On Wednesday, 9/21, the Church celebrates the Feast of St. Matthew, Apostle, Evangelist. The Gospel reading, for that day, (Mt 9: 9-13) relates the calling of Matthew.

Jesus came to call not the righteous but sinners. (Mt. 9:13) As most of you are aware, Matthew was a tax collector. Biblical history tells us that the Roman taxes were collected by those who bid for the right to collect taxes and then extorted them to the limit. The tax collectors were therefore not only considered oppressors, but also traitors of their own people because they collaborated with the foreign imperial power. Such was the position of Matthew prior to meeting Jesus.

When Jesus sat at dinner with many tax collectors and sinners, the Pharisees criticized him. Responding to this, Jesus said, "Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick." When a person recognizes that he is sick, does he not seek out a doctor? And does he not also submit himself to the doctor's orders if he is serious about recovering? Equally, the tax collectors and the sinners were drawn to Jesus who is the greatest Healer of all with a sincere desire to hear Him and obey Him in order to be spiritually healed of their worldly ailments.

From this message, it is recognized that the self-righteous who do not recognize their illness will not summon the true Jesus as their Physician, nor receive Him. For they are beyond healing. No one can approach Jesus unless he confesses that he is a sinner. In the closing of the Gospel today, Jesus said, I desire mercy, not sacrifice. Love, mercy, forgiveness, righteousness, these are spiritual qualities that many claim to possess? But do all the Christians who claim to possess them, actually possess them?

We are living in very sad days! Many of our brothers and sisters have abandoned their faith, blaming God and the entire Body of Christ for the sins of a few. Many seek revenge, refusing to forgive! If Jesus was here right now, what would He say?

In today's Gospel, Jesus conveys the same message. In this account, the Pharisees are upset with Jesus because he breaks the outward law by eating with those regarded as sinners. In responding to his accusers, Jesus quotes Hosea. He asks the Pharisees to explain the meaning of the prophet's words about God: I desire mercy, not sacrifice. Further, Jesus explains that I did not come to call the self-righteous, but sinners, those who see themselves as they are and, thus, seek God's help in becoming better human beings.

This same challenge is given to us. Hopefully, we would not be as scrupulous about the law as the Pharisees. Yet, we may still put more value on outward rituals than on the ongoing transformation of our inner attitudes. It is not outward ritual, which conveys our deepest beliefs, but how we treat others. Being a true disciple of Jesus is not seen primarily in what we do in church, but what we do outside of it.

Perhaps through this week, we can pray to God that we may hear once more what he desires of us

Reflexion del Evangelio

NO HAY CRIADO QUE PUEDA SERVIR A DOS AMOS Lc.1-13

Dice el Señor: "Ningún servidor puede servir a dos señores, porque aborrecerá a uno y amará al otro, o bien se interesará por el primero y menospreció al segundo". En resumen, no pueden ustedes servir a Dios y al dinero, y También nos dice: "Porque donde está tu tesoro, allí estará tu corazón. (Mt 6, 24) No se puede servir a Dios y a las riquezas. Ni psicológica ni religiosamente esto es posible. El corazón ha de estar totalmente en Dios. Pero además Él nos dice: "Ustedes aparentan rectitud ante los hombres, pero Dios conoce sus corazones", Toda la pedagogía del Señor es una voz de Llamando a nuestros corazones y conciencia, todo lo que nos dice en sus enseñanzas y en sus parábolas tiene por fin prepararnos para que seamos salvos. Todo lo que tenemos que hacer, es ser honesto y de corazón puro ante Dios, buscar todos los caminos de la vida sana, recta, santas, así Dios no apartará sus dulces y delicados ojos de nosotros.

El Señor les bendiga, Padre Gulianno.

NO SERVANT CAN SERVE TWO MASTERS Lk.1-13

The Lord says: "No servant can serve two masters, for he will either hate the one and love the other, or else he will be interested in the first and despise the second". In short, you cannot serve God and money, and He also tells us: "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be." (Mt 6:24) You cannot God and mammon cannot be served. Neither psychologically nor religiously this is possible. The heart must be totally in God. But He also tells us: "You appear upright before men, but God knows your hearts". All the pedagogy of the Lord is a voice calling to our hearts and conscience, everything He tells us in His teachings and in His parables has the purpose of preparing us to be saved. All we have to do is to be honest and pure of heart before God, to seek all the ways of a healthy, upright and holy life, so that God will not take his sweet and delicate eyes away from us.

May the Lord bless you,
Father Gulianno.
