For the People of Regina Coeli Parish

From the Administrator Fr. David Poecking

There's a traditional call and response for mass protests:

Protest leader:	WHAT DO WE WANT?
Protesters:	JUSTICE!
Protest leader:	WHEN DO WE WANT IT?
Protesters:	NOW!

Sometimes "justice" is replaced by "peace" or "freedom" or anything crowds might rally for. This call-and-response is sufficiently common to have sparked parody, e.g.:

Protest leader:	WHAT DO WE WANT?
Protesters:	APATHY!
Protest leader:	WHEN DO WE WANT IT?
Protesters:	WHENEVER!

In case you need the joke explained, it's funny in part because apathy never impels people to rallying cries. The humor highlights an irony in civilization: Anger and fear can motivate mass movements, but reconciliation and trust never do. In our immaturity, our decisions are shaped primarily by rivalries and anxieties rather than by faith, hope, or love.

The Lord Jesus makes a related point in this Sunday's gospel selection. God's reign progresses in hidden ways, as when wheat grows, or a mustard seed germinates, or as yeast leavens bread dough. And much to our frustration, we can't hurry it up.

Disciples:	WHAT DO WE WANT?
Jesus:	MATURITY!
Disciples:	WHEN DO WE WANT IT?
Jesus:	IN THE FULLNESS OF GOD'S TIME!

Jesus' disciples may succumb to the rallying cries of anger or fear, "They're ruining the Church!" But no, "they" don't have that power. True, poisonous weeds grow among the wheat, but each of us is already a mix of weed and wheat. Attempting to purify the Church, we merely poison ourselves all the more. Only Jesus can bring the wheat to maturity and take out the poison. Let us resolve to protect rather than purify—to protect ourselves and our neighbors from the poison, by not trying to purify the Church of all the weeds.

I'll trust that this is an auspicious gospel for the inauguration of the new clergy team at Regina Coeli Parish, which now includes Fr. Aaron Kriss and me. On the next page of this bulletin, Fr. Aaron has written an introduction. You'll get to know me, too, over the coming weeks, and I'll get to know many of you—in the fullness of God's time.

—Fr. Dave

Senior Parochial Vicar

Fr. Aaron Kriss

My name is Fr. Aaron J. Kriss. I am glad to be Senior Parochial Vicar here at Regina Coeli Parish. I am 61 years of age (birthday August 31, 1964) and am a native of the South Side of Pittsburgh, PA. My parents Edmund and Florence are both deceased along with an older brother Fr. David. I have two older siblings, Elly and Mark. I am 35 years ordained as a priest for the Diocese of Pittsburgh and have served either as Pastor, Senior Parochial Vicar or Parochial Vicar of eight parishes and Chaplain at two educational institutions.

In addition to celebrating the Sacraments and spiritual aspects of ministry, I enjoy taking walks, Pittsburgh sports, music, movies and writing poetry. I have published five books of spiritual poetry including a recent one available on Amazon entitled Poems for Spiritual Nourishment. I have a biographical work entitled David's Echo co-written with my sister Elly about our deceased brother Fr. David.

I am looking forward to getting to know you as parishioners and ministering with Fr. David Poecking, the clergy and staff to bring you closer to our Lord. Let us pray for each other as we strive together to build the kingdom of God.

God bless you!
Fr. Aaron
