It Remains a Mystery
My appreciation for Trinity Sunday grew considerably when I heard an Episcopal priest say in a homily that she never felt as close to the Trinity as when she learned she was pregnant with twins. A perfect image of three-in-one.
I'm grateful that nature provides us with other metaphors. One comes from Tertullian, thought to be the first Christian theologian to mention the Trinity in Latin. He imagines it as a plant, with the Father as the root, the Son as the shoot breaking forth into the world, and the Spirit as that which fills the earth with flower and fruit. Modern physics offers us the quark, a subatomic particle which exists in threes. There is no such thing as one quark, but only three interdependent beings, acting together. Yet even with such helpful images, the Trinity remains a mystery, and that is as it should be.
In today's readings Moses stands with God on Mount Sinai. Admitting that we humans are stiff-necked and sinful, he offers a merciful God this remarkable invitation: "do come along in our company." Paul reminds us—and the unruly Corinthians—that the way to recognize God's presence among us is to mend our ways, encourage one another, stop arguing, and live in peace. And John reminds us that God loved us so much that he gave us his only Son, that we might gain eternal life. Behind these stories, as vital yet hidden as roots and quarks, I sense the Trinity waiting expectantly for us.

Sigue Siendo un Misterio
Mi aprecio por el Domingo de la Trinidad aumentó considerablemente cuando escuché a un sacerdote episcopal decir en una homilía que nunca se sintió tan cerca de la Trinidad como cuando se enteró de que estaba embarazada de gemelos. Una imagen perfecta de tres en uno.
Estoy agradecido de que la naturaleza nos brinde otras metáforas. Uno proviene de Tertuliano, considerado el primer teólogo cristiano en mencionar la Trinidad en latín. Lo imagina como una planta, con el Padre como la raíz, el Hijo como el brote que irrumpe en el mundo, y el Espíritu como lo que llena la tierra de flores y frutos. La física moderna nos ofrece el quark, una partícula subatómica que existe en tres. No hay tal cosa como un quark, sino solo tres seres interdependientes, que actúan juntos. Sin embargo, incluso con imágenes tan útiles, la Trinidad sigue siendo un misterio, y así es como debería ser.
En las lecturas de hoy en día, Moisés está con Dios en el Monte Sinaí. Admitiendo que los humanos somos de cuello rígido y pecaminosos, le ofrece a Dios misericordioso esta invitación notable: venga en nuestra compañía. Paul nos recuerda- y los rebeldes corintios -que la forma de reconocer la presencia de Dios entre nosotros es enmendar nuestros caminos, animarnos unos a otros, dejar de discutir y vivir en paz. Y Juan nos recuerda que Dios nos amó tanto que nos dio a su único Hijo, para que podamos ganar la vida eterna. Detrás de estas historias, tan vitales pero ocultas como raíces y quarks, siento que la Trinidad nos espera expectante. Kathleen Norris

Who is Saint Rosalie?

Unfortunately, we know little of the life of Saint Rosalie (or Rosalia). In a sense, the story of her life begins almost five hundred years after her death. In 1625 the city of Palermo on the Island of Sicily was suffering a period of plague. Saint Rosalia appeared in a vision to a hunter near a cave just outside of the city. Based on the vision the hunter went into the cave and discovered her remains. The following inscription was carved into the wall: "I, Rosalia, daughter of Sinibald, Lord of Roses, and Quisquina, have taken the resolution to live in this cave for the love of my Lord, Jesus Christ." Her relics were paraded through the streets of the city and three days later the plague miraculously ended. Her intercession was credited with saving the city and she was declared the Patroness of Palermo. Sinibald, Lord of Roses, and his wife, Quisquina were believed to be descendants of Charlemagne, the first emperor of the Holy Roman Empire. They were prominent citizens in Palermo during the Twelfth century. It is believed that Rosalia left her life in Palermo to live alone in the mountains practicing penitential acts so as to live in closer communion with God. She died in the cave around 1160 AD. Most statues and pictures of St. Rosalia have her dressed in the habit of the Basilian Order but there is no proof that she ever entered into an Order, a monastery, or other religious community prior to residing alone in the cave. The Feast Day of Saint Rosalia is September 4. Saint Rosalie pray for us as we continue to struggle with the Corona Virus, help us persevere in prayer and adoration of Our Lord Jesus Christ as you have and show us the way to the new normal. In Jesus Name we pray. Amen

Jonathan Castillo

As many of you are probably aware, many graduations were not held with proper pomp and circumstance due to the national health emergency. We at St Francis wish to congratulate all the graduates of High School and University. This week we honor in a special way Jonathan Castillo. He is a graduate of Lovelady High School as Salutatorian and received First Communion and Confirmation here at St. Francis in 2012. Parents are Lupe and Gilda Castillo. Siblings are Magali, Erik, and Jazmine. Jonathan will attend Blinn College in Bryan in the fall. Jonathan has been going to Trinity for 8 years and served as an altar server for almost 4 years. Because his family lives between two parishes, the Castillos have been helping with various projects in both parishes, in fact his father was featured in an earlier bulletin when the new sidewalk was poured for the back of the hall. Jonathan's family also help with music ministry in both parishes. The parish of St Francis wish Jonathan all the blessings God has in store for him as he begins this new part of the journey in pursuit of God's Will for your life.

Jonathan Castillo

Como muchos de ustedes probablemente saben, muchas graduaciones no se llevaron a cabo con la pompa y las circunstancias adecuadas debido a la emergencia de salud nacional. En San Francisco deseamos felicitar a todos los graduados de la escuela secundaria y la universidad. Esta semana honramos de manera especial a Jonathan Castillo. Se graduó de Lovelady High School como Salutatorian y recibió la Primera Comunión y la Confirmación aquí en St. Francis en 2012. Los padres son Lupe y Gilda Castillo. Los hermanos son Magali, Erik y Jazmine. Jonathan asistirá a Blinn College en Bryan en el otoño. Jonathan ha estado yendo a Trinity durante 8 años y sirvió como servidor del altar durante casi 4 años. Debido a que su familia vive entre dos parroquias, los Castillos han estado ayudando con varios proyectos en ambas parroquias, de hecho, su padre apareció en un boletín anterior cuando la nueva acera se vertió en la parte trasera del pasillo. La familia de Jonathan también ayuda con el ministerio de música en ambas parroquias. La parroquia de San Francisco le desea a Jonathan todas las bendiciones que Dios tiene para usted al comenzar esta nueva parte de su viaje en busca de la Voluntad de Dios para su vida.
