NATIONAL VOCATIONS AWARENESS:

On this Good Shepherd Sunday, we celebrate the World Day of Prayer for Vocations. Pray for an increase in vocations to the priesthood, diaconate, and consecrated life, especially for our Diocese, that God will raise up good shepherds in our midst. Do you think God is calling you to serve the Church as a priest or in the consecrated life? Contact Fr. Brian Capuano at the Vocations Office at 804-359-5661, or email vocations@richmonddiocese.org.

SPIRITUAL COMMUNION PRAYER:

My Jesus, I believe that You are truly present in the Most Blessed Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You within my soul. Since I am unable at this moment to receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there, and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

“CREATION CARE CORNER:”

Progress and some good can result from “Danger Seasons” (extreme weather events). “Danger Seasons” (when climate change pushes usual summer heat waves, hurricanes, and wildfires into dangerous new territory) can show us how communities are able to become more climate resilient. Some examples follow:

Strong Building Codes: Hurricane Ian caused widespread damage to Punta Gorda, Florida, when it slammed into the Gulf Coast last September. But a subset of Punta Gorda’s homes fared pretty well – those that had been rebuilt after Hurricane Charley in 2004. That’s because Florida enacted some of the nation’s strictest building codes in the 1990s, so that homes rebuilt after Charley are much more hurricane ready. More communities could benefit with the administration pushing federal agencies to help communities modernize their building codes, as Florida did.

Planning For Extremes: During Hurricane Ian, Babcock Ranch, Florida, made headlines because the solar array that powers the community stayed up while thousands of neighboring communities lost power. All the decisions that went into this community’s development helped it weather the storm. These were decisions such as choosing a site located beyond the reach of storm surge, designing parks and streets to absorb floodwaters, and putting power lines underground where they are not susceptible to wind change. This disastrous event from which Babcock Ranch was hardly scathed shows that it is possible to design climate-resilient communities.

Effective, Actionable Communication: During one of the most severe California heat waves on record, statewide energy demand hit an all-time high and the state’s electricity grid manager warned of rotating power outages. The governor then sent out a cell phone alert asking residents to reduce power use for a few critical hours. Within 10 minutes of sending the alert, electricity demand dropped steeply and blackouts were averted. It is true that ultimately we need a more reliable, more flexible grid, but this example shows that with effective, actionable communication, people can and will respond to an energy emergency.

Building climate resilience will be a decades-long challenge, but examples like these show that it is within our reach and that “danger seasons” can teach us actions to take for climate resilience.

This article is a partial adaptation of Kristina Dahl’s article, “‘Danger Season’ Teaches Lessons in Climate Resilience,” published in the “Union of Concerned Scientists” winter 2023 issue of Catalyst

CHURCH OF THE HOLY FAMILY BEREAVEMENT SUPPORT GROUP

“Too often we underestimate the power of a touch, a smile, a kind word, a listening ear, an honest compliment, or the smallest act of caring, all of which have the potential to turn a life around.”

~ Leo Buscaglia

Grief is the conflicting feelings caused by a change or an end in a familiar pattern or behavior; it is the normal and natural reaction to loss. Our Bereavement Support Group meets Tuesdays at 2:00 p.m. in the Parish Library. If you, or someone you know is grieving, please join us. These meetings will be confidential and held in a safe environment.

RCIA

RCIA is short for the “Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults.” RCIA is the normative process where those who are interested in the Catholic Church have a time of discernment about a possible call to full participation in the Catholic faith.

RCIA is open to:

- Those adults who have not been baptized and are spiritually looking
- Those adults who have been baptized in a recognized non-Catholic Christian tradition
- Those adults who were baptized Catholic but have not celebrated Eucharist and Communion

Participating in RCIA does not mean that you have to become Catholic, but it does help you discern as to whether God is calling you to join the Catholic Church.

Please contact the Parish Office at 757-481-5702 if you are interested in learning more.
