Notes from Fr. Dirk

Let's start with a quiz. I know, right? Best way to observe the Memorial of Saints Cornelius and Cyprian. Here goes:

1. What's the best thing to do when whatever it is you've been doing no longer works?
 - a. All of the above.
 - b. None of the above.
 - c. Give up. Throw up your hands in despair. Take to your bed with a pint each of your favorite flavors of Ben & Jerry's® and Häagen-Dazs®* and the latest issue of Tiger Beat magazine.

- d. a and b above, but not c.
- e. c, except substitute Popular Mechanics for Tiger Beat.
- f. Do things differently.
- g. Find a better way.

Correct answer? G (g), natch, although you'll get half-credit if you chose f; half-credit because doing things differently is only an improvement if the different way is also a better way; if you chose c, you'll want to be ready for visitors. We'll bring our own compostable spoons.

The key to this can be heard at either the 5:00 pm or 7:30 am Mass this weekend for those of you fortunate enough to have chosen to attend one or more of the services at which dear Fr. Pat will preach. Spoiler alert: He's going to pose a couple of questions for all concerned: "What's important?" and "Can we find a new way of making it work?" Sometimes, and as Fr. Pat will point out – oops, post-spoiler-alert – this is called THINKING OUTSIDE THE BOX. It's helpful in all kinds of situations – even those having to do with faith, faith communities, spirituality, and worship. And, I daresay, church. Consider the following, occasionally heard when in the company of this or that professor of history: "Christianity began as a reform movement within Judaism." Your point, caller? Not that Judaism ever has been, is now or ever would be in need of reform – except in the most basic sense in which every human institution, divinely inspired or otherwise, is in need of reform simply by virtue of its being populated and I daresay managed by human beings – but that implicit in talk of development, ~~evolution~~ change or reform is this: Box, thinking outside of. That is, of course, IMHO, or IMgratuitouslyofferedHO, or IMGOHO, or perhaps IMGOANEAOH, which is to say IMGOandnotespeciallyappreciatedHO. In fact NO LESS than the great St. Augustine (of Hippo, about which I bet you didn't know that hippos are, as a group, Catholic) is famous for (perhaps) having said Ecclesia semper reformanda est, meaning – as every schoolchild knows – the Church must always be reformed, later transmogrified and restated by certain of the Protestant reformers as Ecclesia reformata, semper reformanda, which phrase means something rather different, namely the reformed Church, always being reformed, according to the Word of God and the call of the Spirit. The reformed Church being, so far as I understand it, the churches that arose from the Protestant Reformation (circa 1517 – circa 1648, depending on your stake in dating the Reformation). About which I'll just point out that as a vowed religious I'm not allowed to date. Facetious? Who?

I know you'll want to listen to and ponder what Fr. Pat has to say – pretty much a given, always and everywhere. And you'll probably want to arrange things so that you end up at one of Fr. Pat's Masses this weekend. Again, pretty much a given. In any case, know that you are loved, always and everywhere, and that your being loved is a state of affairs that nothing in heaven or on earth has or could ever change. In the words of the immortal Edith Ann, "and that's the truth!" Got it? Semper fi, dudes.

*You ARE aware, I suppose, that Häagen-Dazs® began in 1960, in ... the Bronx. That's right. Not Denmark – da Bronx. And that the words Häagen-Dazs® have no meaning other than as a grateful, laudatory and well-deserved nod to the nation of Denmark, which blah blah blah....

HELP US HELP OTHERS

Members of the Loyola Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society work hard all year helping the poor in our parish neighborhood. We rely completely on donations for the material assistance we provide to our neighbors in need, and during this month of September when we honor the Feast Day of St. Vincent, we are asking for your financial support. Please know that it is sorely needed right now as requests for housing, utility, and food assistance are growing every day. Please help the Society help others by considering a donation to support our work. Cash and checks (made out to The St. Vincent de Paul Society – Loyola) can be dropped off at church or at the parish office (please use an envelope marked St. Vincent de Paul Society) or mailed to the parish office. Donations of non-perishable food items for our Food Pantry are also sorely needed and can be dropped off anytime at the Parish Office or during our parish Food Drives on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of each month. Thank you so much for your continued support of our neighbors in need!

Brady and other pastors; the creation of an online archive for significant documents and photos; and more. Join us for our first meeting on Wed., Sept. 28 in the FC conference room or by Zoom (<https://us06web.zoom.us/j/81237668925> also on web calendar), 7:00-8:00 pm to learn more and begin planning our year. Contact Camarin for more information camarin@loyoladenver.org.
