth century, bells were standard equipment in even small parish churches. An ancient ceremony, once called the "baptism of the bells," recognizes that the church bell has a voice to call people to awareness and summon them to worship, and even bestows a name on the bell.

In a world without clocks or watches, the bell had an indispensable role. For calling monks in from the fields for prayer, or alerting far-flung visitors, the bell's voice was enhanced by hoisting it high into a tower. Soon it was learned that the sound of several bells clanging together in harmony imparted a sense of joy to great celebrations, and bell towers prospered, some chock full of bells. Different combinations of rings could indicate a death, a Mass, a wedding, a fast day, the curfew at the end of day, and the Angelus. Before electricity, bell-ringing was hard work indeed: the biggest bell in the Catholic world, in Cologne, Germany, weighs twenty-seven tons! There's no substitute for the resonant roar of a mighty bell; electric chimes are not eligible for blessing!
