Something to ponder...Receiving Communion:
An Examination of Conscience

There is more to the mystery of the blessed Eucharist than the human mind can grasp. This examination is not meant to be a burden to consciences, but an opportunity to reflect gratefully from time to time on various aspects of the gift of the Eucharist.

While processing to Communion, do I realize that I am journeying toward the "Jerusalem above" to feast with angels and saints, with deceased friends and loved ones, with the entire mystical Body of Christ?

Do I recognize those around me as the Body of Christ, and add my voice, however halting, to the processional song that expresses our "union in spirit" and "joy of heart"?

Do I bow humbly to the Eucharistic Lord, to the servant of the Lord ministering to me, to the altar on which the Lord's dying and rising is made present?

Does my veneration of the Risen Lord, really present in sacramental sign, open my eyes to the "divine presence" which "we believe is everywhere"?

As I eat the "Bread of Life," do I realize that my own body is a "temple of the Holy Spirit"?

As I drink the Precious Blood, do I realize that Christ's love poured out for me in sacrifice calls me to pour out my life for others?

Does this sacred banquet strengthen my yearning for a world in which the poor have enough to eat?

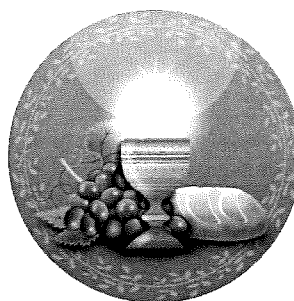

Am I grateful that the Eucharist has the "salutary virtue" to "remit the sins I commit daily"?

Do I let the Eucharistic Lord still my inner voices ready to speak in judgment of others' piety and prayer?

Am I ready to "go forth in peace, glorifying the Lord by my life"?

From the Desk of Deacon Bob

In today's readings, Isaiah is called by God to be God's prophet. In the Gospel, Jesus calls Simon Peter, James, and John to be his disciples. As we listen to both accounts, those who are called by God become fearful. It is not because Isaiah was scared of God, or that Simon Peter, James, and John were frightened by Jesus. What scared them? In God's light, they beheld their own sinfulness. They became clearly aware of their shortcomings, and their inadequacies as human beings.

This is not isolated to those "holy people" from the past. This is something that is consistent with all who have felt called to serve God. I remember weeks before my ordination to the Permanent Diaconate, the major question that I pondered very seriously was whether I was worthy enough to be ordained to serve God and the Church. Deeply aware of my own shortcomings and knowing that they were not going to be erased magically by the Archbishop's laying of hands, was I worthy to be a servant of Christ in the Church? I reflected on a portion of St. Paul's 2nd letter to the Corinthians in which he writes about a "thorn in the flesh" he wished God to take from him. The Lord replied to St. Paul, "My grace is sufficient for you, for power is made perfect in weakness." St. Paul concludes, "I will rather boast most gladly of my weaknesses, in order that the power of Christ may dwell with me. Therefore, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and constraints, for the sake of Christ; for when I am weak, then I am strong." (2 Cor: 9-10) What ended up most important to me was not whether I was worthy enough to be ordained. Rather, in spite of my weaknesses, God deemed me worthy enough to be ordained.

You and I were not perfect when God called us at our baptism. God calls us just as we are. Like Isaiah, Peter, James, John, and Paul, we seek to serve God, well aware of our own brokenness. Let not our own sinfulness get in the way of our serving God and serving those whom God has called us to serve. Rather, may we come to realize that which was spoken to St. Paul, "My grace is sufficient for you, for power is made perfect in weakness."

PARISH AND AREA NEWS

all new materials and content

Take a deep breath and step out of your comfort zone ~ be a Lenten host or facilitator! We usually have two people team up, one to host (welcome, make sure everything is in place, etc) and one to facilitate (follow the guide, keep the conversation going and on task, etc). All materials will be provided and we will have a short leader training Feb. 9th from 9-10 am or Feb. 12th from 6:30-7:30 pm. Please consider taking a step out and leading a group. You set up the time and day you meet. You can host at one of your homes or on site. We have had groups form in a few different ways (also men only, women only, mixed, young, etc...).

1. You can get your own group together and fill it with the number of people you want. Just let us know and we will be sure to get you enough materials. This is a closed group.
2. You can set up a group, invite those you want, and we can "fill in" however many open spots you have. This is a semi-open group.
3. You can tell us the date/time/place you want to meet and allow the spirit to fill your group with whoever it may be. This is an open group.

Sign-up for the 6-week series Feb. 9-10 and 16-17 online or at church. Please call Laura at (952) 758-5131 or e-mail at laura.schoenecker@npcatholic.org for more information or to volunteer.

WESTERN CATHOLIC COMMUNITY
St. John's & St. Scholastica*Follow-up on Feasibility Report:

The WCC Advisory Council met on Jan. 31, 2019, to review the results of the Feasibility Study. A variety of options were discussed and a recommendation was made based on all of the work the council has done since June 2018. The recommendation will be reviewed by Archbishop Hebda. When feedback comes back from the Archbishop, the Advisory Council will create a plan to communicate the decision with the Western Catholic Community. Thank you in advance for your patience and for your continued participation in this discernment process.

Saturday Evening Adoration

Our Saturday evening Adoration at St. John's continues. We invite you to join us Sat., Feb. 16th, for Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament at 6 pm, followed by Adoration, and culminating with Benediction at 8 pm. Confession will be available during part of this time. Mass will take place as usual at 8:15. Please come, as Pope Paul VI said in his "Credo of the People of God", "The Blessed Sacrament is the 'Living Heart' of each of our churches and it is our very sweet duty to honor and adore in the Blessed Host, which our eyes see, the Incarnate Word, whom they cannot see, and who, without leaving heaven, is made present before us."

Catholic United Financial Council Spaghetti Dinner
