Stewardship Moment

"Each day the people are to go out and gather their daily portion; thus will I test them, to see whether they follow my instructions or not." ~ Exodus 16:4

When the Israelites gathered more than their daily portion of manna, the surplus became wormy and rotten. In the same way today, self-reliance, pride and ego leads to hoarding and excessive surplus of goods and money. Living a stewardship lifestyle helps us discern our "wants" from our "needs". Living a grateful and generous lifestyle reminds us that God will provide all that we need and that we have plenty to share.

SEE GOD EVERYWHERE

I should be turning around tomorrow and heading back home from the Sierra Nevada. (I'm writing this in advance, before I left.) I should have had a great time . . . I should be satisfied with my summer escape . . . I should have been able to grow in my faith surrounded by some of the most beautiful mountain scenery in America . . .

St. John Cassian was one of the Fathers of the Church in the 5th century. Here's something he once wrote:

> We certainly do discover God by admiring His incomprehensible essence, which still lies hidden in the hope of promise. But we also see Him through the greatness of His creation, and the consideration of His justice, and the help of His daily Providence. We see Him when with pure minds we contemplate what He has done with His saints in every generation, when with trembling heart we admire His power, with which He governs, directs, and rules all things, or the vastness of His knowledge, and that eye of His from which no secrets of the heart can lie hidden.
>
> We see Him when we consider the sand of the sea, and the number of the waves measured by Him and known to Him, when in our wonder we think that the drops of rain, the days and the hours of the ages, and all things past and future are present to His knowledge; when we gaze in unbounded admiration on that ineffable mercy of His, which with unwearied patience endures countless sins that are every moment being committed under His very eyes. We see God in the numberless opportunities of salvation He grants to those whom He is going to adopt. We see Him in the way He made us be born so that from our very cradles His grace and the knowledge of His law might be given to us.
>
> Finally, we see him in the way He undertook the dispensation of His Incarnation for our salvation, and extended the marvels of His sacraments to all nations.
> But there are numberless other considerations of this sort, which arise in our minds according to the character of our life and the purity of our heart, by which God is either seen by pure eyes or embraced.

Yes – our Lord is out there to be seen by all. There's so many different ways for this that none of us has an excuse for not seeing Him. I'm quite sure that for myself, not only do I "see" Utah and the wonders of the West as something desirable in themselves, I must also be getting a glimpse of the One who is behind them – the Creator. But no matter which "seeing" path you are on, perhaps St. John Cassian's last paragraph above is the most important. Read it again. The "character of our life" will be the determining factor as to what, and to what degree, we see. That's why our faith life is so important – it is the biggest single determinant of the character of our life.

Fr. Duchschere
Pastor

Adult Volunteers needed in our Religious Education Program…

We ask you to prayerfully consider teaching or assisting in a classroom. As a member of the parish we are all called to assist parents in handing on the Catholic faith to our children. Please become involved, don't wait for someone else to do this!

You may have children in our program, you may be an adult with a desire to share your faith, your own children are grown and you now have time… whatever your state in life is, each of us is called by our baptism to share the faith with others.

We encourage you to inquire about teaching or being a classroom aide in our religious education program. Classes cannot begin until we have enough teachers and aides for each grade (each class has a teacher and an aide).

To visit about volunteering, please call Connie Dulany for Grades 1-7 or Sue Ripplinger for Grades 8-12

Do it for God. Do it for our children. Do it for yourself.

Catholic Health Care Directives

A resource from the North Dakota Catholic Conference — Who will speak for me when I cannot speak for myself? How can I make sure the right decisions are made about my health care?

People often avoid questions like these until faced with having to make a decision. Many of us think that only the sick or dying need to think about such matters. In truth, however, these are questions we all must ask and be able to answer -- whether we are young or old, sick or healthy. There could come a time in any person's life when he or she may not be able to communicate his or her wishes. A Catholic Health Care Directive can help you prepare for that time, should it arise. The directive conforms to North Dakota law and reflects Catholic teaching. It gives your loved ones and health care providers direction as to how you would make health care decisions. A new website exists where you can download or order copies of the directive and other useful material. Check it out at http://ndcatholic.org/CHD. If you do not have internet access, call the North Dakota Catholic Conference at 1-888-419-1237.

Can You Help Walk with Moms in Need?

Pregnant and parenting moms in need are in our parishes and our neighborhoods. As Pope Francis reminds us, our parishes need to be "islands of mercy in the midst of the sea of indifference." Everyone in the parish community should know where to refer a pregnant woman in need. Inspired by St. John Paul II's papal encyclical Evangelium Vitae (The Gospel of Life) to assess our efforts in building a culture of life, the intention of Walking with Moms in Need is to increase our outreach to pregnant and parenting women facing difficulties.

To learn more about how to participate in this joint effort, please contact Tim Mosser, Respect Life Director at the Diocese of Fargo, at (701)356-7900 or tim.mosser@fargodiocese.org.

Or to learn more about services to pregnant women in need, contact Kris Haycraft, Director of Pregnancy, Parenting, and Adoption Services at Catholic Charities North Dakota at (701)235-4457 or ppas@catholiccharitiesnd.org. Thank you for helping support moms and their children!
