A Message for Kids and Teens about Their Intrinsic Value – and for you, Too!

Every life has intrinsic value and worth. Yet, we live in a society that often communicates otherwise. Intrinsic value means that your worth, your value, is innate, or, in other words, it's with you from the very beginning of your life. This is not something you earn. Intrinsic value is not dependent on your hair style, the clothes you wear, who your parents are, or your life experience – you have value. There will never be another you. So, the next time you feel down about yourself or wish you were someone different, remember that the world needs YOU. The person God made you to be.

Coming up: Join us for a mini Women's Retreat on Thursday, June 20. Contact Edie Ferrera at 816-820-5864 to sign up.
