Join us this Summer for Bishop Barron's "The Pivotal Players." This exciting program will be offered after the 8:15 a.m. Mass in the Family Room.

Join us as we explore the lives of 6 "pivotal players" who shaped the Church. Join Bishop Barron on the journey to unlock the truth behind the most influential people of the Catholic Church. All are welcome! Join us next week (August 11) as we explore the life of G.K. Chesterton and why he is a Pivotal Player.

WEEKLY WISDOM

Today's readings and psalm all boil down to the fact that material possessions are not worthy of trust. To trust in them is the vanity of vanities, meaning the Hebrew superlative expressing the supreme degree of futility and emptiness. To toil on worthless causes and being anxious will not profit anyone. As Jesus says "Take care to guard against all greed, for though one may be rich, one's life does not consist of possessions."

Are you detached from all earthly and unmeaningful things? Paul's advice to the Colossians was to maintain the moral life that is to characterize their response to God through Christ. He urges the Colossians to participate in the liturgical hymns and prayers that center upon God's plan of salvation in Christ. Let's try to do just that.

It is Not Too Late to Join Us!

The Women's Book Circle will be taking the summer off. We will meet the third Thursday in September at 7:00 p.m. (September 19). Our book for September will be The Faith Club by Ranya Idliby, Suzanne Oliver, and Priscilla Warner. You have all summer to read the book! Please join us in September. All are welcome!

Women's Scripture Circle will be off for the summer months and will resume the fourth Wednesday of September, at 7:00 p.m. (September 25). We will be continuing our study of the Gospel of Luke, part two, using "Little Rock Scripture Study." Don't hesitate to join us any time.

For more information on the faith sharing circles, contact Marie Sexton at 718-4147.

Have a blessed week,

We are ordinary Catholic men who seek a closer relationship with God. We meet twice each month to support and encourage one another on our spiritual journey. We preview the Mass readings for the following Sunday and discuss how to apply their lessons to our daily lives. We also read and discuss good spiritual books to help us in this. We join the universal Church in praying for our needs and the needs of our brothers and sisters in Christ. If this interests you, please contact Ron Batdorf at ronald.batdorf@gmail.com or Bob Breault at bobb1938@gmail.com or (610) 360-6070.

HOLY LAND CARVINGS:

The Holy Land Carvings Group will be here at Holy Family the weekend of August 17/18 representing the Christian wood carvers of Bethlehem who rely on the sale of their wood carvings to support their families.

Due to the bad situation and the interruption of the tourist trade, thousands of families in the Holy Land are in danger of having to leave their homes in search of work. Please support these Christians who make their livelihood through the selling of beautiful hand carved Olive Wood religious items, such as Nativity Scenes, Crucifixes, Rosaries, Statues, Picture of the Last Supper, and other religious items.

CREATION CARE CORNER

Lifestyle and the Environment

The many parts of the Earth have many different populations and these populations have different impacts on the Environment. Those that have the greatest adverse impact could be asked to examine the reasons for their having a greater impact and to consider what they might do to reduce that adverse impact.

In the Encyclical Letter of Pope Francis, Laudato Si', it is stated that one of the causes of such greater impact is the "lifestyle" of such particular populations and suggests that a change in the lifestyle of their members could help reduce a population's adverse impact on the Earth's Environment.

Here is what the Letter says about a Lifestyle's impact on the Environment – it is set out in the following paragraphs of the Letter:

Paragraph 203: Since the market tends to promote extreme consumerism in an effort to sell its products, people can easily get caught up in a whirlwind of needless buying and spending. Compulsive consumerism is one example of how the techno-economic paradigm affects individuals. Romano Guardini had already foreseen this: "The gadgets and technics forced upon him by the patterns of machine production and of abstract planning mass man accepts quite simply; they are the forms of life itself. To either a greater or lesser degree mass man is convinced that his conformity is both reasonable and just." This paradigm leads people to believe that they are free as long as they have the supposed freedom to consume. But those really free are the minority who wield economic and financial power. Amid this confusion, postmodern humanity has not yet achieved a new self-awareness capable of offering guidance and direction, and this lack of identity is a source of anxiety. We have too many means and only a few insubstantial ends.

Paragraph 204: The current global situation engenders a feeling of instability and uncertainty, which in turn becomes "a seedbed for collective selfishness." When people become self-centred and self-enclosed, their greed increases. The emptier a person's heart is, the more he or she needs things to buy, own and consume. It becomes almost impossible to accept the limits imposed by reality. In this horizon, a genuine sense of the common good also disappears. As these attitudes become more widespread, social norms are respected only to the extent that they do not clash with personal needs. So our concern cannot be limited merely to the threat of extreme weather events, but must also extend to the catastrophic consequences of social unrest. Obsession with a consumerist lifestyle, above all when few people are capable of maintaining it, can only lead to violence and mutual destruction.

Paragraph 206: A change in lifestyle could bring healthy pressure to bear on those who wield political, economic and social power. This is what consumer movements accomplish by boycotting certain products. They prove successful in changing the way businesses operate, forcing them to consider their environmental footprint and their patterns of production. When social pressure affects their earnings, businesses clearly have to find ways to produce differently. This shows us the great need for a sense of social responsibility on the part of consumers. "Purchasing is always a moral – and not simply economic – act." Today, in a word, "the issue of environmental degradation challenges us to examine our lifestyle."
