St. John Vianney’s Prayer for Priests
God, please give to your Church today many more priests after your own heart.
May they be worthy representatives of Christ the Good Shepherd. May they wholeheartedly devote themselves to prayer and penance; be examples of humility and poverty; shining models of holiness; tireless and powerful preachers of the Word of God; zealous dispensers of your grace in the sacraments.
May their loving devotion to your Son Jesus in the Eucharist and to Mary his Mother be the twin fountains of fruitfulness for their ministry.
- Saint John Vianney.

Oración de San Juan Vianney por los Sacerdotes
Dios, por favor da hoy a tu Iglesia muchos más sacerdotes según tu corazón.
Que sean dignos representantes de Cristo el buen Pastor. Que se dediquen de todo corazón ellos mismos a la oración y la penitencia; sed ejemplos de humildad y pobreza; resplandecientes modelos de santidad; predicadores incansables y poderosos de la Palabra de Dios; celosos dispensadores de tu gracia en los sacramentos.
Que su amorosa devoción a tu Hijo Jesús en la Eucaristía y en María su Madre sean las fuentes gemelas de fecundidad para su ministerio.
- San Juan Vianney.

God Willing
As the old joke has it, one way to make God laugh is to talk about your plans. But what kind of God would laugh at carefully made plans gone awry? Think of a storm forcing an outdoor wedding into a cramped indoor space. Or a pandemic that demolishes plans for all weddings, birthday parties, family reunions, and graduation ceremonies. We need to make plans. Planning for retirement can help us financially and reduce the burden we place on our loved ones as we age. And estate planning often helps to avoid resentment among our heirs. Our dilemma is neatly summarized in Ecclesiastes 11:4: “One who pays heed to the wind will never sow, / and one who watches the clouds will never reap.” We’re advised to just go for it, do the planting and make ourselves ready for the harvest. But in all our planning we must take care not to imagine that we are in control. Just two words, “God willing,” can prevent us from the smugness of the farmer in today’s Gospel. He’s not a fool for considering ways to store a bumper crop. But he would have been wise to consider other options: sharing it, providing for the poor and hungry. We need the bracing insistence of Ecclesiastes that all our anxious toil is vanity. And we need the perspective we gain from listening to Jesus’ admonition. We must be prepared to live with the knowledge that our hold on life is tenuous, and that God will one day call us to leave it all behind. Kathleen Norris

Si Dios Quiere
Como dice el viejo chiste, una forma de hacer reír a Dios es hablar de tus planes. Pero, ¿qué clase de Dios se reiría de los planes cuidadosamente elaborados que salen mal? Piense en una tormenta que obligue a una boda al aire libre a un espacio interior reducido. O una pandemia que demuele planes para todas las bodas, fiestas de cumpleaños, reuniones familiares y ceremonias de graduación. Tenemos que hacer planes. La planificación para la jubilación puede ayudarnos financieramente y reducir la carga que imponemos a nuestros seres queridos a medida que envejecemos. Y la planificación patrimonial a menudo ayuda a evitar el resentimiento entre nuestros herederos. Nuestro dilema está claramente resumido en Eclesiastés 11:4: “El que está atento al viento nunca sembrará, y el que está atento a las nubes nunca segará”. Se nos aconseja simplemente ir a por ello, plantar y prepararnos para la cosecha. Pero en toda nuestra planificación debemos tener cuidado de no imagina que tenemos el control. Sólo dos palabras, “Si Dios quiere”, puede librarnos de la presunción del agricultor del Evangelio de hoy. Él no es un tonto para considerando formas de almacenar una cosecha abundante. Pero hubiera sido prudente considerar otras opciones: compartirlo, proveer para los pobres y hambrientos. Necesitamos la insistencia vigorizante de Eclesiastés de que todo nuestro trabajo ansioso es vanidad. Y necesitamos el perspectiva que ganamos al escuchar a Jesús amonestación. Debemos estar preparados para vivir con el conocimiento de que nuestro control sobre la vida es tenue, y que Dios un día nos llamará a dejarlo todo detrás. Kathleen Norris
Kathleen Norris es oblata de St. Benedict y autora de muchos libros, incluidos The Cloister Walk y Acedia and Me.
