Households receive help to celebrate Thanksgiving thanks to community partnerships

Terre Haute Catholic Charities Foodbank to distribute turkeys and Thanksgiving sides on Saturday, November 19

Terre Haute Catholic Charities Foodbank will again be helping our neighbors in the area by offering warm smiles and a hearty meal this holiday season.

In partnership with Elanco, Duke Energy, Downtown Terre Haute Rotary and Bill and Sally Stewart we will provide as many as 700 turkeys to households in the area to help complete their Thanksgiving dinners.

“The holidays are times for family, but they can be a difficult time for those families that are living with food insecurity,” said Sally Stewart.

Catholic Charities will distribute turkeys and other food items at Benjamin Franklin Elementary School from 9:00 AM – 11:00 AM on Saturday, November 19. First come, first served. To help with the flow of traffic, Catholic Charities asks families to enter only by way of 19th Street. Walk-ups are welcome and may enter through the main entrance. Please refer to the map included with this press release. Limit one turkey per household; please note that you will not be able to pick up for another household unless a proxy form is completed in advance. More information is available by calling 812-232-1447 Option 2.

John Etling, Agency Director of Catholic Charities, is grateful to partner with people and organizations in our community that want to provide help, especially to families with children, “Thanksgiving is a time to be thankful for what you have and to think of how you can serve; giving of ourselves and helping our neighbors in need reflects the true spirit of Thanksgiving. Thank you to our donors and community partners for providing this gift and reaching out at this time of the year to provide help.”
